Miss Ruth Schmidt gave the garden report on Mulching Tea Roses for the winter. The January meeting has been changed to Monday on Jan. 8, to be held at the White Villa Club with Mrs. Wolf as hostess and Mrs. Wilson as co-hostess. Roll call will be "How to be a better citizen".

Guests for the day were Mesdames E. W. Nicholson and William Luckhardt; members present were Mesdames William Damon, C. J. Castleberry, F. B. Hermes, Everett Wilson, Harold Halfhill, Hugh Croigmyle, William Bagby, George Campbell, Morgan Metzger, Anthony Wolf, James Osborne, J. E. Mueller, and Miss Ruth Schmidt.

FOOD HAS RISEN LESS

Food costs have risen less since 1947-49 than most other consumer items in the cost-of-living index, said Joe Claxon, County Agricultural Extension Agent, Boone County. For all food, the increase was 21.2 percent. For rent, it was 45.7 percent, and for medical care, 59.9 percent.

The farmer gets none of this increase in cost for the food he produces. In fact, he received 12 percent less for the farm food "market basket" than he did in 1949-49. This accounts for the fact that the cost of farm-grown food has risen only 12 percent, although processing and marketing costs have risen 36 percent.

CARD OF-THANKS

Our sincere thanks to those who showed many acts of kindness during the illness and death of our husband and father, William V. Meier.

To donors of flowers, food, Dr. Boyd for his many visits, Pastor Butts and Rev. Tipton for their words of comfort, Faye Connor for beautiful music and Chambers and Grubbs for their efficient service we say a special thanks.

VISALIA P.T.A.

The regular monthly meeting of the Visalia P.T.A. was held recently where Mrs. Bernard Budke, president showed us the P.T.A. attendance banner donated to us by Mrs. Paul Hensley. It is made up in the P.T.A. colors with a gold background and printed in blue. Because of the crowd no room count was taken but each room was awarded two dollars for Christmas.

The Fifth and Sixth Grades gave the devotionals with Christmas hymns.

A Christmas play was presented in three parts. Our cowboys and girls from the First and Second Grades were in Act I entitled "Santa". Our Eskimos of the Third Grade gave out with Act II "Where Christmas Trees Grow" and the Fourth Grade finished the program in "Santa's Throne Room".

PLEASANT GROVE WSCS

The Pleasant Grove Woman's Society of Christian Service held their Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Ralph Lewellen. The living room was beautifully decorated.

The meeting was opened with prayer. The business meeting was conducted by the President, Mrs. Lewellen. Mrs. Ralph Porter read the Christmas Story. Following a dinner there was an exchange of gifts and games were played. Enjoying the festive affair were Mrs. C. Masters, Mrs. C. W. Pruett, Mrs. Homer Sutter, Mrs. J. K. True, Mrs. M. W. Jackson, Mrs. Adolph Wieland, Mrs. Fred Schilffarth, Mrs. T. S. Moffett and Mrs. Walter Beck.

The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. T. S. Moffett.

Boone Resident Fined

Mrs. Wanda Walston, Petersburg, was fined $25.00 and costs in Boone County Court by Trial Commissioner, Chas. E. Niblack, on Wednesday, December 20, when found guilty of a charge of dumping garbage on public property. The charges were made by the Boone County Health Department, in an effort to stop the unauthorized dumping of garbage and trash in the county.

YOU DON'T NEED rose-colored glasses to see another bright year ahead for the young, fast-growing South. Just look at the record of the past and the prophecies for the future!

Recent U.S. Department of Commerce figures show that in the past five years (1956-1960), construction contracts have been awarded in the Southeast totaling more than $26 billion. The rate of increase in the value of the construction awards was 34.7% in the Southeast, compared with 14.9% for the Nation as a whole. In 1960 alone, industrial growth along Southern's lines was greater than any year since 1956 and available information indicates an equally impressive showing in 1961.

All signs point to continued development and growth in 1962 and the years ahead. On our part, we of Southern Railway pledge to do everything possible to make these bright prophecies for the modern South become a still brighter reality. All in the South will benefit!

Laws For Living

Lesson for January 7, 1962

THREE questions are asked sooner or later by every thoughtful person. What can I know? What can I believe? and What shall I do? During the next three months these Bible studies, in which more than 80 denominations join, will be working on that third question. All Christians are agreed that the standard for our life and Dr. Foreman action in this world is to be found in the Bible. But here the difficulties and hard questions begin. What part of the Bible, Old or New Testaments? The teachings of Moses or the teachings of Jesus? the Law or the Gospel? the Ten Commandments or the Spirit of Jesus? Can a Christian be described as one who has outgrown the Ten Commandments?

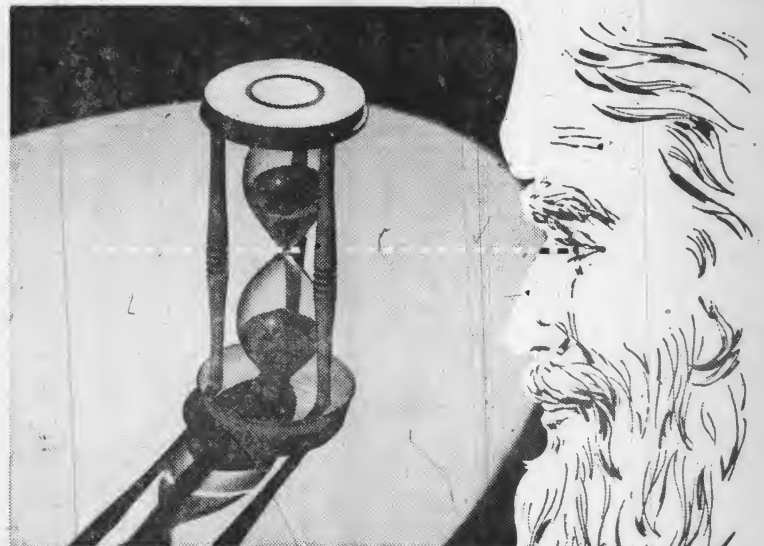

No conflict
All this either-or business points in the wrong direction. If the first Christians had thought that the gospel did away with the Ten Commandments, they would not have kept the Old Testament. If the people who wrote the stories of Jesus and his teachings had supposed they were in conflict with the word and will and law of God as they found it in the Old Testament, they would not have undertaken to write the New. It is not a case of "either the Ten Commandments or the Spirit of Jesus." It is not a question of Moses versus Christ. Saint Paul calls the Law "holy and just and good" (Romans 7:12.). Jesus said that not the least part of the Law should pass away "till all be accomplished" or "till its purpose is complete" as J. B. Phillips translates it.

What we have is rather the Law in the Gospel (i.e. in the whole New Testament teaching), the Law as interpreted by the gospel, the Law seen in the light of the gospel, the Ten Commandments understood as Jesus understood them.

Never obsolete
Confusion about the Ten Commandments would clear away considerably if people realized that they are not like the laws and statutes of our nation or states and cities today. Our laws become obsolete because they are confined to one particular situation, and when the situation no longer exists, the law just fades away. For instance, it used to be required by law in various communities that drinking-troughs be provided for horses. When horses were replaced by horsepower, the horse-troughs vanished. A certain school in New York State, about the year 1845, had among its regulations one that forbade all students to enter "taverns, groceries or other places of entertainment." It is safe to say that that school long since dropped that rule. Grocery stores in the village have changed quite a lot in the past 100 years or more. Now the Ten Commandments never were intended to be like rules and regulations. In the Old Testament, they are given three different times, and each time differently. (Ex. 20, Ex. 34, and Deut. 5.) The careful reader will see that already the Commandments were being revised, as we would say, to fit new situations. They represent principles rather than rules, and so are immortal.

A fresh beginning
In the great summary of Jesus' teaching which we have in the Sermon on the Mount, while Jesus had a good deal to say about interpreting the law of God, he did not begin with this. He did not begin with laws of any kind. He began (as everybody knows) with "Beatitudes." That is, he starts off by describing those to whom God's kingdom belongs, those who will see God, those who are rightly called the sons of God. If you have the wrong kind of people, no amount of laws will improve matters much. You do not get a better world by saying the Ten Commandments louder and faster. You get a better world not by improvements in laws, but by improvements in people. "Improvements" is too weak a word. Radical change is more what Jesus is calling for.

Only those who are so close to the mind and will of God that they can be called "sons of God," only those who are growing in Godlikeness, are the kind of persons who have discovered what it is to live.

He could see time passing...

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Matthew	25	1-13
Monday	Proverbs	6	6-15
Tuesday	Psalms	103	11-18
Wednesday	Luke	12	16-21
Thursday	James	4	13-17
Friday	Haggai	1	1-8
Saturday	Hebrews	6	1-12

The folks who lived in the day of the hourglass had a psychological advantage. They could see time passing.

And as each fine grain slipped through the neck of the glass, a man's conscience would whisper within him: less time left!

When we look at a clock its hands seem motionless. Is that why millions put off the important decisions that ought to be made right now?

Whatever its cause, procrastination is a disease. It lulls the senses into indolence. It wastes our energy on trivial pursuits, while important tasks remain undone. Especially it attacks the soul, tempting man to believe that there will be plenty of time later to tend to his spiritual needs.

But the cure is simple . . . and immediate. Just set the alarm clock and begin the New Year with worship in your Church. You'll soon be facing every important task with eagerness and courage and faith!

1961 Farm Income 1 Billion Above 1960

U.S. net farm income for 1961 is expected to top that of 1960 by about a billion dollars, the U.S. Agriculture Department said today in its annual outlook pamphlet.

The multithemed outlook pamphlet, entitled "Kentucky Agricultural Outlook for 1962" listed as Miscellaneous 138-C, will be available shortly through county agents' offices.

The expected increase will come principally from increased government payments under the 1961 Feed Grain program and advance payments in the 1962 wheat and barley programs.

This expected dollar increase will more than offset an anticipated jump in production costs, the letter says. Cash receipts from crops in 1962 probably will be higher but livestock receipts probably will be lower.

"Farm legislation will result in increased total farm income in 1962 since government payments probably will be higher," the report says. "Net farm income likely will stay the same as 1961 because of production expense increases."

The report noted personal income has "risen sharply" since last February, and is now about 4 percent above 1960 figures. But personal consumption expenditure have not risen as much as personal income increases.

General business conditions have improved substantially since early 1961, the report says, even though unemployment is about 7 percent of the labor force. Liquidation of inventories has stopped, consumer spending has increased, and government purchases and construction activity has risen.

The outlook by farm product category:

FEED GRAINS: Total supply in 1962 expected to be about 252 million tons, 3 percent smaller than the record 1960-61 level.

CORN: Total supply for 1962 (harvested for grain only) is estimated at 5 billion, 546 million bushels, 2 percent under the 1960-61 supply level. Production of corn in 1961 is now estimated at 3 billion, 527 million bushels. Carryover stocks are expected to increase in 1962, but use of corn in 1962 probably will be up and such carryover stocks probably will be reduced in 1962.

GRAIN SORGHUM: The 1961 crop (due to heavy participation in the 1961 feed grain program) is estimated at 478 million bushels, 21 percent under 1960. A large carryover somewhat offsets the decline in production.

OATS AND BARLEY: The 1961 oat crop is estimated at 14 percent less than 1960's crop, and the carryover (as of July 1, 1961) is down 7 percent. Barley supplies for 1961-1962 are estimated at 552 million bushels, 9 percent under the previous year.

Major feed grain prices probably will average higher in 1962 due to higher support prices and smaller supplies of feed grain. High-protein feed supplies probably will be larger in 1962. Soybean meal production is up, but prices for it likely will be at the same levels as the past two or three years.

TOBACCO: Burley tobacco for export is expected to total about 37 million pounds. Domestic use (October 1960-September 1961) was up 2.6 percent over the previous year. The 1961 crop is expected to be 9 percent above 1960's. Total supply (stocks plus the 1961 crop) for 1961-1962 is expected to be 1 billion, 66 million pounds, 1.5 percent lower than last year.

The price for the 1961 crop probably will be $1 to $2 a hundred pounds above the 1960 crop.

Since the supply of burley is lower than for a long time, and the demand for it is strong, there is a reasonable expectation that next year's allotments will be increased 3 to 4 percent above 1961's.

Exports of dark fire-cured were up 3 million pounds from 1960. Domestic use (snuff) dropped 2.5 percent.

The 1961 crop is up an estimated 19 percent.

Dark air-cured tobacco use was about the same as last year; domestic use was up slightly but exports declined slightly.

BEEF CATTLE: Number of cattle and calves on farms as of January 1, 1962 probably will reach a new high of about 98 million head. This is part of the four-year cycle of increase, and probably has not reached the leveling-off point yet.

Beef production probably will expand slowly in 1962 and no marked changes are expected in marketings in that period. Relatively stable cattle prices are expected; fed-cattle prices are likely to hold fairly close to present levels for several months and be somewhat below last year's prices for the same period. Feeder cattle (most classes) are expected to get price strength from a stable level of fed-cattle prices.

HOGS: Prices will likely increase during the winter of 1962 but probably will be below year-earlier levels. Hog slaughter the first half of 1962 is expected to be about 6 percent larger than for the same period of 1961. Prices for 1962 probably will be lower than in 1961 but still relatively favorable. The first seven to eight months of 1962 will probably have fairly favorable prices; price and profit prospects for late 1962 will depend on production decisions this winter and spring.

SHEEP AND LAMBS: A decline in sheep and lamb numbers is anticipated for 1962, and prices may be moderately higher during the first half of 1962. Shorn wool production will probably be down. The spring lamb price situation is expected to be "stronger" than a year ago.

DAIRY: Cow numbers will continue to decline slightly, and number of herds also will decline, though individual herds will get larger. Production per cow will increase, and gross income to dairy farmers may increase slightly. The milk-feed ratio will probably be favorable to dairy-men. Per capita consumption of milk products will probably decline. Good management, good cows and understanding of market procedures will be still more important.

EGGS: Prices of 30 to 32 cents a dozen are expected for most of 1962.

BROILERS: Prospects for significant price increases in the coming months are slight, due to a weakening seasonal demand for broilers and larger supplies of beef and pork. Prices will probably average about the same for 1962 if marketings do not increase more than 3 to 4 percent above 1961 levels.

TURKEYS: Prospect for any improvement in price in 1962 is not likely since current slaughter is already supplying a surplus that is going into storage. Supply of turkeys (those raised) in 1961 was up considerably over 1960's figure.

Safety instructions for boating and swimming should be posted around farm ponds.

A western manufacturer has found a new use for New Holland baler twine. He cuts it to short lengths, saturates the twine with a special formula and sells it as "wicks" for starting outdoor barbecue fires.

Agricultural pests cost the United States $9 billion a year!

In the past 18 years, farmers have improved their efficiency more than in the preceding 120 years.

More than 85% of the food produced today undergoes some processing prior to its consumption.

A tenth of all milk sold in the U.S. is sold in the form of cheese.

Baby pig anemia can often be controlled by feeding additives, or by injections given by a veterinarian.

Purdue University agronomists say a light top dressing of manure on thin, light-colored soil protects legumes being seeded in wheat. It should be applied in February when the ground is frozen, they say.

Importance Of Leaders In 4-H Club Work

Can you image one teacher in a school teaching four hundred boys and girls more than fifty different subjects? That's how confused our 4-H Club program would be if Extension agents had to do all of our 4-H Club work. But instead of confusion, we have a smooth operating 4-H program throughout the state, thanks to the thousands of 4-H leaders who give of their time and talent to teach the boys and girls.

The Extension Agents and 4-H Council, along with the 4-H leaders, have time to develop the 4-H organization and to provide the leaders with project material with which to do the teaching.

The 4-H leaders do most of the work and should receive credit for the success of 4-H work. As our 4-H work grows the need for leaders increases. So if you can give some time and if you are interested in our boys and girls, we have a job for you as a 4-H leader.

Walton Eastern Star Issue Resolution of Respect to DeMoisey

In memory of our beloved brother, Rev. R. F. DeMoisey, who was November 25, 1961, called from his earthly abode to his celestial home on high, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. His faithful wife Mrs. Johnnie DeMoisey has lost a kind, loving and most devoted husband. His daughter Sister Lucy Allphin and sons Brother Truett, John R., Frank, Gene and Robert DeMoisey, a cherished father whose love, kindness, understanding and guidance they shall always remember. His grandchildren have also suffered a great loss. We shall miss him greatly, as he was truly a friend to mankind, like his master he went about doing good. He also suffered persecution in this land of sorrow, but being a true soldier of the cross he kept his eyes cast upward and never held any malice in his heart, but always returned good for evil. He was ever ready to lend a helping hand to those in sickness or distress. He chose to magnify the good in his fellow man and overlook the shortcomings. He was truly a servant of God in his community. He performed more wedding ceremonies and conducted more funerals than any minister in Northern Kentucky. To know our brother was to love him. Although he has gone to his reward his many good deeds will never be forgotten and his kind words of encouragement will never die.

You cannot say, you must not say
That he is dead! He is just away!
With a cherry smile and a wave of the hand
He has wandered into an unknown land
And left us dreaming, how very fair.

It needs must be, since he lingers
there
So think of his faring on, as dear
In the love of those as the love of here
Think of him still as the same and say
He is not dead, He is just away

Be it therefore resolved that we extend to his family our most sincere and heartfelt sympathy. Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of our chapter, a copy sent to his family, and a copy be given to the Walton Advertiser for publication.

Respectfully this 18th day of December, 1961,

Margaret Fields

KENTUCKIANS

WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsbury

A Roundup:

Before the Congress gets into session we make a roundup of some odds and ends concerning the capital scene.

Uncle Sam is going to take a census of the trees in Kentucky. It sounds silly until you look further. It's being done to see if timber is available in sufficient quantity for use in manufacturing. It's like taking an inventory of the stock left over at the end of the year.

Money From Uncle:

A lobbying organization released a report the other day showing how much each state pays to Uncle Sam and how much Uncle Sam returns.

The figures show that Kentucky gets $1 for each 58 cents paid. Alaska, according to this listing, pays in only 16 cents for each dollar.

A word of warning: Beware of such figures until you find out how they are compiled and from what sources.

He's Been Promoted:

A former engineer who worked in Paducah when the atomic plant was under construction is now a senior engineer with the Public Health Service.

He is Frank Bell, and he's working on smog control, trying to clean up the cities and highways. When he was stationed in Paducah he was working on the water and sewage facilities. The influx of workers on the atomic plant caused the problem.

Coming Events:

Congressional attempts will be made to speed up construction of those inter-state highways, Kentucky included. A report recently released shows Kentucky is second place in its industrial development program. A congressional fight will brew over charging tolls on the waterways of the nation, the Ohio River included. A new battle is underway to increase the size of the House of Representatives. Kentuckians are taking the lead. Little hope held for success.

If children will be present at your Christmas dinner, you might have individual "Christmas trees" with place cards at each plate. The "trees" can be made by inverting ice cream cones, and decorating them with green frosting and bits of gum drops.

One God

Lesson for January 14, 1962

IT is easier to believe in many gods than in one. If you don't think that is true, take a look through the religions of primitive peoples. No human beings anywhere, no matter how primitive, are without some kind of religion; but the human race did not arrive early at the truth that there is only one true God. But they did arrive. In Islam, in Judaism, and in Christianity, men have stood for their faith that God is One, and beside him there is no other. Nothing the Christian church believes about the Trinity abolishes this basic truth, that there is one God only. Father, Son and Spirit are not three Gods. The Holy Trinity is not a celestial committee. Christians believe that there are different ways by which we meet God, different ways of His revealing himself; but the High God, the Creator of all, and Christ our Savior, the "Word made flesh," and the Spirit of God in our hearts, are all the same God.

One God of time and space

Theologians seeking ways of expressing the majesty of God sometimes use the expression, the God of time and space. That expresses a tremendously important truth about God, a two-sided truth. One is that no matter how far backward or forward you may go in time, God is always God. He does not become God, or cease to be God, or become (so to speak) a part-time or retired God. Sometimes human beings' thoughts of God are dim; but He is ever the eternal flame. The other side of the truth is that wherever you go in space, you are always in the domain of the one, the only God, who is always the same. This not only means that God is sovereign over this earth and whatever creatures live here; to the remotest star He is still the same, the only God. The idea that we could take a spaceship and sail beyond the reach of God is just as absurd as it always was.

One God of the world and you Think about the world around you—steel and asphalt, grass and trees, stars, germs and atoms. Does it seem hard to believe that the God who made these things made you? That the God who is concerned for the mighty suns and vast whirlpools of stars millions of light-years away—that He can be interested also in you? Even some Christians have felt as if there must be a difference between the God of nature, and the God of grace, the God of nature and the God Jesus revealed to us. But there is no difference. Neither the God of grace nor the God of nature is greater than the other; for they are one and the same God. The same divine Mind that devised this universe also devised you. It serves his purposes,—the stormy wind fulfills God's will, as the Hebrew psalmist wrote, "God made the earth and seas for a reason. He made the stars for a reason. He made you for a reason. What all His reasons are is His own secret. That a comet's return may be predicted, is a pointer to God. That in the midst of grief there comes a healing peace, is a pointer to God. That a man feels in his heart of hearts, I ought, is a pointer to God. Not to three Gods but to the same, the only God. From birth to death

As we live and grow, our ideas about God may greatly change. Perhaps at first we think of Him as a kind of family God, we think of Him as the God of our church. He may be in early days a God we think about only when we say "Now I lay me..." at bed-time; then later—for some great souls this is true—God looms so large that He is our constant companion, and the thought of Him is back of every thought. But He does not grow, it is we who grow. The road of mankind is strewn with the bodies of dead gods, someone has said. Not at all; the true God never perishes. The dead bodies are ideas, notions, images in the mind; they are not gods. Now each man's personal road of life ought to pass on beyond the graves of the idols He has made in His mind. The God who would not let us get hurt, the God who let us do as we please, the God bent on revenge, the God of our nation against the world—these Gods do not exist except in people's minds. The one true God is the one revealed by his Son, who from the Beginning was with God, and was God.

of weather...*

How many times have we walked to church in the snow together... and in the rain... and in all kinds of weather?

I don't think we've ever stayed home on a Sunday because we were afraid we might get our feet wet. To me, this would be like answering a dinner invitation by saying you couldn't make it unless the sun were shining.

The Church, after all is God's House, and in it I've always felt that I was both a member of the household, and an invited guest.

In this House, you and I have found not only a deeper understanding of each other, but the ability to be tolerant of faults, to forgive and forget smaller angers, and — most important of all — to resolve to try again tomorrow. And this is but a small part of all the Church has given us, and of all that it stands ready to give everyone, everywhere.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

JUST a touch of paste wax on the zipper of a snow suit will make it zip more easily and at the same time retard corrosion from wet snow.

To keep cheese fresh, wrap in a cloth which has been dipped in vinegar and water.

Warm water applied to clothes which need to be ironed will make

Shrimp Newburg (Serves 4)

1/4 cup slivered almonds
1 cup cooked cleaned shrimp
2 tablespoons butter
2 1/2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 egg yolk
Toast or patty shells

Roast almonds in shallow pan in slow (300°F.) oven for 15 minutes. Melt butter, blend in flour, add milk, cook and stir until thickened. Blend in salt, Worcestershire sauce, lemon juice and shrimp. Stir in beaten egg yolk slowly. Add almonds and serve at once over toast or in patty shells.

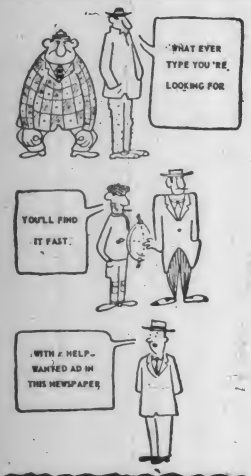

them ready to iron in half an hour especially if they're placed in a plastic bag.

Keep the knife sharpener handy in the kitchen where it doesn't have to be placed in a drawer or cupboard. You'll use it more often and have knives sharp all the time.

If you have a pan in which you've cooked fish, fill with water and two tablespoons vinegar. Let heat for 5 minutes and all the odor will be gone.

Pans in which you've cooked cheese, eggs, milk mixtures should be soaked in cold water; pans with sticky foods such as frosting need hot water soaking.

HALF-PAST TEEN

Y'KNOW...MONEY IS NO OBJECT WITH ME. I HAVEN'T GOT ANY.

Social Security...

Did you know that you do not have to retire completely to get some social security benefits? As a matter of fact, there are a good many men and women who don't want to retire at 62 but prefer to go on working. Some may continue to work full time while others may cut down on the amount of work they do.

The social security law takes this into consideration and applies an annual test called the "retirement Provision" or "work clause" in determining if any benefits are payable.

There are 3 parts to this test:
1. If your earnings in a calendar year are $1200 or less, you are entitled to all your social security checks.

2. If your earnings are over $1200, you are entitled to a check for each month in which you did not earn over $100 as an employee or render substantial services as a self-employed person.

3. If your earnings are over $1200, you would lose $1 in benefits for every $2 you made between $1200 and $1700, and $1 for each dollar you made over $1700.

Let's explain this third point with an example. John Jones is entitled to $40 a month or $480 a year. He continues to work for $150 a month ($1800 a year). He would lose $250 for half the amount of his earnings between $1200 and $1700, and $100 for the full amount of his earnings between $1700 and $1800, for a total of $350. He could still receive $130 in social security benefits (the difference between yearly social security benefits of $480 and $350 he loses because of $1800 earnings).

However, if John made $2100 a year, he would not be entitled to any payments as his loss in benefits would amount to $650 ($250 for one-half the amount from $1200 to $1700, and $400 for the full amount from $1700 to $2100), which would exceed his benefits. If there were any months in which he did not make over $100 on wages, he could be paid for those months. If self-employed he could be paid for any months in which he did not run his business.

For more information write or visit your local social security office at 309 Garrard Street, Covington, Ky.

WHITES TOWER

Mrs. Ralph Howard—356-5858

I am very glad to inform our readers of an error in last week's news of Melvin Vinsan leaving for service as he received a call to inform him that he did not have to go. We have a very happy couple here at the Tower as a result, and we his neighbors are glad for them.

Mrs. Charles Dorsey of Taylor Mill entered Booth Hospital Sunday. We hope it is nothing too serious, and that she will soon be home again.

Lonis Howard of Visalia, is a patient at the hospital and we hope for him an early recovery.

Jerry Binder of Sidney Drive had the misfortune of having someone run into the side of his car and cause considerable damage.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Howard and Mr. and Mrs. William Binder and sons spent Friday visiting Mrs. Howard's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Tonniss, of Evanston, Ohio.

Mr. All Perry of Latonia who just returned from the hospital, visited with Mr. and Mrs. R. Howard on Thursday.

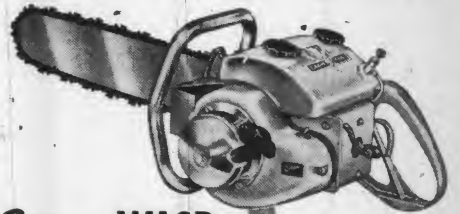

CARD OF THANKS

My sincere thanks to all those for their kindness to me during my recent illness while in St. Elizabeth Hospital.

To those who sent flowers and all the wonderful cards, Rev. Barton Johnson, Rev. Tipton, Rev. Joe Tackett and Mr. Ferguson for their many visits. Every little word and note was deeply appreciated.

Ora Stone.

It's everybody's job!

BRINGING NEW INDUSTRIES to a community and keeping them happy after they get there is everybody's job. No one man or organization can do it alone.

Community leaders help by initiating and carrying out long-range civic policies and programs attractive to industry. Owners and managers of existing plants help by welcoming industrial newcomers and making them feel at home. Men and women workers help by showing their willingness to do a full day's work for a fair day's pay.

Yes, and Southern Railway helps, too! Southern's Industrial Development Department constantly seeks new industries for available plant sites. Throughout the year, our national advertising urges industrialists to "Look South" for new and greater opportunities. And we do our best to provide an ever-better, low-cost mass transportation service, so vital to the modern industrial South.

All of this effort helps all of us. For a community's economic growth does more than provide new and bigger job opportunities. It quickly spreads out in all directions to benefit men and women in almost every type of service, trade and profession.

Mrs. J. A. Keeney—359-6066

Several folks here have had notes from Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Parish, who are spending the winter months at Okechobee, Florida. Seems they are missing their old friends, but enjoying the spring-like weather.

By recent report we learn that Lawrence Stein of Taylor Mill Road is quite ill at Booth Hospital following a heart attack suffered in Covington.

We were so glad to have several visitors at the church on last Sunday. All are welcome. Come again.

Mrs. John H. Klette Jr. spent a few hours with her parents on Tuesday.

Word was received here of the death of Mrs. Frances Pruett Keeney Bernhart, a sister of Charles Pruett and mother of Marvin Keeney.

Misses Alma and Mary Stephens called on Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeney on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. William Barnes has returned home after spending several days in Booth Hospital. We hope she will be better quite soon.

A count is kept on the number attending the Methodist Churches in this District from New Year to Easter so let's go as often as we can and build a good record. It may be too, that we can thus acquire the habit of regular worship.

Legion Auxiliary Is Conducting Drive For New Membership

Johnson-McElroy Unit 277, American Legion Auxiliary is conducting a membership drive and has invited anyone interested or eligible to attend the next meeting to be held on February 1 at 7:30 p. m. at City Hall. Is it not a good feeling to be able to help others? That is the purpose of our organization; to give assistance whenever and wherever needed. Among other things, we have a very extensive Christmas program. This year, for example, we gave 22 baskets of fruit, not to needy, but to shut-ins to let them know they're thought of; groceries to 3 families and toys to 5 children besides sending toys to Outwood Veteran's Hospital. It is a grand feeling to know you are able to do some little something for someone else, not only at Christmas, but all year long. Individually, no one of us could do these things, but as an organization we can accomplish quite a bit. If you are eligible, why don't you get in on the giving and doing end of these things and see how much personal satisfaction you derive from it? Here are those who are eligible:

Membership in the American Legion Auxiliary is limited to the wives, mothers, daughters and sisters of members of the American Legion and to wives, mothers, daughters and sisters of all men and women who were in the Armed Forces of the United States between the following dates: April 6, 1917 and November 11, 1918; December 7, 1941 and September 2, 1945 or June 25, 1950 and July 27, 1953; all dates inclusive or who being citizens of the United States at the time of entry therein, served on active duty in the Armed Forces of any of the governments associated with the United States during any of said hostilities, and died in line of duty or after honorable discharge; or to those women who, in their own right are eligible to membership in the American Legion.

Ours is the Largest single civilian women's organization in the world and we are proud to be a part of it. You would be, too, if you would join and get acquainted with our aims and purposes.

Of every dollar spent for food at the retail stores, only 38 cents finds its way back to the farmer who raised the food.

Mrs. Floyd Newton

Mrs. Newton, who has been married for 41 years, lives with her husband on a 265 acre farm near Irvine. Although her 6 children are married and have children of their own, Mrs. Newton is still an active homemaker and community worker.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard and their two daughters live near Clinton and do general farming. The entire family is active in community affairs; Mrs. Hilliard has served as president of both her local and county Homemakers Club organizations and as state vice-president of the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers.

Benefits of County System Discussed

Approximately 90 people braved the below zero weather to attend the Civic Club meeting on "Water for Boone County" which was held Tuesday evening, Jan. 9th, in the Lion's Community Center in Hebron. A panel of men were invited to answer the many questions on the subject that came from the audience. Those on the panel were Dave Gaines and Floyd Kells of the County Water Commission, Joe Hogan and Leo Lawson of the Fiscal Court, Alfred LeFebvre and Ngel Walton, engineers, Sam Harrison, Regional Head of the Farm and Home Administration, and Bruce Ferguson, Chairman of the Civic Club Committee on Water.

Much was learned about the benefits to be gained from a county-wide water system and the obstacles that must be overcome. Mr. Gaines assured those present that his committee would do everything possible to make this dream a reality within 18 months. Mr. Harrison explained the Federal Government's program for financing such a program and Mr. Lawson pledged his full cooperation as a member of the Court.

In view of the fact that the preliminary studies will be completed by July 1st, President Harold Weaver announced that the subject of the Civic Club meeting in July will again be "Water for Boone County." He was assured by those on the panel that they would return at that time and give the details of their decisions and plans. It is hoped that this project will advance rapidly from that point.

Chairman of various Civic Club committees made reports. William Oliver reported on the work of the Zoning Commission. John Stenler outlined the plans of the Hospital Association and Bert Stevens explained the expanded plans for our school system.

A report was made by John Jacobson concerning the results of Lt. Gov. Wilson Wyatt's recent trip to Washington D. C. in connection with the site for the proposed IRS building. Upon learning that two locations in Boone County are being given consideration, it was moved and passed unanimously that a letter be addressed to Judge C. L. Cropper suggesting that a committee be appointed and an appointment be made to visit Lt. Gov. Wyatt at Frankfort in the near future. It was recommended that every effort be made to secure this valuable project for the county, and the members of the Civic Club indicated their willingness to assist in any way that is suggested.

In the near future the Civic Club will announce a program that they hope will help to publicize the merits of Boone County throughout the Country.

A WIZARD OF A COOK

It's almost like magic the way an automatic ELEC-TRIC Range will cook for you!

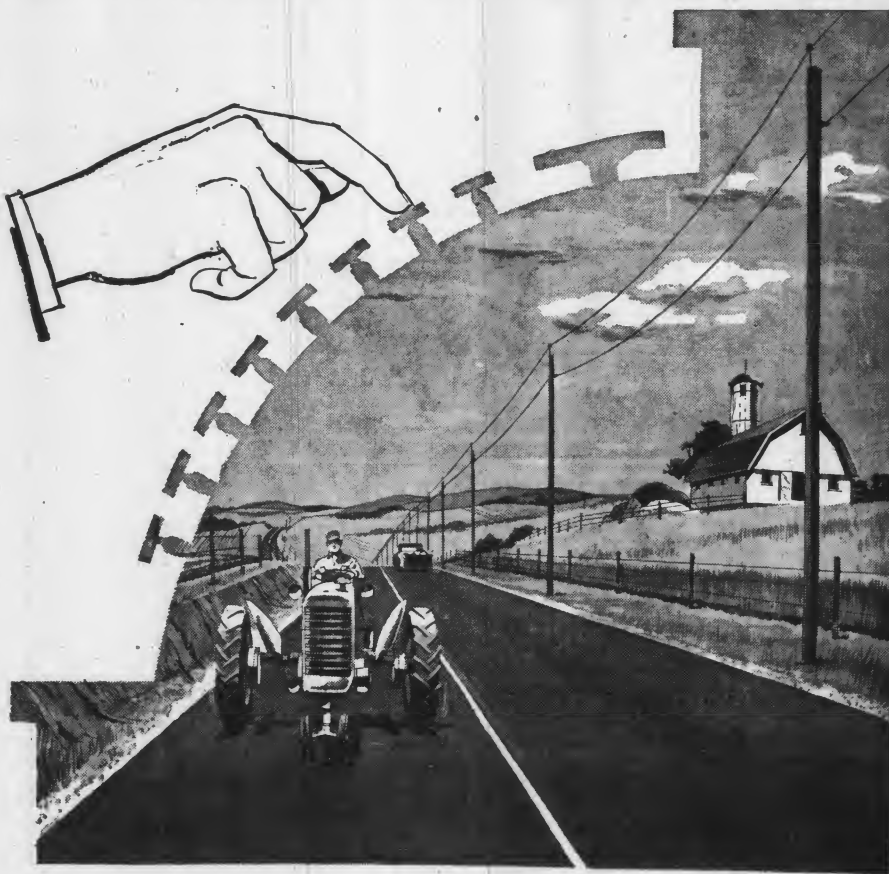

Just set the controls . . . let the range do the rest. You're free for other household tasks . . . last minute shopping or participation in social activities.

You return to find dinner cooked to perfection . . . without the usual pot 'n pan watching or occasional peek in the oven to test "doneness."

What a boon for working wives, modern community minded women on the go . . . and especially those who want to become better cooks!

See the new automatic ELECTRIC Ranges now . . . at your appliance dealers.

The Union Light, Heat and Power Company

Your cash register runs on Rural Electricity!

How many sales did you make to farmers yesterday . . . last week . . . last month? If you sell goods or services of any type chances are a good portion of your customers are farmers.

And they are good customers . . . thanks to Rural Electricity and Kentucky's Rural Electric Co-ops. The electrification of the Kentucky farm has done more than any other one thing to give the farmer extra money. Low cost rural electricity freed the farmer from drudgery, enabled him to produce more crops with less work at a greater profit.

But suppose you don't sell goods or services? You still benefit. Spendable farm dollars in your community enrich everyone, including you.

Kentucky's farmers originally built their rural cooperatives for one purpose only . . . to get the electric power they could not buy elsewhere! Out of their cooperation has grown a force powerful enough to keep Kentucky's prosperity growing.

God Is Spirit

Lesson for January 21, 1962

THE Greek language, in which the New Testament was at first written, has no way of expressing our English "indefinite article" a or an. Consequently the

Dr. Foreman "Spirit"? This is one of those places where Bible translation can't depend on the words only, for here two different translations would be equally correct, so far as the words go. One reason why practically all contemporary translations say "Spirit" in John 4:24 is that saying "God is a Spirit" might give the idea that God is just one among many spirits. God is Spirit fits better with all that the Bible tells us about God.

What is God like?

The central meaning of "God is Spirit" is that God's nature is spirit. Water is liquid, earth, water, fire and air are physical; God is spirit. It is very hard to think clearly what this means, because we have never seen spirit by itself. We experience what it is to be spirit, ourselves; for man is partly body, partly spirit. Yet in ourselves spirit never is felt alone. It is extremely hard to be certain at any point in our experience what elements are "spirit" and what elements are physical, material. We know what spirit and matter are in close combination; we can observe matter without spirit every time we look at a rock or a raindrop. But spirit, pure and unmingled. Let us try to speak of a few of the meanings that Christian thinkers have seen in this tremendous saying, so simple and yet so profound.

No likeness of anything

Moses did not try to tell the Israelites that God is spirit. What he did say was something simpler. The people of God were forbidden to make any image or likeness of anything at all, in water, earth or air. The Israelites alone, among the people of the ancient East, had no statues nor pictures of their God. God is not like any physical thing. Nothing that can be seen with the natural eye looks like God. Now this is very important. If God had some kind of body, if God were as dependent on his body as we on ours, then like all bodies, his would have to be at some definite location in space. You could point straight at God (let us say) at noon by the clock, but because of the way the earth spins, at midnight you would have to point in the opposite direction. Nothing that has a body can be in more places than one at one time. Everything that has a body, or is a body, has to move or be carried, from one place to another place. But God is everywhere all the time. All places are "here" to him. This could not be true unless God is spirit.

Judgment and consolation

This Christian belief (which we owe directly to our Master) that God is spirit, is not just a difficult doctrine. It is extremely practical, and that in two ways. For one thing, you cannot go anywhere and shut God off from following you. He does not need to follow you. He is always there. No door can be closed against him. This means that nothing escapes His eye. No recording angel is needed to keep your record. At the final judgment there is no need to summon witnesses, no wondering if they are telling the truth. God does not depend on eye-witnesses. His judgment is just because He is always at the scene of every crime. . . Crime? Yes, at the scene of every sin too. In a human court a man may "get by with murder." He may build up a reputation he does not deserve. But no man can surprise God; your reputation with Him is no better than you are.

The other very important practical bearing this truth has is that God is present in our darkest hours. We may be too ill to visit the bedside of a dying loved one. We may arrive too late for a funeral. But God is never too late; the high God, the only God there is,—He is always there. We are never alone, and we need never feel alone. We may know that no human sympathy quite penetrates to the inside of our hearts; but God knows us from the inside as well as from without.

Do?

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Proverbs	12	8-8
Monday	Proverbs	18	1-4
Tuesday	Isaiah	55	6-11
Wednesday	Jeremiah	20	10-14
Thursday	Psalm	119	8-18
Friday	Philippians	4	1-7
Saturday	1 Peter	3	8-12

GOD'S PLAN FOR THE CHURCH

What is she thinking about, as she watches the flickering candle flame? There is a far away look in her eyes that makes one wonder. Yet, if she were offered a penny for her thoughts, she would probably only shrug and say, "Oh, nothing," in that maddening little way children have.

Watching her absorbed in her reverie is like an illustration of how closed one mind is from another. No one can ever know completely what another person is thinking. A thought expressed out loud all too often leaves something out of the telling. And most thoughts are never expressed at all.

Even should we wish to, we cannot entirely share our minds with one another. But we can share them with God. In the Church we can find the way to tell Him all our hopes, our fears, our loves, our angers, our pride, our pain.

Go to church this Sunday—and turn your own thoughts into prayer.

It's everybody's job!

BRINGING NEW INDUSTRIES to a community and keeping them happy after they get there is everybody's job. No one man or organization can do it alone.

Community leaders help by initiating and carrying out long-range civic policies and programs attractive to industry. Owners and managers of existing plants help by welcoming industrial newcomers and making them feel at home. Men and women workers help by showing their willingness to do a full day's work for a fair day's pay.

Yes, and Southern Railway helps, too! Southern's Industrial Development Department constantly seeks new industries for available plant sites. Throughout the year, our national advertising urges industrialists to "Look South" for new and greater opportunities. And we do our best to provide an ever-better, low-cost mass transportation service, so vital to the modern industrial South.

All of this effort helps all of us. For a community's economic growth does more than provide new and bigger job opportunities. It quickly spreads out in all directions to benefit men and women in almost every type of service, trade and profession.

Firemen Give Advice

From time to time, the fire department endeavors to put some little something in this paper to acquaint the people of Walton with modern fire fighting practices and how times have changed since the 30's or 40's.

Way back there it was considered good practice to take everything out of the house and carry it to the yard whenever the house caught fire. This was done by the neighbors and friends of the householder. Today, most of this has changed, we have smoke masks permitting us to enter regardless of smoke, cover furniture with tarpaulins, use 'fog' nozzles which break up the water stream into fine particles upon contact with heat, turns to steam and smothers and cools the fire, thereby doing little or no damages to furniture.

In one fire in which these methods were used, it was noted that the only articles damaged, was a clock pulled from the wall by a well-wisher.

Now, we welcome any help at a fire from anybody as long as it is help pulling hoses, setting ladders, handling firemen's equipment and

Walton - Verona Music Department List Its Activities

Ninety-One Students

Ninety-one students in the Walton-Verona music program are currently enrolled in flutophone classes. This figure is expected to rise even higher as the other children see what they are missing, said Mr. Layne.

Approximately forty-five of these students will be eligible to start on regular band instruments next year when they reach the fifth grade. The sangflute or flutophone class is very important as a background for music. In the class the student learns to read music, develop a sense of pitch and rhythm, will be able to sing better, and learns how much musical ability he actually has.

Troust for Girls Chorus

Many of the girls of Walton-Verona High, wanted to try out for the chorus and didn't have a chance at the beginning of the year, says Mr. Layne, music head, will have an opportunity later this month. Many of the girls will try out at the beginning of the next semester.

Six Band Members Chosen

Six members of the Walton-Verona Band have been chosen by Mr. Layne and the Northern Kentucky Bandmasters Association to try out for the eighty-five piece Northern Kentucky Massed Band. This is quite an honor because fifteen bands with over a thousand members are placing members in the select band. They are: Delores Cooke, Janet Arnett, David Doggett, Carolyn Garriott, Dennis Smith and David Jarman.

Band Officers Picked

Members of the Band recently elected officers: Eddie Neumeister, president; David Doggett, vice-president; Delores Cooke, secretary; William Goode, Sherry Stephenson, Carolyn Garriott, reporters.

We were sorry to hear of three local deaths over the weekend. William Corbin, father of Bill and Jerry Corbin, passed away in his sleep on Friday evening. Boyd Elliott died of a heart attack on Saturday. I guess Boyd knew more people in rural Kenton County than any other man in the County. We had counted him a friend for many years. William Sharp of Plantation Heights passed away on Sunday. Though we did not know him, we have known his wife, Josie, for many years. She retired last year as a floor lady at Woolworths in Covington. Our sympathy is extended to the families of all three.

Robert Ussery returned home from Booth Hospital in Saturday. He had suffered an attack of appendicitis last Sunday night and had been in the hospital for 6 days, but recovered without surgery.

Porter Webster of Hattisburg, Miss., visited his parents Rev. and Mrs. W. G. Webster over the weekend.

Martha McClure has been off work for several days with bronchitis.

We hear that Len Menkhaus is going into the hospital for an operation on his leg. We wish him a speedy recovery.

William Parker returned home from Bethesda Hospital last Saturday and is recuperating at his home from a back injury.

Bruce Clark, a teacher at Taylor Mill School, has been troubled with a back injury for over two weeks and unable to work.

ELECTRIC HEAT

... says Miami University professor, Mr. R. L. Moloney, Oxford, Ohio.

"Radiant heating's gentle warmth quickly and completely envelops a room ... spreading evenly corner-to-corner, ceiling-to-floor ... eliminating cold spots. And it warms silently, like sunshine ... without annoying blower noise ... that was most noticeable in our former home's heating system."

"Electric heating is the cleanest, too, added Mrs. Moloney. "Dusting is practically unnecessary. There's no fuel film to collect on windows, draperies or upholstery. And the need for redecorating will be far less frequent."

Installation and operating costs are comparable to other forms of heating. Get the facts in our beautifully illustrated brochure.

God's Holy Name
Lesson for January 28, 1962

IN ancient times, and among primitive people to this day, the name of a person was closely connected with the person himself. Actors and writers—not to mention immigrants with names that sound strange to American ears—change their names easily and think nothing of it. But among the ancient Hebrews, if a person changed his name

Dr. Foreman it was supposed to be only if some radical change had come over the man himself. So when the Bible speaks of reverence for God's "name," what is chiefly in mind is not a sound in the air or marks on paper, but reverence for what the name stands for—God himself. Irreverence

Americans are notoriously irreverent. At least, such is our reputation in Europe, and to some extent we deserve it. Our trouble is that it is a kind of tradition in this country that everybody is as good as everybody else if not a little better. Reverence seems like kow-towing, groveling, being an "Uncle Tom" boot-licking—we have all sorts of contemptuous words for the attitude of humility. We feel (even if we do not come out and say so) that to be reverent is sissified, it's a sign of weakness, an admission of inferiority.

What we forget is that God is not only not a man, He is infinitely higher than man. He is our Creator. To show reverence in the presence of another human being may well be uncalled for and demeaning (sic); but reverence in the presence of Almighty God is—at the very least—a simple honest admission of the fact that the one God is infinitely higher and holier than any of us or all of us together. To treat God lightly, with indifference or contempt, is irreverence, in any form. Profanity, dragging in God's sacred name either casually or in anger, is irreverence.

Jesus on Irreverence
Our Lord never used the words "irreverence" or "irreverent;" but He spoke of certain acts which He described or referred to in a way that leaves us in no doubt what He was driving at. He spoke (Matt. 5) about "harmless" oaths of that time—swearing by heaven, or by Jerusalem, and condemned them all. What good would an oath do even if it were not irreverent? If a man cannot be trusted when he says "Yes" or "No," putting him under oath will not make him more truthful. (Jesus himself did not refuse to testify when the High Priest "adjured him by the living God.") That was a case where refusal to speak at all would have been considerably worse than speaking out. Jesus poured a drop or two of scorn on people who pray long prayers, even repeating themselves over and over, fancying that God approves our prayers according to their length. He also warned against praying for show. You would hardly think anybody would be so foolish as to pray in order to make an impression on anybody but God,—and yet people will sometimes do it. Did you yourself ever pray in public and wonder, then or afterward, what So-and-So thought of your effort?

The worst offenders
The worst offenders against reverence are sometimes religious people. They are worse because they should know better. Now there were people in Galilee who had no use for Jesus, and they did not treat him with decent respect. Indeed, some of them actually plotted his death. But they were open and aboveboard, or some of them were. Jesus raises a question with his intimate friends who had such a high regard for him that they called him "Lord." But —said—Jesus—"Why do you call me Lord, Lord, and do not do what I tell you?" (Luke 6:46) You see it is not a question of words. The word "Lord" is a good word, it was no doubt used respectfully, but it was a hollow word as some people used it, because they did not mean it. The man who goes to church and sings "Jesus, I my cross have taken—" and drops into the collection plate only half of what his Sunday dinner is going to cost him, the pew-sitters who cannot be told from pagans except for that occasional hour in the pew,—are all irreverent. For the essence of irreverence is treating God as if He didn't really count.

OLD HANDS AT THIS

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A man who knows nothing about trees may admire a forest. But he'll never make a living in the timber business.

The Bible is like our other resources. It can fill any man with a sense of awe... but its rich treasures are for the earnest and patient seeker.

As you've held the Book and leafed its pages, you could almost feel its sacredness. And yet, when you began to read, perhaps it was like plodding an unfamiliar path.

Try again, today. But try with the zeal of the apprentice who counts experience itself a valuable reward. And turn to the Church for the inspiration that its worship and Bible study can provide.

Soon, like the timberman's forest, your Bible will be a friendly place of familiar trails, rich in God-given treasure. For, remember, even old hands once groped to find the Way.

TB X-Ray Unit Will Visit In Boone County Monday, February 5

It-cost less to prevent TB than it does to cure it. You are never too old to get tuberculosis. Almost half of the new cases reported in the United States are among people over 45. Tuberculosis is a preventable disease and it is also a curable disease, if found and treated early. TB is not only a personal or family problem, it affects the entire community, for TB is a very contagious disease; it is not inherited. Early TB may have no symptoms. The only way to find tuberculosis early is to have a chest x-ray.

The Mobile X-Ray Unit will visit Boone County on February 5th. The trailer unit will be located at the health department in Florence. It's quick, it's easy, it's confidential and it's free. Hours that the x-ray unit will be open are from 10:00 to 12 noon and 1:00 to 4:00 p.m.

The purpose of the x-ray is to examine as large a percentage of the adult population of Kentucky as possible with the purpose of discovering existing unknown cases of tuberculosis.

Make your county a better place in which to live, get a TB chest x-ray free!! See you on February 5th.

It's everybody's job!

BRINGING NEW INDUSTRIES to a community and keeping them happy after they get there is everybody's job. No one man or organization can do it alone.

Community leaders help by initiating and carrying out long-range civic policies and programs attractive to industry. Owners and managers of existing plants help by welcoming industrial newcomers and making them feel at home. Men and women workers help by showing their willingness to do a full day's work for a fair day's pay.

Yes, and Southern Railway helps, too! Southern's Industrial Development Department constantly seeks new industries for available plant sites. Throughout the year, our national advertising urges industrialists to "Look South" for new and greater opportunities. And we do our best to provide an ever-better, low-cost mass transportation service, so vital to the modern industrial South.

All of this effort helps all of us. For a community's economic growth does more than provide new and bigger job opportunities. It quickly spreads out in all directions to benefit men and women in almost every type of service, trade and profession.

Rest and Gladness

Lesson for February 4, 1962

A BUS schedule has been put out in four sections: Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. In American cities most people do not have longer than a five-day work week. The "Day of Rest" has become one of the days of rest. Nevertheless, people come to Sunday about as tired as they used to be when everybody worked right up to Saturday night, only for different reasons. Some people pay no attention at all to Sunday, and work or play on that day just as on any other. Some find Sunday a burden, others find it a problem. Yet it ought to be a golden day. "Day of all of the week the best."

Day of rest

The Fourth Commandment says two things clearly. One: By God's intention, one day in seven is a "holy" day. Two: It is to be a day of rest. The Christian church, after long argument, finally came to observe the first, not the seventh day, and we give it a new name, the Lord's Day, in memory of the resurrection of our Lord. (Though it is still called the Sabbath by many Christians.) The day chosen is less important than how the day is used. We believe—"we" meaning the great majority of Christians today—that the Fourth Commandment has not been set aside. We would say that the Fourth Commandment gives us a guide to how we may best use the Lord's Day; and we would also say that the attitude of Jesus to the Sabbath gives us further clues to the right attitude to the Lord's Day. The first point is that it is holy. It is a different day, a set-apart day, for that is what "holy" originally meant. It is God's day, because that also is what "holy" meant. Further, it is a day of rest. Machines need rest, plants and animals need it, and human beings most of all.

Day of worship

Now our Lord's use of the Sabbath gives us the Christian line. He knew the Fourth Commandment; but he did not suppose that "rest" meant doing literally nothing. Certainly his Sabbaths were extremely busy; you might say He worked overtime on that day. For one thing it was then as now the day set apart for worship. It was His custom to attend the synagogue on the Sabbath day. He could have preached better sermons than he heard there, but He went all the same. Christians do not always appreciate enough what it means to be able to worship in freedom and peace. We are throwing away one of God's best gifts when we let a Lord's Day drift by without joining other Christians at worship, if we are able to go at all. The first thing communists do when they take over a country, such as China or East Germany, is to make it impossible for Christians there, or extremely difficult, to worship in church. If you can get a whole generation growing up without leisure for religion, you have driven religion underground, and it will take a long time to return. So the Lord's Day is a prime target of communism.

Day for doing good

The Pharisees of Jesus' time were very strict about the Sabbath Day. Jesus set as much store by it as they, but in a different way. Their big question was: What is WRONG to do on the Sabbath? Jesus' question was: What is RIGHT to do? When Jesus saw any one in need of help that He could give, He never looked at the calendar first to make sure what day it was. It is lawful to do good on the Sabbath, He said. Don't most of us have in the back of our minds some one thing, at least, some kind and helpful act, which we could do if we only had time? Well, the Lord's Day is the time. To come to that blessed day, the "Day of rest and gladness," wondering whether we ought to do this or that, worrying about what we are supposed to do or not to do, is frustrating. But to come to the day with the question: What good can I be, what good can I do to others, on this day when the pressure is off? is the first step to a happy day. This day was made for man, as Jesus said. For his body, his mind, his soul. Whatever makes ourselves, and others nearest us, better persons, is surely a right thing to do on the day named for one who "went about doing good."

DAVID'S First STEP

The first step is a thrilling moment! An exciting new world is opening up for David. Soon he will be able to chase a butterfly, explore the old apple tree, play with Tommy and Mary next door.

The first step is the hardest. David needs the encouragement of Daddy's waiting arms. The second step will be easier. Soon David will be skipping about like a lamb.

The first step to Sunday School and church will be another thrilling moment in David's life. This first step will be hard for a shy little boy. David will need the encouragement of Mommy and Daddy. Soon he will be asking to go to Sunday School.

An exciting new world of religious discovery is waiting for your children when they take their first step to church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

ON COLD DAYS TRY QUICK POTATO SOUP

Cold days and hot soups go well together, steaming soup can be either the mainstay of a meal or an introduction to the lunch or dinner menu. This USDA menu for Quick Potato Soup allows you to serve tasty homemade soup even when you're in a hurry.

Add 2 cups thinly-sliced raw potatoes and 1/4 cup finely chopped onion to 1 1/2 cups of boiling water. Cover and cook for 15 to 20 minutes, or until the potatoes are tender. Mash the potatoes slightly with a fork to thicken the soup a little.

Add 1 1/2 cups milk, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon salt, and pepper to taste. Then heat and serve. For a touch of color, garnish each serving with chopped parsley, grated cheese, croutons, diced crisp bacon or finely-cut chives.

You can find both clear finishes, and those which contain stain on the market today. Clear finishes help bring out the natural beauty of grain and color of the wood, Miss Seebree concludes.

Penetrating seals go into the wood and leave a durable finish. Some of these give a dull finish and some give a shiny one. The shiny finish can be rubbed down with pumice stone and oil to remove the shine.

Satin varnish gives a dull finish when used on wood. This is a surface finish and does not go into the wood.

Spar varnish gives woods a water-proof finish. This has a shine, too, but can be rubbed down with pumice stone and oil.

WASHINGTON
By Gil Kingsbury

A Review:

Recently we reported the assignment of a native Kentuckian, Edmund Gullion, to the post of Ambassador to the Congo. We pointed out then he was going to a difficult assignment.

It was recalled in that report that he had been in Salonika, Greece, when World War 2 broke out. He had to help his fellow-Americans flee the country. He was in Helsinki when the Germans smothered southern Finland. And he was in other lands under similar trying circumstances.

Now The Congo:

His latest post, according to word reaching the State Department, is just about the same, dangerous and trying.

For the first several days of his stay in Leopoldville, he was without ties and shirts. His luggage was lost. More recently he has had to keep up with the diplomatic meanderings of Tshombe and Aduala. Gullion isn't saying anything for the public print but the experts know of his frustrations.

Unpopular Report:

Ambassador Gullion, native of Lexington and a descendant of a member of the Continental Congress, had a desk job in the State Department before his latest job.

Some say that Mr. Gullion made himself briefly unpopular in the Department when, back in 1952, he filed a troublesome report on French Indo-China. That country, he predicted, would collapse. It did.

No Prediction:

It would be folly to predict the outcome of the situation in the Congo. Too many factors and nations are involved. But if peace at any sort is restored, credit must go to the Kentuckian.

Polls For Kenton Co. Tobac'o Referendum Have Been Named

Polling places for the Burley referendum on marketing quotas for the next three crops of burley tobacco have been designated by the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee as follows:

Crescent Springs and Independence Community, Independence Courthouse.

Decoursey and Towers Community, Independence Courthouse.

Atwood Community, Butlers Farm Store.

Bracht Community, Henry Godman's Farm on Kentucky 14.

Fiskburg—Piner, Piner Elementary School.

The polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Committee Chairman Russell Rector points out that notices of farm acreage allotments are being mailed to all burley tobacco farm operators so that they may know what their 1962 allotments are in advance of the referendum.

If at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum vote YES, quotas and allotments will be in effect for the 1962, 1963 and 1964 crops of burley tobacco. Penalties for marketing "excess" tobacco will also be in effect, and price support will be available to growers who comply with their allotments.

If marketing quotas are not approved, that is, if more than one-third of those voting vote NO, there will be no quotas or penalties, and no price support on the 1962 crop of burley tobacco. In that event, another referendum would be held next year on quotas for the following three crops.

Chairman Russell Rector urges all eligible burley tobacco growers to vote on this important question.

Advance Payment Available Under the Feed Grain Program

Producers who participate in the 1962 Feed Grain Program are entitled to payments diverting acreage from production of corn and grain sorghum, according to Mr. Russell Rector, Chairman, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. Up to half of the estimated payment to be earned may be paid in advance when the producer signs up under the program.

Chairman Russell Rector said this program provisions should be of substantial benefit to growers who can use some extra ready cash during the spring planting season. Signup for the program runs from Feb. 5 through March 30.

The program offers payments to producers for diversions of feed grain cropland to approved soil conserving uses. The program is voluntary, but farmers who cooperate must divert a minimum acreage in order to be eligible for price support on the normal production of their 1962 crop corn and grain sorghum acreage.

Payments under the program will be in the form of cash advance or a feed grain certificate, whichever the producer chooses. Each county will have two county average rates of payment per acre for corn and two for grain sorghum. The two average rates for Kenton County are $30.00 and $36.00 per acre.

Farm payment rates will vary according to the farm's productivity in relation to the county average productivity and the number of acres diverted.

Farmers who are interested in participating in the 1962 Feed Grain program should get in touch with the county ASCS office at their earliest convenience.

Valuable to God

Lesson for February 18, 1962

WHY is killing wrong? The Bible says so, to be sure; but the Bible would not say so if it were not wrong to begin with. The law says so; but the law can only make things illegal, it cannot make them wrong. Our instincts, when not perverted, warn us killing is wrong; but instincts may be mistaken. There are many reasons Dr. Foreman why killing is wrong, a serious sin. Let us try to high-light one of these. This reason goes to the heart of the matter. Killing is wrong because it destroys the noblest work of God. It is wrong because it destroys what God has made, indeed the most valuable creature God made upon this earth.

Worth of man to his God

Of all creatures here on our planet, man is the only one with a soul. Put in another way, man is the only animal who is more than an animal. He is the only one who is capable of fellowship with God. He is the only one "in the image of God," that is, the only one who has—by God's gift—the possibility of growing to be like God. Of all creatures he is the one who can be most helpful to God. All God's creatures no doubt are useful to him in some way or other for the carrying out of the divine Purpose; but man alone can be aware of the purposes of God, man alone can receive a revelation from God, man alone can pray. Jesus asked on one occasion what a man could give in exchange for his self. If he took the whole world in exchange, Jesus said, but lost his self in the bargain, he would be the loser. Somebody might interrupt—"Whom in the world are you describing? Most people, on the hoof as you might say, aren't as noble as all that!" Quite true; and nobody knows it better than God. But men are the creatures God went to infinite trouble to save. Men are the creatures about whom Jesus told his parable of the one lost sheep, and the joy in the presence of the angels over even one repenting sinner.

In ancient times people did not think much of slaves, or women, or children. A woman had status only so far as her connections with some man gave her a position in society. Children had no status till they were grown; and slaves had no status at all. Jesus, however, never "brushed off" any one. He always had time for people; poor people, stupid people, even bad people. When some little children were brought to him, his disciples tried to get rid of them. The Master's time was valuable, he could not afford to waste it! But Jesus rebuked his disciples, not the children. All the modern keen interest in childhood, the study of growing personalities just at the very beginning of life, stems from the Christian view, which goes back to Jesus, that even babies are already persons. To harm a child is to commit a crime against the future of mankind.

Sins against persons

This brings up another very obvious thought: Sins against persons are the most serious kind. Once upon a time this was not understood. Men would be hanged for murder, they would be hanged for stealing a lamb. Nowadays stealing a lamb is petty theft, but murder is still murder, and in many states still receives the death penalty. This is not the place to argue about capital punishment, only to point out that it shows how after all these centuries, human life is still known to be the most important life on earth, and any damage to it a serious crime.

But suppose I harm myself and myself alone? Isn't that my affair? It is your affair if you mean does it concern you. It is your affair if you think that harm you do to yourself injures no one else. You wouldn't think of chopping your hand off, but if you did, the law would take you in charge. You have no right to injure yourself, by hatchet, alcohol, simple neglect or otherwise; much less to destroy yourself. You do not live alone, you are surrounded by others. Well and strong, you are a benefit to the community, injured or dead by your own fault before your time, you are a burden, you have turned your back on the human race, you have defaced God's handiwork.

NEVER TOO LATE...

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

Day	Book	Chapter	Verse
Sunday	Matthew	24	36-44
Monday	Matthew	25	1-13
Tuesday	Romans	8	31-39
Wednesday	Colossians	1	3-8
Thursday	Colossians	1	9-14
Friday	II Corinthians	4	1-6
Saturday	Hebrews	10	19-25

HOW I used to hate to practice the piano when I was a child! Yet, today, how I wish I could play well — and that I had the time to practice!

So often, we turn our back on opportunity, only to find, when we want it, that it's too late.

Not so with the Church. The Church gives you no reason for regrets. If, long ago, you gave up going to church, there is no reason why you can't start again now. Even if you've never gone to church, you'll find a warm welcome awaiting you this and every Sunday. For God's love is constant and everlasting.

In the Church it is, literally, never too late.

An attractive centerpiece for your Christmas table can be made by following these directions from the USDA's Forest Service. Roll a piece of colored paper into a cornucopia. Decorate this with a ribbon, bits of sparkling glitter, and perhaps a sprig of holly. Then fill it to overflowing with pieces of fir, spruce or pine.

When you take the big step of buying a real fur coat, select a reputable furrier. He's your best protection against poor quality fur, unsatisfactory construction, and 'shady' business practices. It pays to watch out for special "bargain" offers from unknown dealers. Such prices usually mean the furs are no bargain.

...the BIG REASON why Southern Railway
can offer greatly reduced freight rates
on grain moving into and within the Southeast!

We call it "BIG JOHN" because it is big! Pioneered by Southern, our new jumbo lightweight aluminum covered hopper car dwarfs its little brother shown at the left, a standard-size steel covered hopper car.

"BIG JOHN" is not only big in size—it is big in what it can do, too. It represents a major breakthrough in transportation. It already has permitted much lower freight rates on alumina, carbide, lime, cement and other such materials. Now "BIG JOHN" is ready to lower the transportation costs of grains, feeds, flour and other agricultural commodities—and here is why it can do it.

"BIG JOHN" can carry a load of 100-tons-plus. (The wasteful deadweight of conventional steel cars is replaced by revenue-producing capacity.) Its cubic-foot capacity is 5,000. On its roof are 12 hatches, and at the bottom are 8 discharge hoppers to speed loading and unloading. Like filling and emptying a bathtub!

If desired, a separate kind of grain can be loaded into each of its four compartments and travel in the same car, without mixing. What's more, this covered hopper is an air-tight car, unlike the box car generally used to carry grain. This greatly reduces the likelihood of infestation and water damage. And there are no grain doors, as in box car movements, to be paid for by the shipper in higher freight rates.

Because "BIG JOHN" can do a big job, Southern Railway can greatly reduce its freight rates for the movement of grain. The resulting savings in transportation costs will benefit everybody—the grain grower, the farmer, the poultry man, the livestock raiser, the feed man and the consuming public.

What Do Boys and Girls Get Out of Their 4-H Club Activities

To make it short, I'd say they get out about in proportion to what they put in. Some boys and girls get very little out of 4-H Club work because they put forth very little effort in their project work and also in club meetings. Other boys and girls have their lives revolutionized by 4-H club work because they have a great desire to learn and to reach their goals. What they get out of 4-H club work also depends on the attitude of their parents and 4-H leaders. Without wholehearted support by the parents and leaders, the boys and girls won't get much out of 4-H club work, or Sunday school or Church or Scouting or any other organization for young people. On the other hand, with proper encouragement, they develop personality, gain self-confidence, learn to express themselves and learn to get along with others. They learn new skills, and the dignity of work and they learn to accept responsibility and to take pride in accomplishment. What more could we ask for our boys and girls than the learning of these things?

The boys and girls are ready for bigger and better things in 4-H work in Kenton County. Are you ready as a parent to help our young people to gain a bigger vision of development and improvement through 4-H work? Are you willing to serve as a leader to help us in bringing 4-H benefits to move boys and girls in Kenton County? If so, we would be glad to work with you toward being a better 4-H parent or club leader. If you would like to become a 4-H club leader in Kenton County please call Ruth Marcum or Robert Maddox at the Extension office at CO-1-2365 or stop in and talk with us in room 8 of the Covington Post Office.

Help Find Answers To Heart Disease by Giving Your Dollars

Will my children grow up in a world free from fear of heart disease? Will medical science find the answers in time to help me and my family? These two questions and many, many more are uppermost in the minds of millions of Americans who have or know the serious nature of the heart disease. Heart Disease your No. 1 enemy—Heart Fund your No. 1 defense.

Heart disease can be conquered. Great strides have been made since 1948 in medical science through surgery, treatment for rheumatic fever and high blood pressure.

Your Heart Fund Dollars will speed progress. The money contributed will be used for research, expand community programs to prevent rheumatic fever, rehabilitate heart and stroke victims and educate the public with heart saving facts. 97 per cent of all Heart funds collected locally are put to work here in Kentucky.

I wish to acknowledge and thank the Independence Volunteer Fire Department, for the credit they deserve and for the efforts the men put forth to establish an area (shown above) known as THE INDEPENDENCE FIRE PROTECTION AREA, which is a surrounding area of three miles, by roads that are accessible to the Independence Fire Department.

This has meant a reduction in the Fire Rates for the people involved: From A Class 10 to A Class 9 and in the Eastern and Northeastern Sections (Taylor Mill Area). This will mean a reduction in rates to Class 8, if within the Independence Fire Protection Area and within 1,000 feet of a standard fire hydrant. Good job, men! Tip Our Hat:

We tip our hat today to a Kentucky lady—a member of the bar of the United States Supreme Court. She carries three titles—Miss Elizabeth Smith of Irvine, Kentucky—Captain Elizabeth Smith of the Women's Army Corps—and, finally, Col. Elizabeth Smith of the Brigade of Kentucky Colonels.

Admitted Recently:

Captain Smith, the daughter of the man who long has served as the mayor of Irvine, was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court only recently. And she was the only woman in the line up of 19 men from the office of the Judge Advocate General.

A Heritage:

Captain Smith is a graduate of the University of Kentucky, class of 1950, and the dean of the U. K. law school is today her boss, Army Secretary Elvis Stahr.

The Kentucky lady comes, by her profession naturally. Her grandfather was a lawyer and she believes that she was born with the idea. In addition to her U. K. schooling, she has attended military law colleges.

Her Hobbies:

Among her hobbies are golf and opera—when she finds time for either.

Her collection of opera records is her pride and joy and during her tour of duty in Europe she attended performances in many of the famous opera houses. She still confesses to one ambition. She wants to see a performance at the New York Metropolitan.

"A place for everything and everything in its place" was the theme of the "Storage lesson" brought to the Ryland Homemakers Club through the courtesy of Mrs. Russell Rector of Oak Island Club. She gave storage guides to place articles where they are to be used, and discard articles no longer needed and use the space for more important things. Directions were given for making drawer dividers and covered hat boxes.

Mrs. George Campbell was hostess and used the Valentine motif in her decoration at the tables with red and white carnations made from tissues for the center piece and served the desert in heart shape. Mrs. Harold Halfhill was co-hostess.

Add sunshine to your room suggested Miss Ruth Schmidt, garden leader, by placing branches cut from Pussy Willow or Forsythia in water, beautiful blooms will appear in about 10 days.

Mrs. Everett Wilson read the devotions during her reading program and gave the history of Home Demonstration work in Kentucky. Mrs. William Damon reported she has caned 126 chairs up to date and Miss Smith totals 99, this project acquired through club leaders.

Interesting poems and biographies were read by members on Lincoln and Washington in keeping with their birthdays this month.

Mrs. Harold Halfhill presided and welcomed Mrs. Effie Colclough, Mrs. Walter Krull, Mrs. Warren Manning and Master Keith Manning as guests. She also reported on the advisory council meeting she attended and took reservations for the Kenton County Homemakers spring luncheon and style show to be held at Summit Hills Country Club February 27. Special workshop days were planned for March 22 on the art of Mosaic tile and lamp lesson at the Gas and electric company on April 12.

Other members enjoying the Valentine gift exchange were Mesdames William Bagby, J. K. Belew, Morgan Metzger, William Schwall, Anthony Wolf, Hugh Craigmyre, A. R. Hicks, C. J. Castleberry, William Damon and F. B. Hermes who will be hostess in March.

Tobacco Plant Bed Work Chores Need Doing Now

Plant bed sites for the 1962 tobacco crop should be picked now and prepared as soon as weather conditions are right, says Ira Massie, UK Cooperative Extension Service specialist.

Here are his tips:

1. Treat the bed sites when weather conditions are right, soil is warm and dry and will "work" freely. This way chemicals or heat used for weed-control will penetrate the soil.

Pick a soil that is loamy, as fertile as can be found and which has southern or southeastern exposure to take advantage of the sun.

Work the bed site in relation to the weed-control method you'll use. Weed-control is a must because young plants cannot compete with weeds and be healthy, growthy and vigorous.

Methyl bromide gas, steaming and burning are excellent ways to control weeds. Drenches (such as Vapam, allyl alcohol and Mylone) are very promising.

Seeding can be done soon after methyl bromide is applied, or the sites are steamed or burned. When drenches are desired, these drenches should go on the site at least three weeks before the site is seeded. This gives plenty of time for gas released in the soil to escape.

March is a good time to seed tobacco plant beds. There's little need in seeding them earlier.

If you're buying upholstered furniture, look for fabric that is rugged as well as attractive. Knowing how to judge quality will help you find it at a rather reasonable price. Remember that rough weave usually is not for rough use. Avoid fabrics with long, floating threads if the furniture is to get rough treatment; these threads tend to brake and snag.

What We Do in 4-H Club

In our 4-H club program in Kenton County we are attempting to provide opportunities for young people to find their interest in life; to develop their skills; to develop into leaders for today as well as tomorrow. We want to provide them with training that will develop them, in to good citizens.

Parents who are interested in the future of their children give of their time and talent in working with 4-H club members.

Is your boy or girl enrolled in 4-H Club work? If not, why not contact one of the 4-H Leaders in your community or call our Extension office to find out more about 4-H. Leaders are always needed and if there is no club in your area we will work with you and form one.

Fertilizer, Seeding Canvas Due Soon on Burley Beds

Fertilizing, seeding and canvassing of burley tobacco beds for the 1962 crop will be a farm chore in the very near future, says Ira Massie, UK Ag Extension Service specialist.

Here are his recommendations for these chores!

Use only 4-16-4 sulfate of potash fertilizer on tobacco beds regardless of treatments. The 4-16-4 analysis is the only tobacco bed fertilizer now recommended by the Extension Service.

Use about 30 pounds of this 4-16-4 per 100 square yards of bed.

Massie calls attention to the low nitrogen and potash content of this analysis fertilizer. This is because nitrogen and potash, in dry periods are the two elements that can cause trouble in young plants. Plants will turn yellow and die. When this happens, use large amounts of water.

After the fertilizer has been raked in lightly on the prepared bed, use two level teaspoonsful of seed per 100 square yards. Do not exceed this amount of seed. Combine it with some 20 percent superphosphate fertilizer, a small amount of the 4-16-4 fertilizer, wood ashes, sand, dirt or other bulk carriers that will give even distribution of the seed in the bed.

Canvas the bed immediately after seeding and fertilization. Don't wait until the next day because a sudden windstorm or rainstorm will bunch the seed into low spots in the bed.

When cooking eggs, remember this rule: use low to moderate temperatures.

The Clean Life
Lesson for February 25, 1962

WHAT is the most valuable feature of American life? It is not the supermarkets, the big double-lane highways, it isn't the cars or even the schools. Many, even Christians, would say it is not even the churches that are the best American possession. What is it (the reader is invited to think) which could get along without the church, but without which the church would soon wither away?

The answer, of course, is the Christian home. Christian church and Christian home support each other; sometimes with an assist from the school, sometimes not. But the home is more indispensable to the church than the church to the home.

What then is the inner support and foundation of a Christian home? The obvious answer is, Christian marriage. Failure of a marriage means failure of a home.

Attack on home
Today the home is under attack. Not directly; no one would get a moment's hearing if he advertised himself as opposed to good homes. But indirectly, in countless ways, marriages can be, and often are, poisoned in advance. It is well known that one marriage in four, the country over, ends in divorce; and that though divorced persons often re-marry (for the stark and simple reason that they already have cheated wife or husband) they are not likely to make much more of the second try than the first.

One of the deadliest ways to poison a marriage beforehand is to come to it no longer a virgin; and this holds true for man and woman alike. From the very beginning, the Christian church and the Jewish synagogue have held up one standard for marriage: Continence before, and chastity (faithfulness each to each) during marriage. Whatever breaks down that standard does something to break down marriage itself. A "home" where husband and wife are both survivors of many affairs with other people, a marriage that knows nothing of faithfulness, a marriage ready to break in two the minute a homesomer man or a more alluring woman comes on the scene,—such a "home" is likely to have little or no regard for any children and may even resent them.

Mind and body
The laws of any place fall behind the best ideals of the best people. Any good lawyer will admit as much. But even the law, clumsy and "external" as it must be, knows that adultery is wrong. But by the time adultery gets into the courts, or becomes a tragic basis for divorce, it has been going on for a long time. Jesus put it quite bluntly. Any man who looks on a woman with lust in his heart, has already committed adultery with her. There are only three requirements for any act, good or bad: desire, capacity, opportunity. And an act of adultery exists for a longer or shorter time in a mind first. A clean life is not one that lacks legally punishable acts. A clean life is one in which the law is not needed; it is a life that supplies its own discipline.

Our special problems
In America at this time and for a generation or more before now, the Christian ideal of continence before marriage, chastity during it, itself has been eroded by constant attack. Consider the books and magazines for sale at your nearby drugstores; consider the themes of popular moving pictures and novels; consider the moral standards of Hollywood and of their influence on our national life. Consider the way women and girls dress. To maintain a clean life in the midst of surrounding such as are common in America is extremely difficult, more so than for most previous centuries. Yet there is one thing it will help us to keep in mind. That is, that at the time the Christian church began, standards of relations between men and women, in the Roman Empire, where the infant church was born, were just as low as they are in America today, if not lower. Yet the ideals of Christ outlived the empire. The future of America is not with those large areas of corruption; it is with the small groups that intend to remain clean.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Robinsons don't go to my church—they belong to another.
But I'll tell you there are no finer people in our town than Cliff and Berta, and their kids, Polly and Joe. They're good neighbors . . . friends who'd stick by you in trouble . . . people with standards, ideals.
And other folks around town feel the same way about the Robinsons. Tradepeople say it's a pleasure to do business with them. Community leaders admire the way they pitch in and help.
So I say this picture is symbolic. For if we'd stop and figure WHAT MAKES FINE PEOPLE LIKE THE ROBINSONS . . . why this whole town would be in church next Sunday!

Sunday Matthew 5:14-20	Monday John 10:7-16	Tuesday Mark 9:33-41

Shirley Tallent, Editor—356-2589

Our sympathy is extended to Mrs. Sonnie Bates, whose brother, Killiam Boemer, passed away in a Veteran's Administration Hospital in Tennessee last week. Mrs. Bates went to Tennessee for the funeral.

We were sorry to read in this morning's newspaper about the death of Dr. Marc Reardon. We have always thought highly of Dr. Reardon, especially since he had operated on an orphan girl and successfully removed tattoo marks from her arms, though he knew that he would receive no fee for it. He was so kind to the girl and by removing the tattoos he changed her whole outlook on life.

Little Dagny Corbin turned a cup of boiling tea over on his stomach last Sunday morning and suffered some bad blisters of the abdomen.

Gertrude Dorman has been feeling poorly the past few days with sinus infection and a sprained shoulder.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Frank Poetter is confined to her home with high blood pressure and headaches. Though Mrs. Poetter is over 80 years old, she has always been so active in her church that she is greatly missed when she is unable to be out.

Mr. Estill Webster has had a very bad case of flu for the past three weeks and is still feeling very poorly.

We were happy to hear that Mrs. Jesse Creekmore of Plantation Heights got home from the hospital last Sunday. She had undergone surgery and had been in the hospital nearly a month.

Mrs. Dora Ruehmeier passed away last week at the Beauty Acres Rest Home on Stephens Road. She was the stepmother of Mr. Frank and Gilbert Ruehmeier of Taylor Mill Pike. Our sympathy is extended to her family.

CRITTENDEN

Mrs. Walter Cook—TA 4-2718

Ray Conner who has been in St. Elizabeth Hospital for six weeks, has been taken to Dry Ridge Convalescent Home.

Sam Scroggin has returned home from Booth Hospital.

Miss Linda Burnette has been put to bed for six weeks with rheumatic fever.

Miss Marlene Roberts spent week-end with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cooke.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cummins of Shelbyville, spent the week-end with their son and family, Rev. and Mrs. Roy Cummins.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vallandingham and two children of Lexington spent the week-end with his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Vallandingham and daughter, Joan.

Sixty Leaders For Kenton Homemakers Met February 13th

Sixty leaders of the Kenton County Homemakers Association attended the home management workshop held Tuesday, February 13, recreation room of the Trinity Methodist Church Latonia. Information on "How to Take Care of Rugs, Carpets, and Upholstrey was the subject presented by Mrs. Ella Anderson, Home Management Specialist from the University of Kentucky and Miss Zelma E. Byerly, County Home Demonstration Agent.

Mrs. Anderson, stated that regular vacuum cleaning of carpets, and upholstery will preserve their bright, fresh color. Eventually, however some special methods and materials may need to be used to remove, the greasy, dulling stains from soot, oil and household spills.

Two methods may be used in special home-cleaning of rugs and carpets; shampooing with soapless detergent and water, dry powder cleaning, a variation of dry cleaning. Soaps, washing sodas are not generally recommended. Dry cleaning with a liquid is not advised for home use, because of the toxicity, the fire hazard and the difficulty of using enough solution to be effective. Reliable spot cleaners may be used for small and freshly stained places. Be sure to use manufacturers instructions for using the cleaning material and your vacuum sweeper.

Demonstrations using home-made cleaners and commercial cleaners were presented.

Leaders attending the meeting were: Mrs. Robert Waite, Mrs. Homer Wallace, Mrs. Richard Harlow, Mrs. Harry Champ, Mrs. Roy Kummer, Mrs. William Endres, Mrs. Chas. Resing, Mrs. Bradley Combs, Mrs. George Campbell, Mrs. Harold Halfhill, Mrs. Thomas Williams, Mrs. Charles Brewer, Mrs. John Cook, Mrs. John Wolford, Mrs. Robert Wainwright, Mrs. Paul Arbogast, Mrs. William Kees, Mrs. Carl Garlough, Mrs. William Fedders, Jr., Mrs. Howard Beeson, Mrs. B. M. Dycus, Mrs. Dan Marshall, Mrs. Robert Eastman, Mrs. Howard Routledge, Mrs. Russell C. McNay, Mrs. James I. Tichenor, Mrs. Arthur Steeley, Mrs. Russell Rector, Mrs. Chester Mullins.

Giant Foxtail Now Listed As Noxious Weed in State

Giant foxtail, a grass-like weed that has been a considerable problem to farmers in the western corn-producing area of the state, "now is officially designated a noxious weed."

Lee Townsend, UK Ag Experiment Station entomologist, said this week that Dr. W. A. Seay, acting dean of the Agricultural Experiment Station, has signed a notice that seed of the weed will be considered noxious.

The notice becomes effective July 1, Townsend said. The action, taken under Section 250.100 of Kentucky Revised Statutes, declares that giant foxtail seed shall be considered noxious when occurring in any agricultural seed offered for sale in this state. It makes the tenth addition to the noxious weed list.

Soybean and corn farmers, particularly in the western river counties, have been most troubled by the weed. It is a tall, grass-like weed with a large seed head. It is hardy and vigorous. During combine operations on soybeans or corn the weed will cause harvesting troubles.

Forest Product Price Report Available Soon From U. Ky.

A publication listing prices of various products will be available about March 1 from two state sources, says James Newman UK Ag Extension Service forster.

The report is listed as Forest Utilization Report No. 12. It is issued semi-annually by Newman's office and the Kentucky Division of Forestry, Frankfort. Copies will be available through Newman's office at the University in Lexington or the state Department of Forestry at Frankfort. One copy will be sent, however, to each of Kentucky's 120 county agents.

Price-reporting is done by marketing area, Newman said. Main idea is to let landowners know the value of their standing timber and cut products such as logs and stove bolts.

The state has been divided into seven areas for the report. Price information was obtained for each major product purchased or sold in each area by division foresters. Pro-

KENTUCKIANS

WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsbury

New Quotas:

What will be Kentucky's income from tobacco this year? A good guess, according to the experts, is $300,000,000, or an increase of about 16 million over last year.

All this will come about, so the story goes, when the new quota system goes into effect. The referendum on the system is set for February 20. The blue-cured farmers voted in December and by a vote of 98 to 2 agreed to continue their system.

Export:

The President is making a fight for the right to cut tariffs and so the Department of Commerce comes out with some figures on Kentucky's share of the export trade.

The Blue Grass state sells $314 million worth of goods to foreign lands, according to the report. Included in the list of exports are tobacco, coal, processed foods and metal products.

Federal Improvements:

The budget for next year contains a few items of interest to Kentuckians who are pushing the tourist trade.

Uncle Sam has set aside a half million dollars for roads, trails and some building at Mammoth Cave.

In addition, the National Park Service is planning the construction of 112 camp sites and an amphitheater.

Numbers:

With debate underway on federal aid to education, Uncle Sam tosses some figures at our lawmakers. We pass them on to you sans comment.

Last year there were 28,423 high school graduates in Kentucky. In 1965 there will be 69,000 Kentuckians enrolled in college and then, five years later in 1970, there will be 92,000 hitting the books at the collegiate level.

Cakes and cookies made from honey remain moist in storage. Usually, it's best to use a special recipe, but you can use honey for part of the sugar in standard receipts of you follow these suggestions from USDA: In cakes, substitute honey for half the sugar. In cookies, the amount of honey that can replace the sugar varies with the type cookie. For gingersnaps, honey can substitute for no more than a third of the sugar. For brownies, you can use as much as half honey; for fruit bars, up to two-thirds.

Once Over Lightly

B. M. ATKINSON

ON BEHALF of hunters, fishermen, picnickers and other trespassers and as a public service to landowners, I would like to put this question before the house: Is there any satisfactory way of crossing a barbed wire fence? Any way that won't leave the fence sagging or the crosser looking like he's just come through a cheese grater.

After forty years of fighting fences and collecting scar tissue, I'm convinced there's not any solution. I think that a barbed wire fence has some sort of hypnotic effect on a man. As soon as he comes in contact with it and starts trying to figure out the best way to cross it, his brain stops working.

When that happens, you get these types:

The Jockey: He's the man with legs not three feet long who gets the fantastic notion that he can straddle his way across a barbed wire fence over four feet high.

He throws one leg over the fence, finds out it won't reach, tries to retrieve it, gets hung in about three places, starts bouncing from one foot to the other trying to get loose and winds up looking like a man riding a porcupine bareback.

The Mad Dreamer: He knows that when he bends over his stomach will sag down some two feet from his spine but he still thinks that he can smuggle all that between two strands of barbed wire not 12 inches apart.

It's like trying to stuff a bag of laundry through a keyhole. First, he gets his stomach caught. Then he raises up, gets it loose and gets his back caught. He twists a hand around, gets his back loose and gets his sleeve caught.

Finally, he gets the sleeve loose, sucks in his stomach, lowers his back, starts edging through and gets jerked back. With all that raising and lowering, the fence has now got him by the collar and the seat of the pants. That's when his dog either goes on a point, jumps a rabbit or comes up and starts licking him in the face.

The Acrobat: The sad thing about this type is that he doesn't mean to be an acrobat. He very carefully selects a good strong fence post to cross at, holds on to it with one hand, climbs up, very cautiously, swings a leg over and then a strange thing happens. In swinging his last leg over, he somehow twists his body around in such a way that he finds himself going down the fence backwards—he's facing away from it instead of towards it. And his arms are twisted around in such a way behind him that if he keeps going he's going to snap them both off at the shoulder. So all he can do is jump and pray enroute that the ripping sound he hears is cloth and not meat.

The Strip Teaser: A woman picnicker with long hair, a full blouse and a wide skirt who tries to go through a barbed wire fence. What happens to her type I don't know. I've never had the heart to watch.

Of course, there is one answer to the problem: Let landowners electrify these fences like they have everything else on the farm. Then I think we would all head for a thing called a gate.

Potential Physical Fitness of Children Greater Than Ever

The potential physical fitness of our children and youth is greater than ever before, Miss Mildred Neff, director of the Division of Nutrition for the Kentucky State Department of Health, said today.

Miss Neff recently returned from a three-day Nutrition Education Conference in Washington, D. C., where 300 educators, nutritionists and scientists discussed ways in which to improve the food habits of today's school children.

While the diets and nutritional status of the nation's children were reported as better than ever before, some children's diets are still lacking in calcium, Vitamins A and C, she said.

The family still exerts the most important influence on food habits until children reach school age and begin to be affected by other people in the community. However, when good food habits are well established in the early years, they usually remain.

Mrs. Edna Risen, Boone County nutritionist, stresses in her work the extreme importance of nutrition education both for parents and for children today when vast arrays of food choices, advertising pressures, and food fads tempt the consumer.

Nutrition education is needed to give parents a sound basis of knowledge for their food purchases which, in turn, determines the child's eating habits for the rest of his life.

When children are impressed with examples of physical fitness and nutritional well-being, related to what they want to do and to when they grow up, they will be eager for information and training designed to help them develop good eating habits.

You'll find more pecans on the market than ever before, generally, at lower than usual prices. Try serving pecans with cottage cheese in a crispy, lettuce cup for a tasty salad. Or mix them with your favorite fruit flavored gelatin, or sprinkle them over peach or pear halves, pineapple rings, apple wedges, and grapefruit or orange sections.

Did you eat breakfast this morning? If your answer is "no" then you're probably short-changing yourself on both nutrients and calories.

U.K. STUDY MAY CAST LIGHT ON ACHING BACK

A study of the backbones of horses, currently being conducted by a University of Kentucky veterinary pathologist, may eventually lead to better understanding of what causes slipped discs and other malfunctions of the human spinal column.

That, at least, is one of the hopes of Dr. James R. Rooney, who has launched the special three-year study with the assistance of a $38,680 research grant from the National Institutes of Health.

Rooney's investigation will encompass two main points: (1) a study of the structure of normal backbones of horses, and (2) location and description of abnormalities.

In his study of normal structure, the UK scientist says he will consider "dynamic engineering of the backbone—how it moves and functions when the horse is galloping, trotting, or otherwise engaged in exercise."

As to abnormalities of the equine vertebral column, Rooney explains that horses, like humans, are subject to a type of slipped disc. His study will include an investigation of the occurrence, nature and clinical effects of disc disease in horses.

One of the objectives of the research project is to describe this and other abnormalities of the horse's spinal column and see how they compare to similar damage that occurs in man.

"By learning more about the backbone changes in a large, four-footed animal, we may obtain helpful information regarding a two-legged animal—man," the UK researcher says.

STATE'S OIL OUTPUT THIRD BEST IN HISTORY

Kentucky's 1961 oil production totaled 18,344,237 barrels, it was reported this week by Dr. Wallace W. Hagan, director of the Kentucky Geological Survey at the University of Kentucky. This is the third highest production year in history of the Commonwealth, Hagan said. Previous highs were reached in 1959 and 1960. Sixty-two of Kentucky's 120 counties contributed to the total production. Henderson County again led the state as the largest oil-producing county.

Nicholson Liquor Store Robbed By Young Lady Saturday

A neatly dressed young woman brandishing a nickel plated revolver held up Rankin's Liquor Store on the Madison Pike at Nicholson, Saturday night and escaped with more than $100 from the cash register.

Kenton County Police said the girl bandit rolled up in a white sedan of late model driven by a man. She jumped out of her automobile and, pointing the gun at the proprietor, Oscar Rankin, demanded that he hand over the contents of the cash register.

Mr. Rankin obeyed, and the girl seized the money, backed slowly to the door and then suddenly turned and leaped for the car. The store owner seized his own revolver and fired five shots at the retreating automobile. Some of the shots may have taken effect.

The woman was described as wearing a light coat and dark hat which she pulled down over her eyes. Mr. Rankin thought she might be 18 to 20 years old.

4-H Electric Project Under Way in Boone County; Aid Given

The 4-H Electric Project is well under way in most Boone County 4-H Clubs and the other clubs have all their plans made. This project is sponsored by the Cincinnati Gas and Electric Company and the club members make such items as table lamps, vanity lamps, pin-up lamps, floor light, outdoor lights and many other items. Along with making these items the youngsters learn much about the safe and economical use of electricity. Mr. and Mrs. Grant Maddox and Donnie Maddox are working with the clubs at the Florence and Boone County High Schools. Mrs. John Heterman has just about completed the project at All Saints School, and Mr. Jesse Thornton is ready to begin the meetings with the Walton and Verona 4-H Club members. Helping Mr. Thornton will be Junior Leaders from the Walton Club. Mr. Robert McNeely is well under way with the Bellevue Grant Club. At the Hebron Clubs, Mrs. Charles Birch, Mrs. Albert Dickey, Mrs. Herman Oberjohann, Mr. Von Skeen and Chettie Birch are working with the club members. Mr. John Walton, Jr., is preparing to begin the meetings at Burlington.

Mr. Harold Kraus, Electric Leader at the St. Paul Clubs has been in the hospital and unable to get the work under way. Mrs. Neal Streuter is ready to begin work with the New Haven Clubs. The Hamilton Club is also ready to begin their project work.

These lamps are exhibited at the Boone County Fair and at the Kentucky State Fair. At last year's Kentucky State Fair, Boone County 4-H members were awarded three of the six grand champion ribbons awarded.

Visalia P.T.A. Holds Founder's Day at Recent Meeting

At the recent meeting of the Visalia P. T. A. Founder's Day was observed with Mrs. Roy Cheeseman presenting a book of Pottery to the school library in honor of the Past Presidents. Those present were Mrs. Harold Buxton, Mrs. Howard Frederick, Mrs. Ralph Finnell and Mrs. Wilmer Steinhouser.

Mrs. Bernard Budke, President presided and Rev. Allen Crouch of the Kenton Baptist Church brought the devotion entitled "Beware of Communism The False Prophet."

Guest speaker E. J. Requardt, Principal of the Ryland Heights Elementary School continued on the subject of communism. He told of some of the ways the school systems in Germany and Russia differ from ours. In Germany they are past becoming interested in a P. T. A. program and in Russia the parents show no interest in the school programs and take no part in its activities.

Members of the nominating Committee elected to nominate officers for the 1962-63 season are Mrs. Steve Wrenn, Mrs. Wilmer Steinhouser and Mrs. Jos. Glaza.

Union Light Co. Does Good Job

Finis was written early this week to mop-up operations that restored electric service following the worst ice storm that ever hit facilities of The Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co.

Wary crews of CG&E and Union Light, Heat and Power Company had toiled long and hard since the most damaging ice storm in the 125 year history of the company hit the Greater Cincinnati area. The company's damage ran into thousands of dollars.

Monday morning, 60 hours after first onset of ice hit the 2,600 square mile service area of the company, all service had been restored with the exception of a few widely scattered areas where storm conditions interrupted telephone communications, and had prevented customers notifying the company of electric trouble.

In the field at the height of the battle to repair lines and equipment damaged by ice and falling trees were 550 men, assigned to 100 crews.

POLICE ON CALL ALL DAY IN BOONE, SOON

Work on a 100 foot radio tower atop the Boone County Courthouse, Burlington, is scheduled to start this week, Sheriff Melvin Collins said yesterday.

An 80-foot radio tower already has been completed at Florence Police headquarters on Main Street.

From 4:30 p. m. until 9 a. m. the radio will be operated from the Florence station with the sheriff's office taking over from 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Meeting To Discuss Beef Feeder Calves Set For March 9th

Interest in the production of top-quality beef feeder calves is growing in Kenton County according to Thomas L. Riley, County Agricultural Agent. These 500-700 pound calves of good beef breeding have found many buyers from the large Corn Belt feeders. It was noted that these Corn Belt feeders for a number of years have been driving through Kentucky into Virginia and Tennessee in order to purchase the desired type of feeder calf. Feeder sales in other sections of Kentucky last year indicated that an excellent calf can be produced locally and that there is a ready market for these quality calves.

A meeting to discuss the production of feeder calves has been scheduled for Friday night, March 9. All Kenton County beef cattle producers are urged to attend. The meeting will be held at the Courthouse in Independence beginning at 7:30 p. m. George Pendergrass, extension beef cattle specialist, University of Kentucky, will be the principle speaker.

LITTLE DAMAGE DONE TO PHONE COMPANY

Consolidated Telephone Company had emergency repair crews on duty Friday night, Saturday, and Sunday repairing storm damage. The telephone company reported that because of the good condition of the outside plant, most of the damage was to individual drop wires broken by falling trees. By noon Sunday, all telephones were working. Because of the good condition of the lines, the storm expense was limited to about $1,000.

ANNUAL DINNER SET

Consolidated Telephone Company held its Annual Safety dinner at Southern Trails Restaurant on Tuesday evening. Safe driving words were presented to 19 regular drivers. The company has kept records for 8 years and two men, John Huff and Bill Moore received 8 year awards. Company vehicles were driven over 86,000 miles in 1961 with only one accident. This was the first accident in over 2 years. There were no lost-time personal injury accidents during the year. After safety discussions and presentation of awards the 1961 World Series film was shown.

S. M. Hamill, Jr., CG&E vice president, in describing the ice storm as "the worst in the history of our company," said at one time 80,000 customers, or 20 percent of the company's total, were without electric service.

"Wherever there were wooded areas or tree-lined streets, there was electric trouble," Mr. Hamill added.

At one time more than 3,000 wires were down as a result of fallen trees and ice snapping lines.

"Our electric crews, which worked around the clock from Friday night to Monday morning are tired and weary but they met the challenge admirably," Mr. Hamill said. "The patience and courtesy our customers showed our crews is appreciated very much."

Spring-like weather Sunday brought relief to most Greater Cincinnati and the areas crippled by the ice, but played havoc with clean-up work of the electric crews.

AMONG NEW STUDENTS ENROLLED AT U. K.

A Boone County student is among the 332 new students enrolled at the University of Kentucky for the spring semester.

Enrollment for the spring semester at UK shows an increase of 830, about nine per cent more than the enrollment figure for the 1961 spring term. Total enrollment for the current semester is 9,993.

Robert Cather Luce is the Boone County student.

LITERARY CLUB TO MEET

Mrs. Walter Robinson will be hostess to the Walton Woman's Literary Club on Wednesday March 7th, at the Southern Trails Restaurant, Florence.

Mrs. Walter Hon will have charge of the program, and she requests that each member bring a piece of old glass.

Kenton County Farm Bureau Announces Membership Drive

Plans have been announced for one of the most intensive membership drives for Farm Bureau ever held in this county, according to Joe Neumeister, who is chairman of the Kenton County Farm Membership Committee.

The drive will get underway here on March 5th, with a kick-off meeting scheduled for 8 p. m. at the Independence Court House. Some 25 membership drive workers have been invited to this meeting to receive their instructions for the campaign.

The official quota for this county has been set at 283 for 1962, but local Farm Bureau leaders have indicated they will not be satisfied with reaching this figure. Says Joe Neumeister: "We feel we will have no trouble at all in reaching the state quota; but we will not be satisfied with that. We intend to reach at least the total we reached in 1961, and fully expect to show a gain over that."

Farm Bureau membership dues continue at $10 a year and, according to Joe Neumeister, represent a better buy than ever before. He notes that many new services have been added in the county and cites the new Tractor Death Policy and Home Discussion programs as examples of progress on the state level.

Frank Jackson, president of the local Farm Bureau, has asked all farm people in this county to respond to the membership drive. Says Frank Jackson: "We want to give every rural and farm family a chance to be a part of Farm Bureau. We are out to create the strongest and most effective organization we have ever had, and we know that farmers need an organization to speak and act for them more than ever."

As most everyone knows the Wa-Na Club is a member of the Kentucky Federation of Woman's Clubs and the General Federation of Woman's Clubs whose headquarters is located in Washington D. C. Our interests are local, state, national and inter-national activities. Our main project has been the organization and sponsoring of the Kindergarten located at the Baptist Church. We are most fortunate in having Mrs. James Webster as our teacher. One of our more recent projects has been the Scholarship Fund. A check given the outstanding Senior in the field of Science or Math. This year the Club is setting aside $100. for the Scholarship.

We sincerely hope that all of you will make an effort to come and see our preview of the Spring Styles. Tickets may be purchased from any club member or at Cliff Ryan's. Besides being able to see the new fashions everyone will have an opportunity to receive one of the five door prizes to be given. At the close of the show refreshments will be served.

Don't forget the date, time and place—Monday, March 5, 8 p. m. at the Walton School. We'll be looking for you, your family and friends.

Let's make it a date right now.

No Stealing

Lesson for March 4, 1962

"THIEF" is a bad word. No-body wants to be called one. Even a thief himself will complain about other thieves. "I've been robbed!" is a common complaint uttered by those who habitually rob others. To be sure, there are twisted minds, busy in devising dishonest schemes, and proud of their success when they do work.

Dr. Foreman But then there are twisted minds clever in all ways of crime and sin. What we can call normal people don't like to be called thieves. It is a fatal objection to a man that he is dishonest. Nothing else makes up for the lack of honesty. "He is a generous, hard-working man—but you have to watch him every minute." "He's a pleasant gentleman, but don't have any business dealings with him." Those are not "recommendations" any of us would enjoy over-hearing about ourselves.

But are we honest?

Nevertheless, such is the strange nature of the self-deceiving human mind, that it is easy to "kid" ourselves into thinking we are more honest than we really are. One way we deceive ourselves is by taking refuge in what is undeniably a fact: It does make a difference where the money is taken from. It is worse to take money from a child than from a man big enough to fight; it is worse to take money from a poor man than from a rich one. Of course; but stealing is still stealing; even if not all forms of stealing are equally bad, all forms are bad. It is not true, for example, that if the person from whom we withhold what is their rightful due is rich enough, maybe not a person at all but a corporation or a government, then it's all right to do them for all we can get by with. Jesus on one occasion gave a strong hint to the Pharisees that they were cheating the Roman government by not paying taxes. Saint Paul (Romans 13:7) found it necessary to instruct his fellow-Romans to pay their taxes. One of the commonest forms of theft in America is beating the government out of tax money. Business firms would even make a joke of it; expense accounts were known as "swindle sheets."

Another common form of stealing is to take money from people who are helpless. To be sure, few grown Americans would actually take money from a child; but some Americans have slow and creaky consciences when it comes to taking advantage of their position by charging much too much. Those price-fixing cases we all read about were like that. A city would have to pay enormous sums for electrical equipment, because the bids were "rigged" and not competitive. A landlord will charge exorbitant rent for his property, all because he knows the tenant has nowhere to go. A union will charge its members, or a surgeon his patients, or a plumber his customers, with a bill that is all out of reason; just because the workman or patient or customer has no choice but to pay.

In good cause

The incident of the money-changers in the Temple (Mark 11:15-19) illustrates two forms of stealing at once. The temple taxes had to be paid in a special currency. These money-men would exchange (say) Roman money into temple money, charging a very high fee for the service. Now they were cheating the public on sacred premises; but stealing is stealing no matter where it's done. In America uncounted sums are lost every year in gambling devices in certain church "festivals" and "picnics" and the like, not to mention double-priced white elephants at church bazaars. It's all for a good cause, we are told, and even prominent public leaders set a bad example of gambling even if it is for the benefit of a cancer fund or some charitable organization. But it's still stealing, more is lost than won. Or to take a different example: How many churches pay their janitors and other servants even the minimum standard wages? A church has no more right to underpay employees than any individual has. Keeping what belongs to people out of their hands is still stealing.

THE PROOF OF PRAYER

Ask—and it shall be given you. Seek—and ye shall find. Knock—and it shall be opened unto you.

The promise of Jesus is all the proof a child asks. But, knowing that we grownups are often more inclined to skepticism than faith, Christ continues:

What man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread, will give him a stone — or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent?

And while the multitude pondered the implication of these challenges, the Lord offered his conclusion . . . so simple as to appear obvious . . . so profound as to convince all but an atheist:

If ye, then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children — how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask Him!

But His real proof you'll find in the experience of prayer . . . in your church . . . in your home . . . in the sacred quiet moments of every day.

Copyright 1962, Keister Ad. Service, Inc., Strasburg, Va.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Goshen Church News

The boys played Grants Lick again Saturday and lost another basketball game, but did show improvement. Let's all come out and play basketball for your church boys.

Several attended the Youth Rally at Erlanger Christian Church Sunday and enjoyed the message brought by Bro. Al Morgan of Taylor Mill Church. Next Rally will be at Taylor Mill.

Quite a few attended the Skating Party given the young people of the church by the Missionary. It was held at the Walton Roller Rink and all had a grand time, especially Donald Glenn and Albert Denton.

We have a new minister, Bro. Ernest Mastin. Our attendance is lagging due to so much sickness. Sunday showed a great improvement, so let's all come out for both morning and evening services and remember our youth hour is at 7:30 p. m.

2,296,000 4-H Girls and Boys Saluted During Club Week

Kentucky and the nation will salute the 2,296,000 4-H Club boys and girls in the U. S. next week. National 4-H Club Week will be observed March 3-10 by 4-H'ers in all 50 states and Puerto Rico, by 4-H adult volunteer leaders, and by friends of 4-H Club work, according to George D. Corder, chairman of UK Extension 4-H programs.

Kentucky's 4-H members belong to about 2,500 local clubs in both rural and urban areas, he says. Last year, the state's 4-H membership totaled 84,218 boys and girls. These young people will share honors next week in over 13,500 adult local leaders who volunteer their time to help with the 4-H program.

What do 4-H members do? They carry on many different projects in farming, homemaking, personal development, community service, and other activities. They apply the latest research information in these areas, learning "why" as well as "how" in what they do. They gain poise and self-confidence through such 4-H activities as demonstrations and public speaking. They take part in recreation as well as hard work. Good citizenship leadership and character development are the major goals of the 4-H program.

Once thought of as an organization for farm youth only, 4-H now offers project work and activities of interest to any boy or girl, Corder points out. Of Kentucky's 4-H members, only 54 percent are mem-

Miss Weitlauf

Miss Bean

Miss Isaacs

An honor roll student with a talent for baking and homemaking came out a solo winner of the 1961 Kentucky 4-H bread demonstration program. She is Betty Jo Weitlauf, 18, daughter of the Cecil Weitlaufs of Paducah, who has been a 4-H'er for eight years. Evidence of her excellence in demonstrating basic sweet dough is a $50 U. S. savings bond from Standard Brands Incorporated.

Miss Weitlauf has a capacity for doing many things well as her 4-H career indicates. She is a junior leader and her many other 4-H successes made her the choice of the Cooperative Extension Service, which conducts 4-H work.

Two other Kentucky girls also are recipients of $50 bonds. They are Daisy Bernice Isaacs and Anne Bean, who won baking demonstration awards for their plain and varied refrigerator rolls. Their awards also came from Standard Brands.

A daughter of Everett Isaacs of Campbellsville, Miss Isaacs, 17, has spent eight years in 4-H work. In that time she has completed projects in corn, rabbits, gardening, dairy and food preparation of all kinds.

She has been president of her club the last two years, is an ardent 4-H camper, and has been busy in high school activities.

Miss Bean, 18, a daughter of the Walter Beans of Maysville, in eight years has become proficient in dressmaking, housekeeping, cooking and, more recently, bread baking and demonstrating. She participates in all activities of her 4-H Club and is a junior leader. This past summer she gave much effort to safety in home and community.

Driver Licensing Reports Fewer Auto Licensed During '61

The Division of Driver Licensing of the Kentucky Department of Safety has reported that 19,947 fewer licenses were issued in Kentucky in 1961 than in 1960.

According to Division Director Don Sullivan, there were 1,215,392 licensed drivers in 1960, but only 1,195,445 in 1961.

Sullivan said the drop in number of Kentucky licensed drivers means that many drivers have failed to renew their licenses or have moved from the state.

Applicants for the Kentucky operator's license can renew either during their birth month or the month preceding.

"For example," Sullivan said, "if a person's operator's license in 1962, and his birth month is March, he can renew in February or in March. However, the day after his birthday he does not legally possess an operator's license and therefore can be charged with having, no license if he is asked for it," he added.

DONATORS WANTED

It has come to my attention, that we have an elderly Boone Countian, who needs our help.

This elder, who is nearing his 79th birthday, has had a steak of bad luck last year, and is now suffering from the effects of it.

His name is William Hall Sr., Box 79A, Walton, Ky. He is one of these older folks that you would love to talk to, and once you meet him you'll never forget him.

He knows race horses like clock work. He can tell you what Churchill Downs is made of, or how many times Whirlaway won a race, or better yet, he can tell you who won the Kentucky Derby in '34.

Well, back in April 25, 1961, Mr. Hall stepped out of a car into a hole, turned his ankle and fell. He broke his back. As a result of this he now has a $991.00 bill at St. Luke Hospital, Fort Thomas, Ky.

Now, since most of this paper's readers know me as a whitewash man or barn roof painter, I am asking each and everyone of you to help in this program. Just a trifle donation would be helpful, but please donate. Just 50c from each county residence would be sufficient to cover this bill. If you can afford more, send it. It's for a good cause.

If there so happens to be an overage, I will donate it to the County Infirmary with all the donors names.

You can contact me at 485-7277 any morning from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. Send your donations to me

Mrs. George Kelly has gone to stay with her daughter, Mrs. Eva Weldon, for a few days. Eva had a baby girl last week and Mrs. Kelly was anxious to meet her new granddaughter.

Little Russell Cameron Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kelly, put in his first appearance at church last Sunday, at the age of 4 weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Judson Dorman visited Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Dorman on Sunday.

We are glad to hear that Mr. Estill Webster is much improved after his serious bout with the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wiley of Lexington, Ky. visited Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Thompson for the weekend.

We were sorry to hear that little Hershel Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Campbell of Plantation Heights, fell and broke his collar bone Thursday night.

The ice storm did quite a bit of damage in the Taylor Mill Area. The electricity in Plantation Heights was off from 9 p. m. Friday until after 6 a. m. Saturday. The beautiful birch trees in Hershel Souder's front yard were ruined, the ice broke the tops out of them. Several large branches temporarily blocked roads. The weeping willows and elm trees seemed to be the most seriously damaged by the ice.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harris have a new car.

The weatherman cooperated with those who worked for the Heart Fund on Heart Sunday. The day was sunny and warm, and we understand the drive was quite successful.

The ice storm brought out the improvement in the phone service in our area. The new heavy duty cables were not hurt by the ice, and the only people without phone service were those who had tree limbs fall across the lines into their house, so only individual service was effected, not the service to whole areas, which would have been the case a few years ago.

KENTUCKIANS

Doing Well:

Every time a hot issue is debated before Congress, a lot of important information pours forth. Therefore, we offer some facts and figures on Kentucky's collegiate population.

First off, Kentucky last year had the greatest increase in money spent for higher education. The sum increased 64 per cent over the prior year. New York ranked second with a 48 per cent increase. Hawaii was third, 46 per cent.

Number Of Students:

Kentucky, so congressmen were told, has 51,784 enrolled in various colleges and universities, all seeking a degree. This figure, we might add, does not include those citizens who are enrolled in adult education class and the like.

Kentuckians also are doing right well as far as scholarships are concerned. More than 4100 were passed out last year. However, the Kentucky scholarship was not as big as those available in other states.

A Darker Side:

The picture is not all bright. For example, in other states more college age students are enrolled in universities than in Kentucky. Matter of fact, we are out ranked 3 to, 2 across the nation.

By the same token, other states are spending more than Kentucky, $147 to $86. That's one reason the recent increase in appropriation looked so good. We came up from nowhere to a pretty fair standing.

Asking Congress:

The Kentucky General Assembly on several occasions this year passed resolutions asking Congress to do this and so, change laws here, repeal a law there, and so on.

Now, however, comes a resolution from another state. It urged congress to play fair and adopt a resolution asking the states to change a law here, repeal a law there, and so on. It's only fair play, the resolution declared.

PLAN your work to save precious time and energy. There are many shortcuts here which will pay dividends in morale.

First of all wear comfortable clothes and shoes as you work at home. Don't forget that touch of make-up and a dab of cologne in the morning are miracle workers in getting you started bright and early.

Alternate the sitting and standing tasks so neither get fatiguing. A bit of head work in this depart-

THIS WEEK'S RECIPE

Quick Nut Crisps

(Makes 6 dozen)

1½ cups sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1 cup brown sugar
¾ cup nutsmeats, coarsely chopped
½ cup corn oil
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift together flour and sugar. Beat eggs until thick and lemon-colored. Gradually beat in sugar, then add nuts, oil, vanilla and flour. Drop by teaspoons on a greased sheet, placing a half nutmeat on top of each. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 12 to 15 minutes.

Plan menus and marketing in advance, keeping a list of things to be replaced before you run out. One or two trips to the grocery should be enough in one week.

You can relax in three to five minutes if stretched flat on the floor with feet propped a bit upwards. Two or three times a day of this and you can feel more like doing your work.

Use precaution to save clean up. Have a bag handy when peeling, tie a paper bag to grinder to catch crumbs or place waxed paper over bowl with a hole in the center for the beater to prevent splashing.

The color of your house determines how often it needs to be painted, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Good house paint, if it's white, lasts at least 4 or 5 years before it needs renewing; tinted paints, 5 or 6 years; dark-colored paints, 6 to 8 years.

Kenton Baptist Ruth Class

The February meeting of the Ruth Class of the Kenton Baptist Church was held at the home of Mrs. Violet Barnes on Feb. 20th. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Eva Mae Covey. Scripture was read by Mrs. Margaret McCloire.

Those attending were: Mrs. Violet Barnes, Mrs. Eva Mae Covey, Mrs. Garnet Stephenson, Mrs. Frances

Riggs, Mrs. Jennie Sharp, Mrs. Catherine Roden, Mrs. Zella Steeley, Mrs. Irene Grizzelle, Mrs. Bernadine Crauch, Mrs. Mary Brown, Mrs. Mary C. Cheeseman, Mrs. Iva Baker, Mrs. Geneva Trapp, Mrs. Loretta Richardson, Mrs. Juanita Casey and three visitors.

The meeting was closed by prayer by Mrs. Bernadine Crauch. Refreshments with birthday cake were enjoyed by all.

The Recommended Alfalfa Varieties Are Maintaining Standard

Kentucky's recommended alfalfa varieties differed very little among themselves, with one exception in yield or stand during a six-year test.

That's the statement of William Stroube, UK Ag Experiment Station agronomist. He reported this week at the end of the six-year trials.

The one exception, he said, was Du Puits, a French variety. Du Puits maintained its stand well for three to four years of the six-year test, then faded out gradually. The other varieties at the end of the six-year test still were in a good stand.

Among the recommended varieties, Narragansett, Vernal and Buffalo all yielded about the same, about 4 tons of hay an acre each year. Atlantic, Ranger and Williamsburg, the other recommended varieties, averaged about 3.75 tons of hay each year.

Du Puits' yield for the six years averaged a little less than 4 tons hay an acre, Strobe said. But, in the last two years, it dropped to an average of two tons of hay an acre, compared to about three tons an acre each year average for the recommended varieties.

Strobe said he started another test last year (and has harvested it one year) of the recommended varieties, some new varieties and a number of experimental lines. Yields in general the first year were "quite high," he said, from 4 to 6 tons of hay an acre. But, he emphasized, one-year testing is not considered a fair test; thus these varieties and lines will be tested several more years to see what differences between the varieties develop.

There is no change this year in the recommended varieties. They are Vernal, Atlantic, Narragansett, Buffalo, Ranger, DuPuits and Williamsburg.

National 4-H Club Week will be observed March 3-10. More than 2,296,000 boys and girls, 10 to 21 years old, belong to about 93,000 local 4-H Clubs in all 50 states and Puerto Rico. In Kentucky, about 84,000 youth belong to some 2,500 clubs throughout the state.

"Devices for Better Storage, with the use of inserting drawer dividers or the use of small boxes," was the information given to the Beechgrove Homemakers during the February meeting by Mrs. William Endres and Mrs. Faye Powers, which met at the home of Mrs. Roger Robinson with Mrs. Howard Clark as co-hostess.

Suggestions were given on how to brighten a room, by Mrs. Gus Schadler, namely, to place branches cut from pussy willow and forsythia in water and blooms will appear in about ten days.

"Nation of Sheep" by William Letterer was a book report given by Mrs. Faye Powers about the reaction of the people of our nation and the dangers facing us to-day. Mrs. Frank Aftergick followed with "The Golden Witch" by Zola Ross, telling about the life and hardships that faced the people in Seattle, Washington in the pioneer days, and a film, "The Origin of the Organ" was presented by Mr. Al Nanna of Cincinnati.

Members present other than the above mentioned were: Mrs. R. R. Quick, president; Mrs. Virgil Kelly, Mrs. Walter Reidlin, Mrs. William Wolsing, Mrs. Raymond McHale, Mrs. Raymond Dixon, Mrs. Stanley Parker, Mrs. Ray Kumler, Mrs. William Clinkenbeard, Mrs. Louis Lee, Mrs. Verner Stephens, Mrs. Ralph DeWald and Mrs. Paul Nolte.

A poem composed by Mrs. Gregory Barnblage was read by Mrs. Ray Kumler. Mrs. Barnblage has been ill and was unable to attend the meeting.

Home Economics Teachers Meet At Carrollton Recently

Mrs. Gayle McElroy from the Simon Kenton High School recently attended a Regional Conference for Home Economics teachers at Carrollton High School. Mrs. McElroy is president of the N. Ky. District this year and she presided at the morning session.

Also attending the conference from Boone and Kenton Counties were Mrs. Evelyn Ensor of Lloyd, 1st Vice President of the district; Ann Scott Giles of Dixie Heights, June Goodridge of Boone County, and Barbara Maloney of Ludlow.

Mrs. Gayle McElroy

The primary purpose of this conference was to help home economics teachers and administrators get a better understanding of the summer employment phase of a vocational home economics program.

Vocational Home Economics teachers in local counties are employed from one to three months beyond the regular school term. The purpose of this period of employment are: to follow up instruction; to plan and initiate the various phases of the instructional program; to become acquainted with the homes and families of students and prospective students; and to bring about a better understanding of the home economics program.

This conference was conducted by a team of Home Economics Education staff members of the State Department of Education, Frankfort. Those attending were Sara Tobb, Jewell Dean Ellis, Jane Melton and Mary Bell Vaughan, Assistant Director of Home Economics.

Following the morning session, a short business meeting of the N. Ky. District was held. The group decided to have Clothing Workshop at Lloyd High School on March 30 and 31st. The Spring District meeting of this group will be at the White House Restaurant on Tuesday, March 27th.

Some Veterans Did Not Get Checks; Information Needed

About 2,000 Kentucky veterans and dependents of deceased veterans did not receive their pension checks at the end of February, according to Olney B. Owen, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office, Louisville, Kentucky. These checks were suspended until that office receives an annual income questionnaire on 1961 income and expected income for 1962 from those veterans or dependents. Questionnaire cards for making these reports were enclosed in envelopes containing December pension checks.

In some of the suspended accounts the questionnaire cards have been returned but additional information or evidence that has been requested by letter has not been received, Owen added. Pension payments in many of these cases may be resumed when the additional information is received.

This year, an additional penalty has been added for failing to make an income report, Owen stated. In such cases, the Veterans Administration is now required to create and overpayment of all pension paid since January 1, 1961. In prior years only the payment of pension was stopped.

Owen emphasized that the completed questionnaire cards, requesting clarifying information or supporting evidence, should be returned promptly to the VA Regional Office, 1405 West Broadway, Louisville 3, Kentucky.

Sara Dean Anderson Letter Gives Insight To Germany Living

Mr. and Mrs. Evan Hance have received a letter from their daughter Sara Dean, who is living in Germany while her husband SP-4 George J. Anderson is serving in the Armed Forces, describing an interesting trip that they had recently.

George is a member of the basketball team of the 14th Artillery located in the Nuremberg Area. The team and their wives enjoyed a four day trip to Garmisch, 180 miles to the southeastern border of Germany. Garmisch, a winter resort and home of the Winter Olympics is completely surrounded by snow covered mountains, the German Alps, a chain of mountains along the border separating Germany and Austria.

The highlight of the trip, besides winning the basketball game, were an ice show at the Casa Caricoca, snow skiing and ice skating at Lake Eibsee. The lake was completely frozen over and another sport seen there was ice curling. Casa Caricoca's ice floor was covered with a dance floor, tables around it, and it was transformed into a sort of theatre. The chairs and floor were covered in red velvet. The skiing outfit complete for a day could be rented for $1.00 and ice skates for half a day for 25 cents.

They visited an ancient church with the Saint Benedict and Saint Christopher and other saints kept in their original coffins. The Benedictine Monastery with beautiful hand painting on the walls is 600 years old. Many of the quaint houses in the Alpin country have hand painting on the outside.

George is in the field taking part in maneuvers at Graf until the middle of March.

DEADLINE FOR AUTO LICENSES EXTENDED

Gov. Bert Combs has extended the deadline for licensing and registration of motor vehicles to midnight March 31. Because of floods in Eastern and Western Kentucky, the Governor said, many Kentuckians were unable to get to their county clerk's offices to renew their tags by midnight March 1, the legal deadline.

Eleven Fatalities In Boone County Were Reported In 1961

Eleven fatalities were reported in 1961 traffic accidents in Boone County. In all, 722 persons lost their lives on Kentucky highways last year, reports the Kentucky Department of Public Safety, the best record since 1950, when 678 died in traffic mishaps.

"This record was attained despite the fact that there are twice as many cars and almost as many licensed drivers in Kentucky highways as there were 11 years ago," said Public Safety Commissioner Glen Lovern.

Lovern credited various factors in the reduced highway death toll. Foremost was the increased activity by news and advertising media on behalf of traffic safety. Increased law enforcement, better roads and more limited access highways were also important factors, he said.

"Despite this fine record of improvement," Lovern said, "an early 1962 weekend produced 14 traffic fatalities on Kentucky streets and highways. This grim reminder only serves as a warning that we cannot relax our vigil in any area that may produce increased traffic safety in Kentucky."

Public Health Nurses Are Community Co-Workers In County

Mrs. Mary Cress and Mrs. Helen Blank, the public health nurses for the Boone County Health Department, Florence, Kentucky, are a community resource working side by side with your physicians, educators, and civic leaders in helping you to live a happier, healthier life.

The public health nurses are vital to your county health program, for they carry the department's health services directly to the citizens.

You may meet them at civic meetings, at school, in prenatal and parents' classes, in clinics, or even in your own home. The variety of services in their job include prenatal and infant care, school health, tuberculosis and communicable disease control, sanitation, heart and other chronic disease treatments, mental health, mental retardation, and possibly home care and nutrition.

The public health nurses are always in the front lines in the battle against communicable diseases, such as tuberculosis, venereal disease, hepatitis, small pox, polio, and diphtheria. In this work, they assist in case finding, the programs of protective immunization and encourage reporting of cases. In addition they frequently visit homes and schools where communicable diseases have been reported and teaches precautionary measures, home care or encourages chest x-rays for those exposed to tuberculosis.

Their job also involves public health education. When immunizing a child, they discuss with the parents when booster shots should be given and why they are necessary. In clinics they may give nutrition information or stress proper dental care.

Your public health nurse helps you to help yourself. It might be a good idea to visit your local health department and get acquainted with them and the public health problems the face daily.

Someday you might need their help.

FEED GRAIN PROGRAM REGULATIONS LISTED

What will participation in the 1962 feed grain program mean to farmers who grow 25 acres or less of corn and grain sorghum?

Farmers can divert the entire acreage to soil conserving crops and get a payment based on 50 to 60 percent of the normal yield for the farm. To participate in the program they must divert 20 percent of their base acreage.

For example, the farmer who grows 18 acres would have a minimum diversion of 3-6 acres and a maximum of the total 18 acres.

Farmers who grow between 25 and 100 acres will have a minimum diversion of 20 percent and a maximum of 20 acres plus 20 percent of the base acreage.

Keen apples cool when you bring them home from the store. Apples placed on the table for decoration warm up and become mealy in a very short time. Most apples now on sale have been in cold storage for some time and lose quality rapidly if kept in a warm room. For better-tasting apples, put them in your refrigerator as soon as you get them home; this will keep them cool, crisp and in good condition until you want to use them.

What Burley Variety Is Best For This Year Given by Co. Agent

What burley variety will be best for me this year? That is what many of the Boone County tobacco growers are asking, according to Joe Claxton, County Agent.

Depends on disease problems, says G. W. Stokes and C. C. Litton, UK Ag Experiment Station pathologists. The many available varieties usually have different disease-resistances.

First: No one burley variety is resistant to the five major tobacco diseases: Black root rot, fusarium wilt, wildfire, black shank and tobacco mosaic.

Second: The varieties Ky 16, KY 41A, KY 26, KY 57, KY 58, Burley 1 and Burley 2 are obsolete and should not be grown except on disease-free land.

Y10 or KY 9 are best for resistance to black rot. Burley 21 is the most resistant to wildfire. Burley 37 is useful in black shank areas, as are Burley 11A and Burley 11B; Burley 37 also carries resistance to wildfire and is a better type. KY 35 variety still is useful in some fusarium wilt areas. Burley 21, KY 9, KY 10 and KY 35 are resistant to tobacco mosaic.

The pathologists recommend the stick-row test for a farmer trying to decide the best variety for his land. At setting time, the variety to be tested is set in paired rows (the setter down and back one time). This is repeated at several locations in the field. This permits "critical observation and comparison" throughout the growing season.

At harvest time, sticks (ends of which have been dipped in distinctive-color paint) are used in the "try-out" tobacco rows.

Grapefruit, a good buy right now, is a perky eye-opener to start the day. And homemakers are using grapefruit more and more as round-the-clock fare. USDA suggests dressing up grapefruit for a family dessert. Gently

Why Be Truthful?

Lesson for March 11, 1962

SOME people can't "see" Christianity at all. Others can see some parts of it. Hot arguments go on among the experts: Is the Christian religion something so

Dr. Foreman

special and different that a non-Christian cannot understand it at all, or is there some point of contact, something which doesn't call for a special revelation before a man can see it?

Nothing that is not true

The main difference between the ordinary understanding of truth and the Christian understanding of it, is in the very thorough-going understanding of what truth means, which high-grade Christians have. We shall look at only a few points. First, we believe that truth is not truth when it is mixed with falsehood.
It's like passing a glass of mixed water and carboic acid to a visitor and telling him, "I have a glass of water." It is water, true enough; but not all of it. The word "water" is a true word for half of what is in the glass, a fatally false word for the rest of it. Perhaps the most dangerous form of untruth is a mixture of truth and falsehood; for the part-truth makes people think the whole thing is truth. They will take the lie-and-truth much more easily than a lie alone.

Not everything that is true

Second, while it is not ever right to tell a lie (unless, some would say, there is no other way to save a life), it is not by any means always right to tell all the truth. At a funeral, if some kind words are being said about the deceased, it would be the height of ungraciousness to dredge up all the sins and failings in his record.
If you have to write a recommendation it is only right to be perfectly truthful in giving your opinion of the applicant for the job. To recommend a person (however kind your motive) about whom you have some serious doubt, is no real help to any one.
On the other hand if you know of some discreditable incident which has nothing whatever to do with Mr. X's fitness for this particular job, it is hardly right to tell it just because it happens to be the truth.

Not just because it's true

If it's true, then tell it, is a poor rule. That's what is wrong with gossip even when the gossip is factually true. Truth can be told with bad intentions, with malice and resentment. There is an "eleventh commandment" alongside the famous ten: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. "Is it true?" is by all means one question to ask about anything you want to say. If it isn't true, don't by any means tell it. But if it is true, there are other tests: Is it kind? Is it helpful? Is it the kind of thing you would want others to say and spread around about yourself?

In the Image of God

The Christian motive for truthfulness is unique. Not that other motives are wrong. It is good to tell the truth because people depend on you if you do. It is good to tell the truth for its own sake.
It is good to tell the truth because that way you never get caught in a network of lies it is hard to wiggle out of. Yes, yes. But the high Christian reason for being truthful is that we are sons and daughters of the God of truth. Two things we should always remember. One is that when God forgives sins, he "remembers them no more;" and when we forgive others, we should do the same, never dragging out of the past what we claim to have forgiven.
The other thing is that we simply cannot deceive God. We can put on a false front for other people, but never for God. The God of truth knows the whole truth—about us.

The lion that can roar the loudest and bite the hardest usually gets what he wants.

That's the way it is in the animal kingdom, and sometimes the system creeps into man's world too!

Most of us have too much RELIGIOUS AWARENESS to believe that such a system is the best one. We would rather live in a world in which kindness and peace and unselfishness were the rule.

Our Churches can help us build such a world.
They can turn our religious awareness into SPIRITUAL GROWTH.

On Sunday morning, the man in the armchair knows just as well as the man in the pew what is wrong with the world. But the man in the pew will be busy doing something about it!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values.
Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1)
For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4)
For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Independence Homemakers Hold February Meeting

"A place for everything and everything in its place, encourages better work in less time, and with less effort," was the theme of the lesson on Household Storage, given by Mrs. Charles Davis Sr., President, to members of the Independence Homemakers Club, at her home on Apple Drive, Independence, at their regular February meeting.

What to store and where to store it, the types of closets, desirable features, their measurements, locations and their accessories, also, devices for better storage in dresser drawers and closets, were the highlights of the lesson, making those present, storage conscious.

A recording furnished by the Kenton county Extension Service, of the University of Ky. Agriculture and Home Economics Dept. gave many helpful facts on laundry bleaches and detergents, and their proper use in the care of materials, during the washing and cleaning of the family clothing.

The Devotional was given by Mrs. Lloyd Martin, Reading Chairman.

National P.T.A. Reaches 65th Birthday With Glance Back, Plans for Future

An organization that devotes itself to children and their welfare reaches senior citizen status this February, with a scheduled full of further projects in behalf of children for the years ahead.

The National Congress of Parents and Teachers celebrates its 65th birthday on February 17, the anniversary of the "National Congress of Mothers" held in Washington, D. C., in 1897.

This session marked the beginning of the P.T.A. Its founding, by Alice McLellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst, will be observed this year by more than 47,500 parent-teacher associations throughout the U.S. and in communities of Americans living overseas.

Mrs. Clifford N. Jenkins, of Roslyn Heights, L.I., N.Y., president of the National Congress, calls the P.T.A. "a great social invention."

Like other inventions, she notes in her Founders Day anniversary message, "it was created out of need—the need of parents for more knowledge about children's health, growth, and development; the need for child labor laws and juvenile courts; the need for health and recreation facilities; the need to build broad highways of educational and vocational opportunities that might be traveled by all children and youth, not just the fortunate few."

Historic-minded P.T.A.'s across the country may mark the Founders Day observance with a glance back to the time of the first Congress. In the words of one historian for the National Congress, those were days "bustling with progress and growth..." but with educators "calling for increased appropriations to the public schools, more attention to teacher training, more practical curriculum, and greater consideration for handicapped children..." The time was ripe for reform—"especially for launching a movement directed toward the welfare of children."

Young Mrs. Birney and the philanthropic Mrs. Hearst sparked what was soon to become a nation-wide organization of which they are memorialized as Founders.

—Since that time, P.T.A.'s have continually directed their efforts toward:

- Establishing and supporting public kindergartens;
- Pioneering hot school lunch programs and supporting adequate appropriations for them;
- Conducting parent-education workshops in all parts of the nation;
- Sponsoring safety legislation and programs of home and traffic safety education;

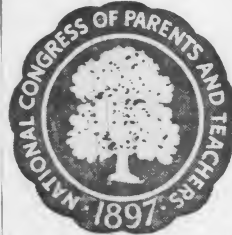

—Urging regular physical examinations for millions of children from birth through high school;

—Raising the standards of treatment for youthful offenders and helping establish juvenile courts for minors;

—Donating millions of dollars in scholarships for prospective teachers.

Large as such achievements may loom, Mrs. Jenkins points out that "much remains to be done for children, in this changing world of 1962."

"Through the P.T.A.," she says "we help alleviate the hardships and confusion that result from change, and we help to establish services to meet new needs."

Oak tree emblem adopted in 1922 represents relationship of members, local units, and state branches to parent trunk of National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The new Ann Holiday Center of Union Light, Heat and Power Company has opened in downtown Covington.

And it represents Northern Kentucky's most complete arrangement of homemaking facilities, including appliances, furnishings and wiring and lighting fixtures.

Located in ULH&P's main office at Seventh and Scott Streets, the new home service center opened Feb. 27 with a special ceremony attended by city officials and members of the press.

Directing the tour of the new facilities was Miss Stella M. Fetzter, supervisor of the Residential Sales Division, ULH&P and Cincinnati Gas and Electric Company.

Staffing the new center will be Mrs. Helen J. Van Huss, who will be in charge of the home lighting and wiring section, assisted by Miss Joan Ossenbeck. Miss Virginia Crawford will direct the home service section.

Mrs. Van Huss lives at 4027 Dixie Highway, Erlanger. Miss Crawford lives at 1930 N. Ft. Thomas Avenue, Ft. Thomas, and Miss Ossenbeck at 523 Oak Street, Ludlow.

Miss Crawford has directed the company's home service activities in Northern Kentucky for several years and will continue in that capacity,
Miss Fetzter said.

The center has been constructed principally to attract club groups, youth groups, or individuals to the center for home-making programs.
During these discussions and demonstration periods, special emphasis will be placed on the use and care of modern gas and electric appliances.
New residential lighting and wiring trends also be dramatized. Upon request, the staff will visit customer's homes where advice can be given on specific problems.

The staff will work with the builder, architect, electrical contractor and the prospective home owner in helping them lay out a complete wiring and lighting plan on blueprints to insure adequate, convenient use of both appliances and lighting.

The center is equipped with the most modern appliances and for the display kitchen includes an electric range, portable dishwasher, disposal unit, and an assortment of rotisseries, hot trays and other outdoor cooking appliances. An automatic washer-dryer combination is also located in the kitchen area.

The kitchen has under-cabinet lighting, recessed light units above work surfaces, drop lights above the sink, and soffit lighting above the various cabinets.

HIGH SCHOOL DIPLOMA

5. The GED test is administered by institutions of higher learning in Kentucky (Villa Madonna College in Northern Kentucky) and institutions of higher learning of other states near the Kentucky border, which have been approved as testing centers.

6. Tests which are administered by United States Armed Service Testing Centers will not be accepted and, therefore, will not be used as a basis for awarding the High School Equivalency Certificate in Kentucky.

7. Results of the GED test given to an applicant will be reported to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction on forms provided by the State Department of Education. This report is to be mailed, regardless of whether the applicant fails or passes.
Should a person fail they would be allowed to retake the test in thirty days. Also they could take all or any one of the five tests.

8. The cost of the test will be paid by the applicant at the time the test is given, the amount to be determined by the individual testing center.

9. The date of the GED test will be determined by the approved testing center. Arrangements for taking the test should be made by contacting the approved testing center.

Many adults are finding that it is more and more important that they have a High School Diploma or its equivalent. It is because of this that this program has been instituted by The State Department of Education.
Any interested and qualified person should contact Eugene Robinson and he will be very happy to supply the necessary forms and help you make application to take these tests.

Deposit-Free Motor Oils Are Now Available

Standard Oil Stations, are now offering Southern motorists a line of revolutionary new motor oils, it was announced today by W. C. Smith, president of Standard Oil Company (Kentucky.)

Sold under the brand name RPM, these new motor oils contain an ash-less detergent that halts engine wear, Smith stated. This detergent leaves no ash deposits; keeps combustion chambers clean and moving parts free of sludge so that engines perform better, last longer and require less maintenance.

"These new RPM oils have been thoroughly road-tested in other marketing areas and millions of miles of customer driving have proved that ashless detergents do a remarkable job of halting engine wear," the Standard spokesman said.

With the introduction of new RPM
Motor Oils, Standard's retail outlets will offer the only complete line of deposit-free oils in the South.

New Barkley Lake is New Addition To Kentucky Lakes

Kentucky, already "lake rich," has added another to her man-made Chain-of-Lakes.

Approximately 25 miles southeast of Paducah, and only four miles from Kentucky Dam, Barkley Dam is rapidly nearing completion.

This massive 7,985 foot log dam, impounding Barkley Lake is being built on the lower side of the Cumberland River, and upon completion, (approx. 1965), Kentucky will add her "third" among the top eleven largest man-made lakes in the world. (Barkley will rank 10th).

Barkley Lake will parallel Kentucky Lake and meander some 118 miles through Kentucky and Tennessee, adding just a little over a hundred miles to this fabulous fishing territory.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"What this country needs is a good five-cent ANYTHING!"

Kentucky can already claim more miles of navigable streams (1,500) than any other state with the exception of Alaska; and this is quite a claim to fame.

With addition of Barkley Dam, the Barkley-Kentucky lake area are expected to become one of the leading vacation-fishing areas in America.

Plan a trip real soon, you'll be glad you did, for this Barkley Dam area is truly beautiful and is just one more milestone down Kentucky's road to becoming the "Vacationland of America!"

Vet Administration Give Totals of All Services During 1961

Veterans Administration cash benefits and other services to Kentucky veterans and their families totaled $119,933,520 during the 1961 fiscal year.

That's $3,341,948 more than in fiscal year 1960, Olney B. Owen, Manager of the VA Regional Office in Louisville, Kentucky, pointed out today in an analysis of VA expenditures reported to Congress this month. Cost of benefits and services increased, he said, although living veterans in the state declined 5,000, from an estimated 362,000 to 357,000, as the fiscal year ended last July.

Death compensation and pension payments to the dependents of 22,504 Kentucky deceased veterans totaled $20,123,230 in fiscal year 1961, Owen said. This is an increase of $2,146,920 over the amount paid in 1960 fiscal year.

Compensation for service-connected disabilities and pensions for permanent and total non-service connected disabilities also increased. A total of $52,988,825 was paid to 58,935 Kentucky living veterans. The preceding year the total was $51,414,109.

The vocational rehabilitation program to help service-connected disabled veterans overcome their handicaps continued to benefit veterans in the state. An average of 110 disabled veterans participated in this program during the year compared with a 1960 average of 152. Cost of this program in 1961 was $182,461 compared with $280,578 in 1960.

An average of 2,380 Korean veterans continued their training and education during fiscal year 1961. The year before, 4,253 such veterans were in training. Cost of the program declined from $5,516,950 in 1960 to $3,219,034. War Orphan education cost $281,983 for 175 trainees against $198,902 a year ago for 128 trainees.

Third largest payment totals during the year were $17,852,638 in certain GI insurance dividend and indemnity payments which were made to veterans or their designated beneficiaries. In 1960, $14,219,549 was expended in this program.

Direct loans to veterans in Ky. totaling $9,420,445 were made in fiscal year 1961, compared to $12,486,695 during the preceding year.

Owen said the remainder of cash benefits, services and other VA expenditures in Kentucky during the year totaled $15,864,904 against $14,498,479 the preceding year.

Included in this were hospitalization; loan guarantee program; automobiles for certain disabled veterans; wheelchair homes for the seriously disabled; administrative costs and miscellaneous benefits.

Owen pointed out that administrative costs for the entire VA were approximately 3 percent of the total $6,504,173,162 expended.

Kenton Farmers Are Showing Interest In Feed Grain Signup

Farmers in Kenton County are showing increased interest in the '62 feed grain program, Russell Rector, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said this week. As of March 8th a total of 49 farms in the County were signed up to take part in the 1962 program through the diversion of about 500 acres from corn and grain sorghum into soil-conserving uses.

Through a comparable period last year (the first five weeks of the signup), 30 Kenton County farms had been signed up under the 1961 feed grain program, for the diversion of 275 acres from 1961 crop and grain sorghum.

From now on, Chairman Rector believes, the office will be increasingly busy explaining the program to farmers and helping them fill out the necessary forms indicating their "intention to participate" in the 1962 feed grain program. Under the program, diversion payments are available to farmers who shift a stated percentage of their acreage formerly planted to corn and grain sorghum into an approved soil-conserving practice. By cooperating in the program, growers also qualify for price supports on their 1962 crops of corn and grain sorghum.

The Chairman urged farmers to get in touch with the ASCS County Office without delay if they wish further information about the 1962 feed grain program. The signup period for the corn and grain sorghum program extends thru March 30. The ASCS County Office is located at the Courthouse in Independence, Kentucky.

Any producer who has not filed a report of acreage on his farm should do so before March 20, 1962 in order to participate and receive payment under the 1962 Feed Grain program.

UK Man Compars Study

European language pupils are better disciplined and are drilled far more intensively than their United States counterparts, according to a study by Dr. A. E. Bigge, head of the University of Kentucky Department of Modern Foreign Languages. In a recent survey by Dr. Bigge of language teachers in Austria, France, Germany, Holland and Norway, many of the instructors attributed poor achievement in American schools' foreign-language programs to the "lack of respect and attention shown American teachers."

Human Hogs

Lesson for March 18, 1962

"COVET" is a word that doesn't sound sinful. It is often used in perfectly respectable connections, as when the King James translation of 1 Cor. 12:31 has

Dr. Foreman Paul saying "Covet earnestly the best gifts." Coveting in the Tenth Commandment, however, does not mean simply to desire. It is not itself a sin to desire to have something. All human effort, indeed human life itself, would grind to a stop if nobody ever wanted anything. It is not a sin to want what someone else has, if he is willing to let you own it and if you pay him a fair price.

What is greed?

Nevertheless greed is a sin, and greed is a simple one-syllable word that means covetousness but sounds ugly too, like what it stands for. If you have ever fed pigs, you must have noticed how they act at the trough. All the hog needs is just get his mouth into it, but that's not enough for him. He wants to put both feet and most of his face into it. He doesn't care what the other hogs do, he's strictly out for his own appetite. It may be unfair to hogs (for this writer has seen cats which were just as greedy as any hog) but the words hog and hogishness are used of human beings sometimes, but never as a compliment!

Now, what is to be greedy? As was said just now, merely wanting something is not necessarily greedy. Greed is wanting more than my share, more than I need. Getting more than one's share, more than one needs, is not greed. The greed comes first; it is wanting gone wild, it is wanting without a particle of love.

"...and I intend to squeeze it!"

A distinguished critic, being asked some years ago to give his philosophy of life, responded, "The world is my orange, and I intend to squeeze it." The man has been converted since then, it is said, but as he was then, he was making as frank a profession of greed as a man could make. He revealed in that one sentence two facts: 1. The greedy man thinks he has a claim to everything in sight, and if he sets his sights high enough he can even think the whole world is his orange. 2. The greedy man lets nothing stand in his way. Police departments all over the world know the connection between greed and murder. More people are killed from motives of greed than from hatred. Greed unchecked runs up like a poison-plant into every kind of crime.

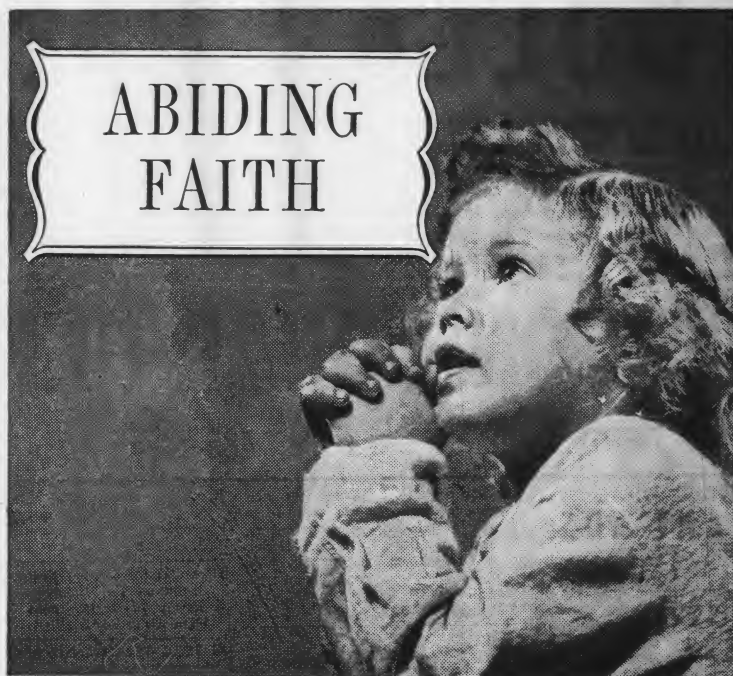

Two kinds of human hog

The human hog comes in two main varieties. One is the plain or backlot variety. What he wants are things, and he can go on piling up things to the day of his death, like the farmer in Jesus' story without giving proper thought to what he can do with what he has, in short with no real reason except to make the pile bigger. Men who get out their money boxes every night and count the coins used to be called misers. It would be hard to find men like that today; but the miser is still with us. Every time there is an election to raise taxes for schools, there are people who will vote NO simply because they have no children and don't want to be taxed to help other peoples' children. Some people collect money, some collect trash; but if you've no plan to spend the money wisely and generously, you might as well collect junk.

Hogs of all sorts

The other main variety of this kind of man is the kind that hogs something besides money. Some people hog the limelight, they want to be the center of every scene and they don't relish "scene-stealers;" some hog notice in the newspapers, and will die in bed holding an old album of press notices. Some are gluttons for power; James and John were men of this sort before association with Jesus finally changed them. They wanted to share the authority of Christ; they have their counterpart in every church, men and sometimes women who must "run" the church or they are not satisfied. Other people hog attention, others want the largest share of the credit for any good change even if they actually fought it when first it was suggested. Whatever it may be, if any person wants something so much that he doesn't care what he does to get it, he is not only ridiculous, he is a danger to all the rest of us.

ABIDING FAITH

In the quiet safety of her own home she is learning to pray, to trust in God. As she grows older she will learn that other people pray too; that other people have faith.

Sunday School will thrill her from the very first day, and her faith will grow as she learns more of the Heavenly Father's love. The Church, with its beautiful sanctuary, its inspiring music, its worshipful atmosphere, will give her a sense of reverence, of nearness to God.

As she grows, her love for the Church and for God will grow too. All through life the faith she learned when she was a tiny girl will provide a sanctuary and protect her during the many trials of life.

Are YOU helping YOUR child acquire this abiding faith?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BOAT REGISTRATION

Registrations of boats on Kentucky waters expire April 30 and must be renewed by that date at circuit clerk offices, State Boating Director Scott Barbour reminds Kentucky boat owners.

A registrant, Barbour said, is issued a wallet-size card which must be kept on the boat at all times. If the owner sells the boat he transfers ownership by signing the back of the card and the new owner must apply to the circuit clerk to re-register the boat.

When an owner registers his boat, it is assigned a number which must be painted on each side of the bow in figures at least three inches high and in a color contrasting to the hull.

KENTUCKIANS

WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsbury

Annual Event:

Each year radio and television correspondents in Washington stage a big banquet to honor the President of the United States and other dignitaries. Kentucky, let it be said, played a big role in the affair.

Julian Goodman, a native of Glasgow, Kentucky, was at the head table, representing NBC. Julian is a network veepee. Two years ago, when he was stationed in Washington, the Kentuckian was at the head table as the President of the Correspondents' Association. Now he is in New York.

Others Present: Other Kentuckians were on hand, including that active, retired Justice of the Supreme Court, Stanley Reed of Maysville.

The guest list also included young Barry Bingham of NBC News; Billy Vaughn of Glasgow, one-time aide to Vice President Barkley; William Arbery, formerly of Paris and now of Washington; and John Edwards, the ABC correspondent, also from Western Kentucky.

Junior Colleges:

The recent action of the Kentucky General Assembly in strengthening the junior college system in the state brings up some important facts here in Washington.

The junior college system is not new, federal educators say. Fifty years ago David Starr Jordan, then President of Stanford, predicted the spread of such schools would be the most significant event in American education.

America's oldest stakes is the Phoenix Handicap, first run in Lexington in 1931 and now contested at the Keeneland Race Course, Lexington.

Jean Bach Circle Meets

The Jean Bach Circle met with Mrs. Elizabeth Kemper Monday night March 5th with nine members present. We were glad to have two visitors, Mrs. Travis Dunn and daughter, president of the General W. M. S.

Mrs. Mary Porter had charge of the devotion taken from the 79th Psalm. Mrs. Gladys Alford was in charge of the program.

After a short business session presided over by the president, Mrs. Lillian Stephenson all enjoyed the delicious refreshments and generous hospitality provided by our hostess, Mrs. Kemper.

A 340 foot horizontal bore, longest in this area's pipeline history has been made by the Union Light, Heat and Power Company under new Interstate Highway 75.

Since it was not permitted to dig within the limits of the new highway the Company had to install a 20-inch pipe casing by working from one side of the highway.

The 340 foot horizontal bore was made with a saw-tooth cutting edge welded to a 20-inch casing. Work was begun on the northside of the highway and a gasoline engine powered the boring machine which pushed and rotated the casing and cutting edge.

The work was necessary to replace a temporary line under new Interstate Highway that was installed through an 18-inch drain so that the Company's new Propane Plant could be used during this winter's heating season. The line carries liquid propane through three miles of eight-inch pipe from the Constance Propane Storage Cavern to the Processing Plant, near Erlanger. A backhoe had to be used in the center of the road to depress the casing to change its course. Due to the rock formation under the highway the casing had to be installed in an arch-like manner.

When the entire project of installing the 20-inch casing is completed the eight-inch line carrying liquid propane from the Storage Cavern to the Processing Plant will be placed in the casing.

The permanent installation is being made under the new highway, one mile north of Donaldson Pike interchange near Erlanger.

ULH&P was able to carry out the project through the co-operation of the Highway Department of Kentucky and with the aid of R. B. Tyler, Louisville road contractor, who is building this part of the highway for Kentucky. The Ohio Pipeline Company, Newark, Ohio, is ULH&P's contractor on the job.

The Constance Cavern and the Erlanger Processing Plant, costing $3 million, were completed last fall by ULH&P and are part of the gas service improvement program for Northern Kentucky.

Mrs. Elbert Callen, Mrs. Dewey Fisk, Mrs. Richard McKinley and Mrs. W. W. Worthington.

The devotional was given by the Primary and Junior Choirs of the Wilmington Baptist Church, under the direction of Mrs. Roberta Steinhauer.

a brief business session the meeting was turned over to the Program Chairman, Janice Daniels.

At the conclusion of the program talks were given by Miss Marcum, Home Demonstration Agent and Mr. Maddox, Assistant County Agent.

U.K. PROFESSOR WINS
$57,800 STUDY GRANT

Can an infection which produces abortion in cattle and sheep be transmitted to human? An investigation of that possibility is being undertaken by a University of Kentucky professor of animal pathology. The study to be conducted over a period of three years by Dr. John Thomas Bryans, is financed by a $57,800 grant from the National Institutes of Health. It involves a comparison of the abortion-causing organism with seemingly identical organisms isolated from a variety of diseases occurring in both animals and man.

Social Security Facts:

Are you age 62 or older and still working? Have you ever checked to see if you might be eligible to receive social security benefits? Have you ever applied for social security benefits and been turned down because you had not worked long enough under social security? If so, you may now be eligible for payments because of recent changes in the law. Ed Bolte, Field Representative of the Covington, Kentucky District Office, urges you to contact your local social security office regarding recent changes in the Social Security Act.

Men may now choose to have their benefits begin as soon as they reach 62. However, just as in the case of a woman worker, a man who decides to take his benefits between the ages of 62 and 65 will get less per month than he would have received at the age 65. This works out so that a man who takes benefits as soon as he becomes 62 will receive 80% of the monthly benefits he would have received had he waited until he was 65.

As a result of another change in the law, less work is required to qualify for social security benefits. This means that those people who could not qualify previously, due to lack of sufficient work under social security, may now be eligible.

If you believe that any of these changes in the law may apply to you please contact the social security district office.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this opportunity to thank everyone who assisted me in my recent illness. My special thanks to the Walton Fire Dept. for the oxygen, and to Buddy Grubbs and Dean Poore for their aid in taking me to the hospital.

Thanks to Dr. Franklin Daugherty for his services. So many of the ministers came to pray for me at my bedside, among them Rev. Tackett and to them I say thank you.

I wish to thank Sister Eileen Vest for her loving care of my little girl in my absence. I received so many cards and lovely flowers and I do so appreciate every act of kindness. "Thank You" to all who came to the hospital to visit. Also I want to thank Rev. O. B. Mullins of Newport for coming to the Walton Church of God and ministering in my absence. I am slowly regaining my strength and ask an interest in your prayers.

Mrs. J. A. Keeney—359-6066

Mr. Lou Ervin is able now to go anywhere in the hospital in his wheelchair.

Rev. and Mrs. Roy Martin and children of LaGrange spent Friday night and Saturday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Barnett.

The Methodist Church here lost its oldest member in the death of Mr. D. C. Fields. Our sympathy is with Mrs. Fields, the children and grandchildren. Rev. Ray Watson the well known missionary to the Congo is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Fields. Attendance was up at Sunday School.

A feeling of gloom was caused here by the passing of Grandma Finnell. She had lived such a long, useful and active life it would seem foolish to mourn for her. Let us rather be glad that "He Giveth His Beloved Sleep."

It seems that the stroke suffered last week by Mr. Keeney did not affect him too much as it has gradually worn off. He has more difficulty talking. Morris Wharton and Don Keeney visited him on Sunday. We have not visited him as often recently since visitors seem to excite him at times.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Childers are enjoying a new Chevrolet.

I am glad to report that I am improving slowly, really feel better this morning, than at any time since I've been ill. Maybe it is the good companions I've had. Mrs. Stella Richardson last week. This week my aunt Mrs. J. E. Pinguely is staying with me.

Mrs. David Ervin visited her mother Mrs. Caroline Armstrong on Sunday.

Mrs. Stella Richardson had as guests on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Winford Bates of Latonia and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Richardson of Owenton.

"ELECTRIC HEAT is the most even..."

...according to the Jay G. Gates family of the Winton Woods area, Hamilton County.

An electric baseboard blankets the cold surface of the spacious living room's enormous picture window with warm air. Spreads it evenly, silently room corner to room corner... ceiling to floor.

Electric baseboards provide all rooms with convenient, individual temperature control for maximum comfort.

And the fact that clean electric heating leaves no fuel film deposit to dull windows and mirrors... means that they require cleaning less often.

Installation and operating costs are comparable to other forms of heating.

John W. Shaw Is Named Director Of Pig Sales Association

Kenton County hog producers have been offered a new opportunity for sale of top quality feeder pigs. Northern Kentucky farmers have organized the Eden Shale Feeder Pig Sales Association to market these top quality pigs. Date of the first sale has been set for sometime during the first two weeks of October. John W. Shaw, Taylor Mill Pike, Independence is the Kenton County director in the new sales association.

The County Agricultural Agent, Thomas L. Riley, explained that a definite date would be set in the near future but producers could plan ahead to having sows bred and pigs ready for this early October sale. He further stated that quality feeder pigs offered an opportunity to sell pigs before farmers had a lot of corn or extra money invested in them. Since there are certain requirements to be met for selling these quality pigs to Corn Belt feeder buyers, the County Agent urged local producers to contact his office as soon as possible if they are interested in this farmer's sale.

Add storgae space to your cupboards with narrow shelves. Between shelves spaced 8 to 10 inches apart, place a narrow shelf; or, if there are 12 or more inches between shelves, add two narrow ones.

Have you ever heard of frozen "chicken sticks"? There're made of ground chicken breaded with corn flake crumbs. The sticks, developed by the New York State College of Agriculture, are good as a main dish, in a sandwich, or as hors d'oeuvres. They come six to a package and need only to be browned in the oven, pan fried, or cooked in deep fat.

Farm Bureau Membership Drive Has Been Extended

Farm Bureau is the voice for agriculture, and farmers need to make sure that it will be heard loud and long. Farm Bureau will continue to be heard only so long as it receives the support of every farmer in the county. It's important that you belong to the organization of farmers, working in the interest of farmers.

Kenton County's Annual Farm Bureau Membership drive has been extended to March 26 when a membership worker contacts you, won't you join too? With a county goal of 283 members, remember, Farm Bureau needs your support! For further information call the office. 359-6412.

KENTUCKIANS

WASHINGTON
By Gil Kingsbury

▲ Parkway:

There's a bill or two in Congress to establish a new mountain parkway, Allegheny Parkway, which would start in Maryland, cross a portion of West Virginia, slip over into Kentucky and then end at Cumberland Gap.

So far, lawmakers have taken no action on it. However, the General Assembly of Virginia has done something - asked Congress not to forget the Old Dominion, if and when the road is built.

The Route:

Actually, the measure does not set forth the path the road should take and it could go through Virginia. However, that would mean a battle between Kentucky and the mother state.

Kentuckians, for example, would like to see the highway enter Kentucky at the Breaks of the Big Sandy and then go down the Kentucky side of the border to Cumberland Gap. Virginians want it to travel on their side of the line.

No Cheers Yet:

There is no need to cheer yet. Although the proposal has been before the Congress for about a year, nothing has happened.

The senate, however, plans to hold hearings late this month but the House Interior Committee has taken no action whatsoever. Some senators believe the measure will get upper house support.

Means Money:

If the parkway is built, it will help Kentucky, assuming it goes through a part of the state. The Skyline Drive and the Blue Ridge Parkway are both money-makers for the states of Virginia and North Carolina.

No tolls are charged but the cars that travel the north-south route bring in people with money to spend. Moreover, the federal government maintains the road and there is no drain on highway funds.

SIZE OF DAIRY HERDS INCREASING IN STATE

Kentucky dairymen are going to herds with larger numbers of cows in them, says E. C. Scheidenhelm, UK Cooperative Extension Service dairyman.

For instance: Census data for 1954 and 1959 (considered an accurate index) show that in 1954, there were more than 80,000 dairy herds in the state with nine cows or less in them. But by 1959, the number of such herds (9 cows or less) had dropped to 70,310.

Herds of from 10 to 29 cows for the same five-year period decreased 4.8 percent. That is, in 1954 there were 11,899 such herds; in 1959 there were 11,239.

The big change in the five-year period has been in the herds of 30 to 49 cows and herds of more than 50 animals. In 1954 there were only 723 herds of 30 to 49 cows, but in 1959 the figure had risen to 1,289, an increase of 78.2 percent. In 1954, there were 229 more-than-50-cow herds; in 1959, Kentucky had 365 such herds.

Scheidenhelm says bulk tank storage (needing higher capital investment) was one reason that has caused many farmers to increase their herd sizes.

Which do you like better, brown eggs or white eggs? It really makes no difference because color has nothing to do with the size, quality or nutritional value of an egg, USDA poultry experts say. Whether the egg is brown or white depends on the breed of hen that laid the egg.

is really clean..."

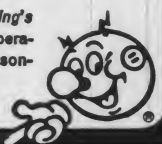

... says Mrs. Clarence Williams of Milford (Ohio).

"It practically eliminates the need for spring cleaning. There's just no fuel grime to collect on anything!"

The Williams' electrically heated, Mulberry Ridge home was built by the Mohawk Construction Company.

"And electric heating is tops for comfort," she adds. "Sit anywhere in a room and it's the same even temperature! With no drafts or cold spots... I never have to worry about the children playing on the floor."

Mr. Williams likes electric heating's convenient, individual room temperature control feature... and its reasonable operating cost.

Law of Love

Lesson for March 25, 1962

IN the sight of God, what is my most important duty? What can I do that will yield the best returns in life? It is a happy discovery to learn that the answer to both questions is the same. We know this is true because Jesus himself was asked both questions, and gave the same answer each time. The strangeness of his answer is that he say to either questioner: DO—anything whatever. The highest duty and the most rewarding effort is not action but attitude. For Jesus' reply to these questions was: Love God; Love your fellowman. Jesus was not the first to sum up the Law and the Prophets—in short, the entire Old Testament—in these two commands, love to God and to neighbor; but he gave his approval to this way of summing it all up.

Love to God

We have called love an "attitude." This is not quite fair, for love which is only an attitude, never resulting in action, is not what Christ and Christians after him mean by the word. Nevertheless, love is an attitude before it is an act. You might say, love should be the atmosphere, the light, in which you see, or think about, God and your neighbor. Now it is clear that love to God can't be precisely the same as love to men, even the best of men. From all that is said of "love" in the New Testament—for instance in I Corinthians 13, or John 13 through 17, it is plain that love, as God approves it among men, involves helping them when in need. But God is never in need. Also, love is at its high point when it is expended on the unloving and the unlovable; but God is never unloving nor unlovable. Perhaps we can put together love to God and love to man this way: Love means sharing their concerns. Jesus the boy was sharing the concern of his Father in heaven when he said, "I must be about my Father's business." As a man, he was sharing his Father's concern when he said: "I always do what is pleasing to him." (John 8:29.)

Love to man

Not all that concerns God concerns us. He has a wide universe to control, and he has not invited us to help operate heaven, hell or the stars in the sky. But (strange as it may seem) God does have concerns with men; and it is these which we can share—and will share gladly if the love of God is in us. But the concerns of men are different. They arise out of man's weakness and sin, just as God's concerns arise from his holiness and power. Much of the concern of every man can be summed up in one question: How can I get out of the jam I'm in? Not every one is in the same kind of "jam." The troubles of an intellectual mind wrestling with sore doubts are not the troubles of a mother without enough food for her children, and neither of these kinds of trouble is the same as those of (say) President Kennedy. But all the same, love to our fellow man involves being sympathetic with all those in trouble, of every sort, a concern and sympathy which will pull us into sharing the load, helping where and as we can.

On reading the Bible

We must add a little but important postscript. When this question came to Jesus, on one occasion he gave the answer himself; on another, he got the answer out of his questioner. The point is that the answer came from the Bible; but not (so to speak) from right on top of the Bible. How often do you, for example, read the book of Deuteronomy or Leviticus? That chapter 6 in Deuteronomy has quite a bit in it which does not fit us; but verses 4 and 5 do intensely concern us. In that 19th chapter of Leviticus (perhaps no one's favorite chapter of the Bible!) there are some very peculiar laws, which passed away when the nation of Israel ceased to be. Today people plant two kinds of seed in a field, or wear clothes made of more than one material, and never think of it; modern people are not tempted to tattoo themselves as a sign of mourning. There is much here that no longer has force with Christians. But "Love your neighbor as yourself" does have force, it did not pass away when Jerusalem fell.

NEWS NOTE

WARNING: U.S. INVADED

More than 4 1/2 million invade United States in past year!

Now scattered throughout every city, village, and farm. Totally dependent on others for every need.

None can read, write, or speak our language. They know nothing about any religion.

Similar invasion expected this year — and next. Immediate action imperative!

PARENTS, you are helping feed, clothe, and shelter these newcomers—the 4 1/2 million babies born last year. You will teach them to walk and talk, and how to live. Teach them, too, about God . . . give them a faith to live by.

Trained workers at your church are ready to help. The future of your country — and your children — rests with you.

Join hands with your church to give them a faith, and a future — TODAY.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Girl's and Boy's State winners have been selected by the high school faculty. Joyce Burchett, Carolyn Garriott, Charlotte Rosenstiel, Lynda Worthington and Sandy Thomas will represent our school at Girl's State held at the University of Kentucky. Robert Blackwell and John Webster will represent us at Boy's State held at Richmond. These students were selected because of their outstanding qualities they possess for leadership and their scholastic ability. The American Legion sponsors this project.

Marsh 29, 1962, is Teacher Appreciation Day. The P. T. A. is giving a dinner for all the teachers at Walton and Verona on that day in appreciation for their many hours of faithful service in our school system. The home room mothers will keep the classes so that the teachers might be free to attend. All the students wish to express their appreciation too!

The Seniors are busy working on their class play to be given March 30. The play is a hilarious comedy entitled "The Campbells Are Coming" and is produced by special permission from T. S. Denison and Co.

In the recent state-wide Conservation Essay Contest on the subject: "Water—Its Effect on My Community," James Robert Hamilton received a $25. award as winner of the Boone County District.

The Magazine Campaign has been closed with a total sales of $740.60. Burch Spillman was high salesman with $236.81. The Seniors wish to express their appreciation to all who contributed to this drive by subscribing to a magazine. The profit from both the play and magazine drive will be used to help finance the class trip to Washington, D. C. and New York, April 3-9.

Raetta Hall and James Robert Hamilton were selected to receive the D. A. R. Award for the outstanding Senior of Walton-Verona in the Good Citizen Contest.

Mary Ann Borkin represents Walton-Verona in the Betty Crocker 1962, "Miss Homemaker of America" contest in Home Economics.

Ryland Homemakers Study Cleaning Rugs

Formulas for making home made cleaners to be used on rugs and carpets were given to the Ryland Homemakers Club by the leaders Mrs. Harold Halfhill and Mrs. George Campbell which met recently at the home of Mrs. F. B. Hermes. They pointed out how easily these cleaners can be made with just three things found in the kitchen, detergent, vinegar and ammonia. Pointers on the care of rugs and upholstered furniture were demonstrated with the aid of vacuum cleaner.

Mrs. Everett Wilson during her devotion period commented that "Cheer" is the sign of a brave soul and that "gloom" is a sign of weakness, both of the spirit and the soul as found in Proverbs 12 chapter 25.

It's spring cleaning time for potted plants suggested Miss Ruth Schmidt, garden leader, new soil and longer pots will greatly improve the health of the plant. Lawns should be rolled with a lawn roller weighing about 300 lbs. this tends to push the grass roots back into the soil, she stated.

Miss Zelma Byerly, home demonstration agent reviewed with the club the Basic Areas of Study on program planning for the new year. Mrs. Harold Halfhill presided and welcomed Mrs. Effie Colclough as a guest.

Miss Ruth Schmidt acted as co-hostess to the following members: Mesdames Morgan Metzger, George Campbell, William Damon, Everett Wilson, Harold Halfhill, Anthony Wolf, Hugh Craigmyle, A. R. Hicks, C. J. Castleberry, J. K. Belew, and Miss Zelma Byerly.

Judge B. Lester Mullins of Grant County and Dr. F. R. Scroggins of Williamstown were the guest speakers. They recounted their experiences in securing a hospital for Grant County and passed helpful suggestions on to those present. It is expected that they will be adopted by the officers of the Boone County group.

In his address, Judge Mullins gave much credit to the cooperative spirit of the people of his county, and placed particular emphasis on the work of the individuals and the Women's Clubs of the community. He outlined their progress by relating the details of a trip made to Frankfurt in February, 1961 at which time he and Dr. Scroggins had a conference with Mr. Paul Hackney of the Hill Burton Fund. Upon their return to Williamstown, several sites were selected and one was promptly approved by Mr. Hackney.

A campaign was then organized and the story of a new 26 bed hospital was taken to the people of the county. In November, 1961 a Bond Issue of $300,000.00 was overwhelmingly approved by 83 percent of the voters, and three days later the Hill Burton Fund made them a grant of $275,000.00. Plans have now progressed to a point where groundbreaking for the new building is expected this summer.

Much encouragement was received by those who want a hospital for our area, when it was explained that this outstanding endorsement was given by the people of a county where the population has fallen off by more than 4000 people, and is the exact opposite of our county where the population is growing rapidly, and gives promise of even greater expansion during the next ten years.

4-H CLUB TALENT SHOW SCHEDULED FOR MAR. 30

The Annual 4-H Club Talent Show is to be Friday, March 30, at the Boone County High School Auditorium. The show will open at 7:30 p.m. with Bruce Ferguson as the Master of Ceremonies. Four-H members from most of the clubs in the county will compete to determine which club will represent Boone County at District. Two types of acts are to be presented. The club act is some type of performance that utilizes at least 20% of the club members and can last 8 minutes. The specialty act consists of from one to four persons and can last 3 minutes.

Assistant County Extension Agent, Wayne Sinner, stated that the purpose of the 4-H Talent Show is not only to allow talented persons to perform, but it gives less talented club members a chance to perform before an audience. This is to help them gain confidence and poise. The public is invited.

Mrs. DeMoisey Is Nominated Mother Of Year, by Wa-Na's

The Wa-Na Women's Club is proud to honor one of our town's Mothers by nominating her for Kentucky Mother of the Year. She is Mrs. Johnnie C. DeMoisey, a lifelong resident of Boone County, and the mother of ten children, four of whom are deceased. She was married in 1907 to R. F. DeMoisey who was a Baptist Minister for 47 years, until his death this year.

As a minister's wife she organized Women's Missionary Unions in his churches, and was active in the P.T.A., D.A.R., and other community activities. She is also a member of the Walton Literary Club.

Her daughter, Mrs. Charles Allphin, is a Cincinnati teacher, having at one time taught at Walton, where she was known as "Miss Lucy." She has five sons: John, "Frenchy," is an aide to former Gov. A. B. Chandler and will be remembered as an "All-American" basketball player at U.K. Frank is a prominent business man in Walton and Norton, Va., where he now lives. Truett is a well known Walton Attorney. Her two other sons are Robert and Jean, "Foxie," who now reside in Ft. Thomas, Ky.

The Kentucky Mother of the Year will be selected March 31st at Bowling Green and the selected mother will attend the annual Mothers Conference in New York in May.

Whatever the results may be, Johnnie DeMoisey is "our" mother of the year and we know the town of Walton is proud of her as a fine example of motherhood.

Date for Filing Feed Grain Acreage Has Been Extended

The Kenton County ASCS Office will accept feed grain acreage reports through March 30 instead of March 20 as previously announced in minor feed grain counties, according to Russell Rector, Chairman of the Kenton County ASC Committee.

It will be necessary for farmers to file this report before they can sign an application to participate in the 1962 Feed Grain Program. If a farmer has previously filed a report, it will not be necessary to file a second report.

Mr. Rector stated that farmers will need to report all crop and land uses for the 1959 and 1960 crop years. This information will be used in determining the farm's corn and grain acreage base for participation in the 1962 Feed Grain Program. Mr. Rector urged farmers to file their acreage reports as early as possible so necessary review can be made in time for them to file applications on the last day for accepting applications is also Friday, March 30.

4-H SPEECH CONTEST

The 4-H Speech Contest will be held on Friday, April 13, at the Burlington School. The program will start at 7:30 p.m. and will take the place of speeches formerly given at Rally Day in May. This will give the 4-H members more time to work on demonstrations for Rally Day.

Christ the Center

Lesson for April 1, 1962

JESUS CHRIST is often called the center of the Christian faith, and with good reason. True Christian faith is quite definite, however mysterious some of its aspects may be.

Just "I believe" doesn't make a Christian out of you. Mohammedans believe, so do Pharisees and Jews and Spiritualists and Mormons and Buddhists. So, for that matter, do Voodoo witch-doctors and devil-worshippers. Everybody believes something; just believing-in-general isn't Christian. It is not even common sense. What can possibly be meant by "believing" or "faith" without faith in something or somebody? A "believer" who isn't in the least sure of what or whom he believes is as pathetic a figure as a "Goer" who has no idea where he is going. Just "going" will get you nowhere; so just "believing" gets you nowhere either.

Center of grace

Christ is the center of Christian faith, the pole to which faith's compass swings. This is true first of all because Christ is the center of God's grace. As the New Testament writers use that word "grace," they most often mean by it the undeserved but freely given favor of God to men. Paul puts it in a nutshell in I Tim. 1:14: "The grace of our Lord overflowed for me with the faith and love which are in Christ Jesus." Grace—faith—love—Christ Jesus: they all go together, Paul cannot think of one apart from the rest.

The kind of world we have to live in sometimes discourages us about a God of love. If we believe that God is a God of love, there must be a strong reason for our faith, something because of which we believe, to offset all that in spite of which we believe. And this "something" is Jesus Christ. It is because we believe him to be God's gift to us, to each one of us who will take him,—it is because we understand as St. Paul did that Christ's life and even death were for our sakes, that he literally poured himself out in sacrifice for us,—that we find in him the center of God's grace.

Center of redemption

There are many ways used in the New Testament, by Paul and others, to describe in metaphors what we call Salvation—for Salvation, we must always remember, is the main aim of all religions. Salvation is what God does to rid us of what despoils and ruins us, namely sin; Salvation is the name of all that brings man out of the "far country" and into his Father's home. One of the words, used sometimes in place of "Salvation," is "Redemption," or literally "Buying Back." The picture is of wretched people who are being held for ransom, suddenly set free through the payment of the price demanded. Christ is the ransom, it is he who paid the price, who was the price, of our freedom from sin, our being "alive to God" as Paul put it once. So Christ is the center of redemption. Without him we would be unredeemed. Almost in the same sentence Paul calls Christ the Mediator between God and man. He is the Bridge, the Way. It is he who opens the door to God, it is he who breaks down our opposition, makes us as one with God. Center! How could Christ have any other place?

Center of hope

Because some Christians have not seen clearly the meaning of Christ and Christianity for this present life and world, and have as good as said that we don't begin to "cash in" in our faith till after we die, other Christians have fled to the opposite extreme, and found the entire meaning of Christianity in this world and time. Today there is a swing of the pendulum back toward where it used to be, though not all the way. We can see that both ideas are true: our religion is for today, tomorrow and always. Christianity is a religion of hope, and that needs to be remembered in dark days like the present. This earth will pass away, and God knew it when he made it. But that does not spell the end for God's people. Christ will come again. The "appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ"—though in ways we may be surprised to see—is a constant hope of the New Testament. So Christ is again the center of faith, for he is the center of our hope.

WANDERLUST

You see a giant ship at dockside and suddenly, you yearn to board her and journey to far-off, exotic ports.

Why? For the sake of excitement — adventure — or because, like most people, you feel the need to escape, at times, even from yourself?

This desire to escape is human. But it is also impossible. No matter where you go, the self you'd like to fling away, travels with you.

Sail the seven seas, if you can. But first find personal peace. Go to church. God shows you, through His Church, the only way that you and that self of yours, truly can travel together.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

Agrinite Tobacco Bed Topdresser

How Agrinite Helps Me Grow Sturdier Tobacco Plants!

"I've been producing tobacco seed for 25 years," says F. W. Rickard of Winchester (Clark County), Ky., one of the largest burley seed growers in the state. "And I've learned that the type of tobacco plants I set in the field has a lot to do with the seed I harvest."

"Agrinite Tobacco Bed Topdresser has been a big help in this respect. Last year, I topdressed part of one of my beds with one-third pound of Agrinite per square yard. Before applying Agrinite, the plants were pale yellow and weren't growing well. But soon after, they were greener and healthier looking."

"I can't explain what happened, but Agrinite certainly did something for my plants that ordinary nitrogen wasn't doing."

...the BIG REASON why Southern Railway
can offer greatly reduced freight rates
on grain moving into and within the Southeast!

We call it "BIG JOHN" because it is big! Pioneered by Southern, our new jumbo lightweight aluminum covered hopper car dwarfs its little brother shown at the left, a standard-size steel covered hopper car.

"BIG JOHN" is not only big in size—it is big in what it can do, too. It represents a major breakthrough in transportation. It already has permitted much lower freight rates on alumina, carbide, lime, cement and other such materials. Now "BIG JOHN" is ready to lower the transportation costs of grains, feeds, flour and other agricultural commodities—and here is why it can do it.

"BIG JOHN" can carry a load of 100-tons-plus. (The wasteful deadweight of conventional steel cars is replaced by revenue-producing capacity.) Its cubic-foot capacity is 5,000. On its roof are 12 hatches, and at the bottom are 8 discharge hoppers to speed loading and unloading. Like filling and emptying a bathtub!

If desired, a separate kind of grain can be loaded into each of its four compartments and travel in the same car, without mixing. What's more, this covered hopper is an air-tight car, unlike the box car generally used to carry grain. This greatly reduces the likelihood of infestation and water damage. And there are no grain doors, as in box car movements, to be paid for by the shipper in higher freight rates.

Because "BIG JOHN" can do a big job, Southern Railway can greatly reduce its freight rates for the movement of grain. The resulting savings in transportation costs will benefit everybody—the grain grower, the farmer, the poultry man, the livestock raiser, the feed man and the consuming public.

Officers for the coming year will be Mrs. Harold Buxton, president; Mrs. Frank Palmer, second vice president; Mrs. Smith Gibson, recording secretary; Mrs. William Lail, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Earl Nichols, treasurer.

Mrs. Shelby Kinney, immediate past president of the organization, introduced the presidents of two PTA units which have been added to the council. Mrs. Craton Noyes represented her husband who is president of the newly established Crescent Springs PTA, and Mrs. Charles W. Adams was announced the new president of Twenhofel Junior High School.

It was announced that Mrs. James Feagan will be in charge of arrangements for the annual May luncheon to be held at the Covington YMCA. New officers will be installed at that meeting.

Mrs. William Lail, chairman of safety and civil defense for the organization, introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Bailey Root, tri-county defense authority. Mr. Root spoke on "Shelters for Survival". He said that the only two defenses against a disaster are either to run or to hide. Since we can no longer run because of a nuclear attack, we must seek shelter. The basis of the Civil Defense program is to alert the population to the necessity of building shelters to protect themselves against radio active fallout.

PTA units attending were: Beechwood, Bromley, Caywood, Dixie Heights, Kenton Elementary, Ludlow, Park Hills, Piner, Ryland Heights, Simon Kenton, Taylor Mill, Visalia, Twenhofel, and Crescent Springs.

Roquefort cheese is an important product made from sheep's milk. A similar cheese made from cow's milk, is known as Blue cheese in the U. S., as Bleu in France, as Stilton in England, and as Gorgonzola in Italy.

PINER HOMEMAKERS

Mrs. Roy Tomlin of Independence had the Piner Homemakers at her home for the March meeting, where Roll Call was a household hint.

Miss Zelma Byerly, Extension Agent was present, and with the help of members who had attended, gave a nice description of the April Charm School at Summit Hills. Miss Byerly also told of areas, from which next years lessons will be taken. As Kentucky has the honor this year, of having the National Homemakers Convention, at Lexington, in August, she hoped all members would be in Lexington, Kentucky Day.

Mrs. J. C. Cavanaugh and Mrs. Marion Martin led a discussion on, "Present Day Russia," one of the countries we are to study.

Our lesson, "Care and Cleaning of Rugs," was given by the leaders Mrs. Chester Mullins and Mrs. Marion Martin. They said rugs are expensive and that the care should begin in the yard with good walks and an outside mat. They recommended several cleaners and a good vacuum cleaner.

Those attending were: Mesdames Clarence Duncan, Charles Flynn, Angela Pelizzarri, Owen Flynn, Leslie McMillan, Fred McMillan, William Woods, J. C. Cavanaugh, Frank Elliott, Chester Mullins, William Waltherman, Marion Martin, Roy Tomlin, and guests, Mrs. William Baldwin, Mrs. Lloyd Martin, Mrs. Effie Colclough, and Miss Zelma Byerly.

PARKING VIOLATIONS

Beginning April 1, 1962, all parking violations, if not paid within 24 hours, with the exception of Sundays and holidays, a warrant will be issued for the arrest of holder of ticket and he shall not pay less than $1.00 or more than $25.00 fine and costs. This is in accordance with Ordinance No. 274, passed by the City Council of Walton, Ky., September 8, 1958.

LAWSON IN GERMANY

Army Specialist Four Richard L. Lawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard M. Lawson, Verona, Ky., recently participated in a combined arms phase of the five-week 4th Armored Division field training exercises in the Grafenwohr-Hohenfels area of Germany.

The exercises stressed the ability of infantry, artillery, armor and logistical support units to work together under combat conditions. Training of this nature is designed to maintain a constant state of combat readiness essential to a modern Army deployed to maintain the defense of the free world.

Specialist Lawson, a mechanic in Headquarters Company of the division's 37th Armor in Crailsheim, entered the Army in August 1959 and arrived overseas in September 1960.

His wife, Caroline, is with him in Germany.

Prepared by the National 4-H Service Committee

Experts Back Versatile Youths

When 400,000 men and women volunteer their time and know-how to help 2.3 million 4-H club members "learn, live and serve," the results are no less than spectacular.

For instance, the Head, Heart, Hands and Health youths finished nearly 4 million projects in more than 40 different categories just this past year.

In almost every instance, the completed project benefited the entire family and in many cases, the community as well.

The information comes from the Cooperative Extension Service which directs 4-H club work.

Further proof of the far-reaching effect of 4-H was found in 1,900 record books maintained by state award winning club members. The records were reviewed in the headquarters of the National 4-H Service Committee last November, said Norman C. Mindrum, director, for the purpose of selecting boys and girls for scholarships and trip awards to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

Miss Sheila Nixon, 20, of Pomona, California, winner of a $400 Ford scholarship, commented: "The awards we win in 4-H work aren't totally ours. Many people have helped us win them."

Another national champion, who won a Sears-Roebuck Foundation scholarship for leadership, is 20-year-old Hoosier farmer Wayne Buck. He has a 4-H record so long "it would fill a book." Now a student at Purdue University, Buck credits 4-H training with teaching him how to accept responsibility, and to better understand the world and the people in it.

President Kennedy expressed a similar feeling when he said in a recent message to 4-H members: "I would commend you especially for your constructive and worthwhile efforts in learning to live and work cooperatively with others."

In the beginning, 4-H Clubs were intended for farm youngsters, and offered only projects in crops, livestock, home canning and cooking. The present program embraces a wide range of agricultural, home economics and scientific programs. With the exception of a few such as livestock, tractor and field crops, the projects can be carried on in town as well as on the farm.

4-H Moves to Town
Today, membership in 4-H Clubs is about equally divided between farm and non-farm boys and girls. The main reason for this shift is the disappearance of the small farm from the American agricultural scene.

Meanwhile, more and more business people are participating in 4-H as it moves into suburban and urban areas, Mindrum points out. National 4-H Club Week, National 4-H Congress, Farm-City Week, achievement days, county and state fairs, Farm-Safety Week and the like are but a few examples, he said.

Director Mindrum, who is a former 4-H member and state extension official, has this to say: "To sum up 4-H achievement one should call special attention to the concurrent efforts of many which, over the years, have made the 'learn by doing' program the success it is."

Business Gives Cash
"Besides the paid and volunteer workers who carry out the teaching-training aspect, there are business people who contribute know-how and money," he added.

Approximately 60 different business concerns provide funds for 4-H through the National 4-H Service Committee, he said.

Donors of awards for the last 25 years or more include: International Harvester, Montgomery Ward, Westinghouse Educational Foundation, Kerr Glass Mfg. Corp., Cudahy Packing Co., Armour and Co., Livestock Conservation, Inc., Wilson & Co., Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, Also, Santa Fe, Chicago and North Western, Illinois Central and Burlington railways.

Newer 4-H backers are the Sperry and Hutchinson Co., Ralston Purina, Moorman Mfg. Co., General Foods, E. I. du Pont de Nemours and John Deere. Also, Pyrofax Gas and International Minerals & Chemical corporations. These firms have supported the program for five years or less, according to the 4-H Service Committee.

KENTUCKIANS

WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsbury

Budget Boss:

A Kentuckian, a high-ranking military man, holds the purse strings for the Department of the Army.

The man with the money is a native of Mt. Sterling, a graduate of West Point, and a major general. He is Charles Breckinridge Duff who holds such honors as Legion of Merit, the Bronze Star and a variety of other honors.

Congressmen:

During the past few weeks he has been working with members of the House and Senate, getting the 1963 budget into shape. His chores take him to Capitol Hill for question and answer sessions. Lawmakers have praised his co-operation.

There's another facet to General Duff's background. Although tied to a desk now, he has seen and heard shot and shell fired in anger in both World War Two and Korea.

An Example:

At the outset for World War Two he was in charge of a battery at Pearl Harbor. Then, when the Central Pacific campaign got underway, he took part in the battles of the Marianas and Saipan.

His record also includes a tour of duty at his alma mater, four years as instructor in French at West Point. Other assignments sent him to all parts of the nation.

Student, Too:

General Duff also continued as a student, too. He completed the Coast Artillery School's program at Ft.

Monroe. And he was a member of the faculty of the Industrial War College.

Mrs. Duff is the former Sallie Hinton Edmonson of Anniston, Alabama. They were married in April of 1932 and have two daughters.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Maus on the birth of a baby boy March 21th. After four girls they finally got their boy, whom they have named James B. Maus, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Taylor of Tennessee have returned home after visiting their children, Mrs. Ollie Miller, Mr. Chester Taylor and Mr. Bill Taylor for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Miller moved from Janet Drive to Ridgeview Drive last Saturday.

The Oak Ridge Homemakers Club met March 20th at the home of Mrs. John Love, president of the club. Mrs. Monson read the gardening report on care of the lawn at this time of year, and she urged caution at cutting back shrubs in the spring, only dead wood should be removed now, and pruning should be done in June or July. The session for the day was an "Care of Rugs, Carpets and Upholstery". Carpets should be cleaned before they are too deeply soiled, and should be vacuumed frequently to remove grit and dirt, as most carpet wear is caused by abrasion of grit and dirt rather than by walking on it. Next month the roll call will be answered by a fact about South Africa and Mrs. Chester Tallent will give a book report on the Union of South Africa. Those present were Mesdames Reece Kennedy, B. S. Ashcraft, C. E. Piper, C. A. Craven, Allen Monson, G. K. Galloway, Charles Cummins, Ollie Miller, Chester Tallent, T. B. Renaker and John Love and a guest, Mrs. G. E. McCure.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Tallent, Mr. and Mrs. William Milburn, Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Shackford, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lanter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Singleton, Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. John Heisler, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Cleek and Mr. and Mrs. "Squeaky" Wilson have all gone to Miami Beach, Florida to attend the Commonwealth Life Insurance Company Convention this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Wood went to Louisville over the week-end to attend the NCAA Basketball Tournament.

Miss Gertrude Dorman is feeling a little under the weather this week and has spent most of her time in bed.

Mrs. Frank Egger is enjoying a visit from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wells, who now live in Florida. They are also visiting their other children in the vicinity, Mr. Jack Wells, Mr. Allen Wells and Mrs. Bonnie Acre.

Chloe Gifford Speaks To Joint Meeting of Women's Clubs Mon.

Monday night April 2nd the Walton Wa-No Club and the Walton Literary Club held a joint meeting at the Walton Christian Church with Miss Chloe Gifford, past president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs as speaker. Mrs. Charles Holder, Wa-No Club president opened the meeting by welcoming Miss Gifford, and guest including two fifth district past governors, Mrs. Homer V. Rouse and Mrs. Omer Snook. She spoke on her trip to the Far East, Russia, Germany, Cuba. She told of the conditions as she found them, both political and domestic. Following a short business meeting the group enjoyed a beautiful organ number by Mrs. Henson.

Five Girls Sent To Girls State By Legion Auxiliary, Sponsors

There will be five girls and two boys from the Walton-Verona High School to attend Girl and Boys State. This is the largest group from this school to attend at any time.

This project is sponsored through the American Legion and Legion Auxiliary. They have been fortunate in securing some of the businessmen in Walton to help sponsor these students while the Legion and Auxiliary each sponsor a student.

Had the business men not been interested in the students and school these students might not have been able to attend Girls and Boys State.

This is one of projects in which the Legion and Auxiliary take great pride in and are proud to have students from the local school with this scholastic ability to be able to attend Girls and Boys State. They learn all forms of Government and it is very educational.

At this same rate, it will have a population in 1970 of approximately 140,000 persons, he said.

He also said that most of the 20,000 new residents will be accommodated by converting present agricultural land into residential subdivisions.

HONEY CORNBREAD IS UNUSUAL AND TASTY

Honey is delicious served over bread, pancakes, cereals, etc., but have you tried using it as a baking ingredient? Honey adds special goodness to many baked products, according to Minerva Murphy, UK Extension specialist in foods and nutrition.

Honey Cornbread, for example, is very moist and tasty. Mrs. Murphy gives this USDA receipt for Honey Cornbread:

Mix 1 cup cornmeal, 1 cup flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, and a dash of salt. Mix together 3 tablespoons honey and 2 tablespoons melted shortening and add 2 beaten eggs and 1 cup milk. Blend the dry ingredients and the liquid mixture together.

Pour into a greased gingerbread-size pan (8 by 8 inches) and bake 20 to 30 minutes in a 375 degree oven. Serve with creamy honey-butter which is a simple blend of honey and butter.

Honey also may be used in preparing puddings, custards, pie fillings, baked apples, ice cream toppings, and cinnamon toast, Mrs. Murphy concludes.

On pile fabrics such as corduroy or thick, heavy woollens, a set-in patch gives best mending results. The patch piece may be held in place with press-on tape if the fabric is suitable.

president pro-tem in the 1962 Legislature and the first session of his sixth term as senator from the 26th District: Boone, Carroll, Gallatin, Henry, Oldham, Owen and Trimble counties.

More meat was produced in the U. S. during 1961 than ever before in history. A total of 135.2 million cattle, calves, hogs, sheep, and lambs were processed during the year. This yielded a total of 28 billion, 728 million pounds of red meat.

Although the cash register tape at your supermarket seems to add up in a hurry, prices of farm-produced foods didn't change much from 1960 to 1961. Figures from USDA's Economic Research Service show that: bakery and cereal products went up 2 percent; meat, fruit and vegetables went up less than half of 1 percent; and poultry and egg prices dropped 4 percent.

Home Economics Teachers Hold Spring Meeting Recently

Miss Jane Melton, area supervisor in H. E. Education of Frankfort, Ky., was guest speaker for the N. Ky. Home Economics Teachers at their Spring District Meeting held at the White Horse Restaurant. Miss Melton is working with the adult phase of H. E. Education, and she suggested to these teachers how they might organize classes, use people with special skills, and do effective follow-up work. Since there is such a need for adult classes, she especially encouraged the teachers to work with adults and resource people. On the program were two of our local teachers, Miss Scottie Giles of Dixie Hts. gave an excellent report on recent research in the field of clothing. Mrs. H. Blanton of Boone County gave research on Consumer Education, and this was so interesting since the homemakers consumes so much of today's goods. Mrs. Blanton is the 1st Vice President of the State Home Economics Teachers Association. Mrs. Carolyn Hamilton of Simon Kenton and Miss June Goodrich of Boone County led the group in some relaxing recreational activities.

Prior to the program, Mrs. Carolyn Ransdell of Grant County asked the blessing and then a delicious meal was efficiently served in the Tack Room of the White Horse Restaurant. Immediately following the dinner, the business of the organization was conducted by the president, Mrs. Helen McElroy of Simon Kenton. Yearly reports of the standing committees were given. One very interesting and informative report was given by the 1st Vice President, Mrs. Evelyn Ensor of Lloyd High School. This report concerned "An Opinionnaire on Quality Teaching in Home Economics Sent to Principal and Guidance Counselors in N. Ky." Of the 26 letters mailed, 22 were returned and these are the conclusions drawn:

SCHOLARSHIP STUDENTS—

Thirty freshmen each year begin studying civil engineering at the University of Kentucky under scholarships granted by the Kentucky Department of Highways. from the left, G. C. Buchholz, Glasgow; J. L. Gray, Elizabethtown; C. H. Briggs, Florence and J. L. McMichael, Frankfort, an advanced student.

"Strong teachers tend to be strong in all categories."

"If average, they tend to be average consistently."

"Even though the findings indicate that home economics teachers are doing quality teaching, there is also evidence that we need to improve our teaching."

It was announced that Miss Olds, from the University of Kentucky will hold a Workshop Clothing Construction at Lloyd High School in April. Also the State Meeting this year will be a meeting of all of the vocational services, Agriculture, Home Econ-ics and Trade Industries. This meeting will be on the campus of the University of Kentucky from July 31 to Aug. 3.

WE MAKE LOAN on HOME APPLIANCES, TELEVISIONS

Bible Material: Acts 16:1, 2; 2 Timothy.
Devotional Reading: 2 Timothy 1:8-14.

A Mature Faith

Lesson for April 8, 1962

A MAN may be embarrassed to discover that his mother has saved some of his baby clothes, or he may be pleased that she did so. Either way, he is not going to hunt around in the men's clothing stores looking for something to wear just like what he sported in his second year of life, only bigger. The clothes of babyhood do not suit the man.

Dr. Foreman The same should be true of a man's faith. The faith of a little child is good, make no mistake about that. And the babyhood which a small infant guzzles by the bottle-full is good also, at the right time. But when the boy goes off to college his mother does not pack his cute little teddy-bear to go with him, nor does she look to see if his supply of baby-goo is plentiful.

A taught faith

What is good, and sufficient, for a child, may still be good, but not sufficient, for a grown person. If we are expected to become mature in what we eat and what we wear, not to mention what we read and what we think about, surely a Christian can be expected to acquire a more mature faith as well.

In Paul's letter to his young friend Timothy, we have some hints about what mature faith may be. Those who have studied these letters to Timothy and Titus have sometimes concluded that the two young men were opposite types. Titus is thought to have been a rather hard-boiled, hard-hitting type, and Paul has to urge him to be considerate and gentle; Timothy was shy and rather boyish; Paul has to urge him to be manly, to stand up and take it, and not to lean on others.

There are three marks of the mature faith which Paul wants his young former assistant to develop. First of all it is a "taught" faith; in the best sense it was handed down to him. His mother and his grandmother before him were women of faith. (Paul evidently thought it best not to bring up the men of the family.) Now it is no disgrace to have faith taught us, at first, so to speak. We learn everything else but breathing and digestion. Why not faith? Most people of strong convictions would tell you they received those convictions, to begin with, by contact with some one they liked or admired. There is nothing wrong with that, indeed it is necessary.

Truth-centered faith

But a faith that goes through life dressed in quotation-marks, is not worth much to an adult; "Mamma said," "Papa thought," "Grandpa had the idea..." won't do. The whole family may be right; but if you believe what you believe just because they said so, you're still a spiritual infant. They believed certain things to be true; and mature faith believes—so far as it can—what is true, not what is said to be true. "Do you ask me this of yourself," Jesus said to Pilate, "or did others tell you about me?" Pilate dodged the question; but we should not. Faith is not worth much, it is a broken ship in a storm, if it remains as it began, a heresy faith. When students learn physics, they have to perform many experiments in the laboratory. These test the truth of what the professor says in his lectures. The big question is not, Was the professor forceful, clear, eloquent? The question is rather: was what he said, true?

A tested faith

It is easy to have faith when everything is coming your way, when the breaks are with you. A child finds faith easy; a grown person does not. The reader of II Timothy will notice the various references to trouble, danger, illness, disappointments. Indeed when Paul wrote this letter he was a prisoner, facing a death sentence. A mature faith is one that can be as joyous as Paul's was even when the circumstances of life are ugly and painful. We pray, "Lord, increase our faith;" and then sometimes, instead of the heart-warming lift we were expecting, some chilling, dreadful experience seizes us, and we wonder why God did not answer our prayer. Well, nothing grows strong, not a muscle, not a brain, not even a bone, unless it is subjected to strains and stresses. So faith that is mature grows by facing the trials and the battles of the mature years.

Countdown time . . . 5, 4, 3, 2, 1, ZERO. America's heart skipped a beat. We held our breath through hours of suspense. And finally, the rescue. Mission accomplished.

Immediate reaction: "Thank God!" This was the cry of America, the mighty prayer which rose from its heart in a spontaneous flash of gratitude. THANK GOD.

It was pride we felt, pride in our skill and our scientific knowledge. But there was something more. There was FAITH. When man travels into the unknown, he needs the hand of God.

* * * * *

A new age has begun for mankind. Many more great days of exploration are ahead. Man will need the best products of mind and hand to conquer space.

But through every accomplishment, he will continue to need faith. Always from his heart will rise a fervent prayer, knowing that Divine help must be with him.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

Top Honors in 4-H Talent Show go to St. Paul and Burlington

Top honors in the 4-H Talent Show were captured by the St. Paul and Burlington 4-H Clubs, last Friday night at the Boone County High School Auditorium. A sellout crowd of 500 saw the St. Paul 6th Grade 4-H Club under the leadership of Mrs. Linda Kraus and Mrs. J. W. Hagedorn take first place in the club acts. Salt was a vital commodity to early Kentuckians. As late as 1813, lands were granted to individuals in Pulaski and Wayne counties at 10 cents an acre, provided the purchaser would establish saltworks.

Plymouth is the car with FUTURE DESIGN that leaves others years behind

Ask any 1962 Plymouth owner what he thinks about his new car. He'll tell you he loves it! We think you'll feel the same way about the '62 Plymouth, once you take this big, family-size car for a test drive. Plymouth has the look of luxury and the feel of quality that you are aware of the moment you slip behind the wheel. When you step on the gas, you surge to cru-ing speed up to 10% faster than last year's quick Plymouth. And Plymouth's Torsion-Aire suspension helps you take rough roads and tight curves with hardly a sway or a bump. Prices for the '62 Plymouth have been substantially reduced from last year! So come in and take a test drive at your Plymouth Dealer's today.

1962 Farm Income Expected To Be Up

Kentucky farmers can look for slight increases in gross and total net farm incomes in 1962, the U. K. Cooperative Extension Service economics department said this week in its business outlook letter.

This increases, the letter said, are "assuming normal weather conditions . . . and barring unforeseen off-farm developments."

Gross farm income increases may be offset slightly by expected increased production expenses. These include such items as machinery repair and operation, hired labor, feed purchased and real estate taxes.

Kentucky farmers' picture looks a little brighter for 1962 because the Federal government will continue its feed grain program, and the burley-producing states have just received a six-percent acreage increase for the 1962 crop.

Another reason net income per farm may rise slightly is the continued "expected decrease in number of farms in the U. S." Many farmers are leaving for non-farm employment.

Nationally and in Kentucky, in 1961, cash receipts from farm (products) marketing rose, the letter says. In the U. S. the figure was two percent, in this state, five percent.

LIST BENEFICIARIES ON GI INSURANCE POLICIES

Thousands of Kentucky veterans are neglecting to keep up to date their listings of a beneficiary for their GI insurance policy proceeds, Olney B. Owen, Manager, Veterans Administration Regional Office, of Louisville, Ky., said.

Because of this failure to keep the VA informed of changes necessary to reflect the births, marriages, deaths or divorces that occur over the years, their insurance proceeds may not be paid to the individual nor in the manner the veteran would wish.

The VA must pay the proceeds of the insurance policy to the beneficiary designated by the veteran himself.

Changes in family status cause designations made years ago to be out of harmony with the veteran's present wishes.

But M. Owen pointed out, the VA has no alternative but to pay the insurance proceeds to the beneficiary of record in the VA files.

He strongly urged all veterans holding GI policies to make certain that up to date beneficiary designations and payment methods are on file with the VA.

USDA chemists have developed a single treatment that gives cotton wash-and-wear properties and also permanently dyes, stretches and adds other finishing agents to the fabric. This treatment uses divinyl sulfone derivatives, which react with cotton's cellulose molecules to give a good wash-and-wear finish and, at the same time, attach other finishing materials permanently to the molecules. This treatment may allow manufacturers to use certain dyes and other chemicals that normally will not "take" on cotton.

If you use a pancake turner to slide sandwiches into waxed paper sacks, the soft fillings will not ooze out of the sandwiches in the process.

Keep a plastic tablecloth in your shopping cart and use it if you're caught with sudden showers, on the way home with a load of groceries.

THIS WEEK'S RECIPETuna-Cranberry Sandwiches

(Serves 4)

1 6½-ounce can tuna, chunk style
¼ cup soured cream
1 teaspoon grated onion
Dash of pepper
¼ cup jellied cranberry sauce
½ cup finely chopped celery
8 slices buttered bread
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
Combine tuna, soured cream, onion and pepper; mix well. Combine cranberry sauce and celery; mix well. Spread 4 bread slices with mayonnaise, top with cranberry sauce mixture. Spread tuna mixture on remaining slices and put the two together. Slice in halves and serve.

Plate racks are wonderful for keeping children's books and records in apple pie order. Young fry will enjoy using them for neatness.

No room in the bathroom for a hamper? There are hampers which can be attached to the back of the door so they'll be off the floor and save space, too.

Hands can be protected while you scour pots and pans with the aid of a plastic holder that snaps onto the scouring pad. There's also a companion piece, a plastic tray that holds the pad so it need not mess up sink or drawers while not in use.

When you paint radiators to match wall colors of the room, have them a shade or two lighter than the wall color as they will turn darker when the heat is turned on.

Food costs go DOWN
...with a Frostless
FREEZER

...and here's how Reddy Kilowatt suggests bringing them down!

Stock up on meat "specials" and seasonal foods when they're plentiful ... and low in price. A freezer keeps things for weeks ... provides out of season treats!

Cut down on shopping trips and buy for a week at a time. This reduces gasoline costs and saves wear and tear on the car.

And when making a casserole, stew, soup or baked goods ... recipes can be doubled or tripled. What isn't needed immediately ... can be frozen in a freezer ... for effortless meals later on.

Many of the new freezers are completely frostless, requiring no messy defrosting, ever!

Our American Legion Auxiliary Unit must be very serious about our Membership this year, as it is of great importance to every American. Many of our men died for what we have inherited and many fought for the Liberty and Freedom of this country and unless we are still willing to fight for it, we will lose it and they will have died and fought in vain.

We need the help of every eligible woman in this community, and we need it soon. We need your Membership, not just to say we have our quota, it is much more important than that.

If you have not paid your dues, or if you have not affiliated yourself with the American Legion Auxiliary, please do so at once.

Chief Worthington says it's very easy to do your bit. Simply take an hour or two to go over the things in your attic and basement or storage areas, and throw out any combustible trash that has accumulated. If you have old magazines and newspapers that you no longer need, then throw them out. If there is a broken rocking chair or other piece of furniture which you will never use again, throw it out, too.

Combustibles of this type feed a fire. We owe it to ourselves to reduce the possibility of fire.

Bailey S. Root Gives Talk On Civil Defense To Ryland Hgts PTA

Mrs. Paul Dorman, program chairman, introduced Mr. Bailey S. Root at the regular P.T.A. meeting which was held at the school last Tuesday. Mr. Root who is executive director of the Tri-County Civil Defense Authority, gave a most interesting talk on the subject of "Civil Defense Is Common Sense." He urged all parents to live up to their responsibilities by becoming more acquainted with the Civil Defense Program and to organize our family and schools in case of disasters such as floods, fall-out, tornadoes etc.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Keith Biggs, president. Members agreed to purchase a steam table pan for the school Cafeteria and to have a square dance which will be planned by the ways and means committee. Mrs. Donald Reid reported that each of the class rooms has contributed enough money to purchase 18 pieces of shrubbery which will help to beautify our school.

The nominating committee will report at our next meeting which will be held April 17th. Members serving on this committee are: from Forrest Hills district—Mrs. Quinten Robinson, Independence—Mrs. Donald Reid, Ryland Heights—Mrs. John Leistner, Spring Lake—Mrs. Douglas Stephenson and from Taylor Mill—Mrs. Dewey Parsons.

Mrs. Biggs read an invitation which applied to all sixth grade students and their parents from Twenhofel district to attend the next "Show me something that will go with purple jowls and a red nose with little blue veins in it."

It was announced that Mrs. Harold Buxton was re-elected president of the Kenton County Council.

Mrs. Russell Hogan had the honor of being selected as one of the five judges of Publicity books this year. The Ryland Heights Publicity Book was selected as a runner-up at the spring conference in Newport recently.

Mesdames John Leistner, Harold Buxton, Jack Martin, Albert Myers and Adolph Wieland are gathering information for a newspaper which will be edited the latter part of April.

Mrs. Kenneth Pennington was baby sitter during the meeting.

Hand mending takes more time than machine mending, but it is often less noticeable, gives a softer finish, and is more convenient at times. It may be easier to make a strong, inconspicuous darn on wool material if a piece of light-weight fabric is first placed on the underside for reinforcement. This fabric can be net or any other light-weight material of a harmonizing color.

A new system of using liquid carbon dioxide in truck refrigeration for frozen foods and fresh meats will help move farm produce easier, better and more economically.

Eighty Homemakers Leaders Met Mar. 22

Eighty leaders representing the Kenton County Homemaker's Association attended a workshop on Civil Defense held Thursday, March 22, at the Covington YMCA. Mr. Bailey Root, Executive Director of the Tri-County Civil Defense Authority and Dr. Morse Garrett, Radiation Director for the Civil Defense Office were the speakers.

"Survival Begins at Home", was the theme of the days program. Mr. Root stated that there is no practical program that would avoid large scale loss of life. But an effective Civil Defense program could save the lives of millions who would not otherwise survive.

"The public must understand that in the event of an atomic attack, individuals must be prepared to protect and care for themselves until help is available. We must be completely realistic and understand that a nuclear barrage will kill many doctors and destroy many hospitals."

Dr. Garrett gave a very informative talk on "Radiation and its Effect on the Human Body".

Discussions on the fundamentals of Civil Defense preparedness will be presented by local leaders in 30 communities of Kenton County, under the direction of the local citizenship chairman.

Although commonly called "Irish" this potato was first discovered in South America, not Ireland. The word "potato" is believed to come from the Spanish discoverers understanding of the South American Indian name for the plant, "papa" or "patata." Efforts to trace the origin of the potato suggest Chile as its native country. Wild species grow in the cool parts of Peru, Bolivia and Ecuador, but they seem less closely related to the modern potato than those now found along the coast and islands of Chile.

NOTICE TO WALTON WATER CONSUMERS

Is your water bill delinquent? The City Counsel has agreed when a water bill is not paid within two months, a warning shall be issued, and if no effort is made to pay the bill your water will be shut off. The water account of the city has had tremendous expense this year.

Early in the year we had several water main breaks. Several lines frazed and had to be thawed which was very expensive. Later a new stand pipe had to be erected at the water tower, the bowl of the tank had to be repaired, this cost the waterworks near $4,000. So you can see the need of our receiving your water bills. This is no idle threat. We tried to notify delinquent consumers in person, but find the job too great so please check your standing and make payment if you are behind. Some meters have already been removed, others will follow if payment is not made.

In Exercises In Germany

Army Specialist Four George J. Anderson, whose wife, Sara Dean, lives at 104 S. Main, St., Walton, Ky., recently participated in a combined arms phase of the five-week 4th Armored Division field training exercises in the Grafenwohr-Hohnfels area of Germany.

Training of this nature is designed to maintain a constant state of combat readiness essential to a modern Army deployed to maintain the defense of the free world.

Missionary Team To Speak . . .

Mrs. J. Richard Dodson

Dr. J. Richard Dodson

A husband and wife missionary team, just returned from the Congo, will be among the featured speakers at the General Assembly of the Kentucky Association of Christian Churches which will be held May 1, and 2 and 3 in the Central Christian Church, Lexington.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Richard Dodson are associated with the interdenominational Protestant Theological Seminary in Elizabethtown, Republic of the Congo. Both are educators and Mrs. Dodson has received the Master's Degree from the School of Nursing, Yale University. The Dodsons serve in the interdenominational seminary as representatives of the United Christian Missionary Society, the board for home and foreign missions of the Christian Churches. They are the first of Kentucky's new "missionary partners" to visit the State since that program was adopted in 1961.

The Dodsons went to the Congo in 1953. They were formerly stationed in Coquilhatville.

Another overseas educator will also be on the program of the Assembly. He is Dr. T. J. Liggett, President to the Evangelical Seminary in Puerto Rico. Dr. Liggett has been a missionary pastor and has taught church history in a theological seminary in Buenos Aires. Like the Dodsons, Dr. Liggett serves as a representative of the Christian Churches in an interdenominational seminary. Dr. Liggett is a graduate of Transylvania College and The College of the Bible and has served pastorates in Danville and Lexington, Kentucky.

Representative Edith Green, Congresswoman from Oregon, Dr. A. Dale Fiers, President of the United Christian Missionary Society, Indianapolis, and Dr. Spencer Austin, Executive Secretary of Unified Promotion, the "community fund" of the Christian Churches will also be speakers for the Assembly.

Staffordsburg

Mrs. J. A. Keeney—359-6066

This community was shocked and grieved by the sudden death on Tuesday, April 3, of Mr. Carl Riegler at his home on Staffordsburg-Visalia Road. Our sympathy is with his entire family. Especially his widow and aged mother.

The Homemakers will meet at the church on Tuesday.

Rev. and Mrs. Roy Martin of La-Grange spent Thursday, Friday and Saturday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Barnett.

Maybe most of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Randall Binder know of the arrival of a little daughter, who is known as Lori Lynn.

Mrs. J. B. Richardson suffered a rather bad fall on Tuesday of last week. We are glad to hear that she is improving.

Special services are planned for Holy Week here at the Methodist Church. Beginning on Sunday April 15th with the evening service at 7:30 and each evening thereafter and closing with the community service on Good Friday. Communion Service Thursday evening.

Among my callers for the past week were: Mr. and Mrs. Don Keeney, Mrs. R. L. Cooper, Miss Helen Richardson, Mrs. Dawson Ballinger, Rev. Roy Hunt, Mrs. T. J. Stephens, Mrs. B. Gibson, Mrs. C. S. Ropp, Mrs. Carsie Brinkley, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wharton and children and Mr. and Mrs. John Klette. I thank and appreciate everyone of them.

Mrs. David Irvine visited her mother one day the past week, before leaving for a Florida vacation.

Paul Hunt visited his Doctor on Friday and was glad to be permitted to go back to school on Monday. Mrs. Hunt's mother who came to help them in illness of Paul has returned to her home in Franklin, Ky.

Miss Helen Richardson, Mrs. Raymond Giles, Mrs. Forest Popp and Miss Nelva Giles attended K.E.A. on Thursday.

James B. Losey who was one of the sponsors of the Simon Kenton Seniors who made the trip to Washington D.C. reported a most enjoyable trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Losey and boys and Mrs. Flora Summey were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Losey on Sunday. In the afternoon they enjoyed a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gilligan of Batavia, O.

Our "extra" agricultural products, not needed to meet customer demands, now feed more than 90 million children and needy persons in the U. S. and 100 foreign countries.

This job is carried out through the U. S. Department of Agriculture's public food distribution programs.

The Cross Calls

Lesson for April 15, 1962

WE do not always talk the whole time of what lies closest to our hearts. A man may take some things for granted even when his friends do not know it.

Dr. Foreman

For that great Christian Saint Paul, the Cross of Christ was the central thing in life, not his own life only, but that of all men. The Cross "reconciles all things," he wrote to the Colossians (Col. 1:20).

Those who knew Paul knew this; so when he writes to his friends he does not mention the Cross in every paragraph. In the letter he writes to Titus, for example, an observant reader can find some fervent and grateful references to the cross of Christ; but most of the letter is (apparently) on other matters. Yet the Cross is always there, in Paul's thought. It was in his life, to begin with, of course.

The cross calls

Without trying to go into the details of this short letter to Titus, we may take it as a kind of sample, or background, to indicate how a man who found the cross of Christ central in his life, acted and thought—and wished his friends to do likewise. Including everything else, we might say that the Cross calls. The death, not less than the life and teachings of Christ, has a THEREFORE that comes with it. The Cross is not something one can take seriously and go on living as if it had not happened. Paul has seen into the meaning of it. "He it is who sacrificed himself for us, to set us free from all wickedness and to make us . . . eager to do good" (Titus 2:14, New English Bible). God had a purpose in the Cross; do we share it? Is the crucifixion just something that happened, or is it something that happens to me? Is the crucifixion just another horror-story in a tragic world, or is it God calling us away from evil to be his very own? Among the other things which Paul here says about the Christian life, one is specially intriguing. Speaking to slaves especially, people at the very bottom of the human pyramid, Paul calls on them to "adorn the doctrine of God." Truth about God is beautiful; but unless it is "adorned" by the lives of those who believe it, even the most important truths remain only dry propositions.

The cross compels

Some who read Titus for the first time are not attracted to it. There is a kind of hardness about the letter. It is full of such expressions as "must," "should," "see to it," "insist." It is full of imperatives. As translated in the New English Bible, Paul says that by the grace of God we are ("what do you expect him to say?—enlightened, comforted, edified, enraptured, made happy and bold? No, not any of these!—we are disciplined. "We"—Paul and Titus, Paul and Titus and Christians today, put your own name in if you will—are disciplined by the grace of God, which (Paul makes clear) comes to us through the cross of Christ's sacrifice.

Before we complain too much about that being a harsh way to think of the grace of God, we might remember some of the things being said today about the general flabbiness of easy-living Americans, and how we all need to become more hard (i.e. more fit) than we are.

The cross consoles

The sadness of the world is great, has always been great. Does the Cross deepen the shadows? It was a terrible event. Even supposing Christ to have been no more than a man, it is tragic that a young prophet, the teacher who gave us the Sermon on the Mount, was murdered—for it was essentially a "legal murder"—by his own people. But supposing Christ to have been the Lord of Glory, the Son of God, the tragedy is made infinitely worse. For this means that the goodness of God himself was rejected in hate. The crucifixion, whoever Jesus was, stands out as inhuman; but if this was truly the Son of God, then to crucify him was a deed for demons. No other tragic event in history witnesses to worse than this. And yet, from the beginning, Christians have been declaring, as Paul does often, that the death of Christ, so far from deepening the shadows, brings to the world its only consolation: that "while we were yet sinners, Christ died—for us."

NEW...

BUT NOT DIFFERENT

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Here and there America is building modernistic churches.

No one's quite sure where the trend will lead . . . or whether it yet should be called a trend.

But the thousands who have worshipped in these contemporary sanctuaries seem certain of this: The new architecture hasn't changed the age-old faith.

Christianity has known many forms of worship, many terms of expression.

But there has always been Unity underlying diversity. Christians worship the same God and Lord; they revere the same Cross; they search the same Scriptures.

Through human architects who express their devotion in different forms, The Divine Architect is pointing all men to the spire of Faith.

Advertiser Writer Is Candidate For 4th District Congressman

Gilbert W. Kingsbury, Ft Mitchell Democrat, appears to be emerging as the leading contender for the Fourth District Democratic congressional nomination, political observers believe. Word from his headquarters indicate that the Kenton Countian will base his campaign for the nomination on his work in the interest of civic projects. He has been given a large share of the credit for obtaining the Internal Revenue Service regional office for Northern Kentucky. The plant will employ 1800 persons with a payroll of $6,000,000. In getting the IRS office, he worked with state officials and retiring Congressman Brent Spence. Decision to place the office in Kentucky was made by President Kennedy. Ohio interests opposed the Kentucky site. Mr. Kingsbury also was instrumental in having the University of Kentucky establish its first off-campus center in Northern Kentucky. He was chairman of the alumni committee supporting the move. Last year he served for five months as acting director of the Kentucky Division of Tourist and Travel Promotion and during that time set up tourist information centers at LaGrange, Covington and other places around the state. According to a University of Tennessee survey, Kentucky tourist business increased during 1961 by $11,000,000. Recently Mr. Kingsbury was chairman of the Fifth District competition for community development. The Kenton County Democrat is a former Washington correspondent and served two United States senators from Kentucky as administrative assistant. He also was a member of the Kentucky House of Representatives from 1958 to 1960. He is a native of Covington and a graduate of the University of Kentucky. He is active in the work of his church, the Grace United Church of Christ, Covington, and is past president of the YMCA. He is also a member of the advisory board of St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington. Mrs. Kingsbury is the former Miss Sylvia Phillips, native of Grant County. They have one son, Bill, a Center College sophomore.

Calendars Being Sold By Band Boosters To Help Raise Funds

Have you ever seen a Community Birthday Calendar? It is being sold this year by the Walton-Verona Band Boosters as a fund raising project to help support the band. The calendars will be sold to individuals and you may have your birthday, anniversary, etc. printed on each sold for 25c for each date. Organizations may have their meeting dates put on the calendar, too. We have figured the costs and an organization can buy a calendar for each member and have their meetings listed for less than they can mail notices of meetings. This will be an attractive calendar with a picture of Walton-Verona School on the front of it. The calendar will serve as a reminder of all meeting nights and the birthdays and anniversaries of all your friends in the community. How many times have you sent a belated birthday card because you forgot the date of a friends birthday? A member of the Band Boosters will be around soon to take your order for the calendar. It will be made up to coincide with the school year. It will start with September. We of the band boosters are very proud of the band and earnestly ask your support to help make this project a success.

World understanding is the goal of the International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) the program which will take these three Kentucky girls to live with rural families in other countries this year. The three, all former 4-H Club members, are shown checking the location of their host countries, where they will learn about life the countries they visit by taking part in the everyday activities of their host families. They are: (left to right) Mary Jo Dixon, Boone county, who leaves for Turkey in June Barbara Landrum, Simpson county, who goes to Panama in August; and Laurel Hampton, Ballard county, who leaves for Finland this week.

Since entering the new educational building Sunday School attendance has increased approximately 25%. The average attendance in March was 453. The high attendance in April has been 477. We are expecting 550 in Sunday School Easter Sunday. Since our sanctuary seats only approximately 375 people it is creating a problem of space for the worship hour. To solve this problem there will be two worship services this Sunday morning. The first worship hour will be from 8:30 to 9:30. Sunday School for all will be at the regular hour of 9:45 to 11:00. Another worship service from 11:00 until 12:00. These will be identical service with the exception that the Youth Choir will bring the music at the early service and the Church Choir at the regular service. There will be room for everyone. You are invited to attend services Easter Sunday with your family.

Kenton County Homemaker Leaders Met on April 4, for "Work Shop" at Latonia Church

Sixty leaders of the Kenton County Homemakers Association assembled for a workshop held April 4, at the Trinity Methodist Church, Latonia. "Meals in Minutes" was the subject presented by Miss Zelma E. Byerly, Home Demonstration Agent. Miss Byerly stated that 30 percent of all married women are working outside the home, many other homemakers find that a preparation of a meal in minutes the usual routine in their home. Miss Byerly warned that quickly prepared meals must be carefully planned, nutritiously. Food shoppers who are informed and who wisely influence the market in their favor, those who buy with gay abandon and little care influence the market by default. The homemaker's purchase dictate what foods will be offered for sale, the form in which they will be available and the prices in the months and years ahead. Many new foods are on the way to the consumer, such as orange flakes, sweet potato flakes, bean powder, vegetable chips and dried honey. The leaders were served a demonstration luncheon which was prepared with minimum effort, other demonstrations included simple time saving tricks, and foods that can be made ahead of time and stored in the refrigerator. Requesting Approval For Belt Around Cincinnati Governors of Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio have joined in requesting approval by the Federal Government for at least 58.7 miles of Interstate highway to provide a complete belt around the Cincinnati Metropolitan Area.

Kentucky Highway Commissioner Larry Ward made public the request at 30 in a luncheon talk before the Covington Chamber of Commerce.

"portion" of the requested mileage has already been approved by U. S. Bureau of Public Roads but the number of miles approved has not been announced.

In a letter to Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges, Gov. Bert Combs of Kentucky, Gov. Matthew Welsh of Indiana and Gov. Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio emphasized that a full circumferential route was needed to "adequately serve, separate and balance the vehicular trips desiring to use the Interstate system in this area."

The three states recited according to the letter, that part of the mileage was approved in 1957 when the Bureau of Public Roads announced that "additional" mileage was being reserved to provide an Interstate beltline route either to the east or to the west of the city.

"Routes in both directions are needed, the governors said in the letter, to permit full interchange of vehicles between all five Interstate legs in the area.

Some 24 miles of beltline joining I-75 and I-71 north of Cincinnati are now being built and the segment has been approved to be Interstate mileage.

Preliminary engineering studies, according to Ward, indicate the need for a beltline segment of 34.5 miles on the east side of Cincinnati extending from I-71 northeast of Cincinnati tying into I-71 and I-75 southwest of Covington in Kentucky. The proposed corridor for this segment would place 24 miles of it in Ohio and 10.5 miles in Kentucky.

The west of Cincinnati section would run through all three states, extending a total distance of about 24 miles from I-75 south of Covington, along the south side of the Ohio River to a new bridge upstream from Lawrenceburg in Indiana, then north and northeasterly to I-74 in Ohio. The segment would include about seven miles in Ohio, three miles in Indiana and 13 miles in Kentucky.

Also asked for by the governors in their letter to Secretary Hodges was Federal approval to incorporate into the proposed beltline a short spur from the belt route in Kentucky to a new bridge crossing the Ohio River between Newport and Cincinnati.

"Cost of the entire project would be in excess of $121 million," Ward said.

When freezing foods at home, use a container with a wide top opening, home economists suggest. This makes it easier to remove the food before it has thawed completely.

Mrs. J. A. Keeney—359-4441

The Woman's Society of Christian Service held the April meeting at the home of Mrs. Dewey Parsons. The topic for discussion was "Responsible Christian Citizenship." Mrs. R. C. Hunt gave the devotional. Mrs. Ballinger conducted the business session in which election of new officers was the important item. Mrs. E. B. Rich was elected President and Mrs. D.

S. Keeney, Vice President. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Melvin Breuggens.

We were very glad to have a call from Mrs. Lou Ervin who was home for a short time on the weekend. She has been staying with her daughter in Latonia which makes it more convenient for her to visit Mr. Ervin in Veterans Hospital. She reports that he is right well satisfied and making slow progress.

Mrs. Stella Richardson and Mrs. J. A. Keeney were guests of Mrs. J. H. Klette and Mrs. J. H. Klette Jr., on Friday at their home in Park Hills.

The Staffordsburg Homemakers Club met at the church on Tuesday with Mrs. Ralph Howard as hostess in the place of Mrs. H. Cooper who is quite ill. The lesson on "Minute Saving Meals" was given by Mrs. Bluch Rich and Mrs. R. Harney. The covered dish lunch was enjoyed by all. After noon a White Elephant Sale was held. Beside building up the treasury these sales usually cause quite a bit of merriment, especially when our excellent auctioneer Mrs. B. Rich models some of the items. We had most of the members present also several visitors. The May meeting planned at the church with Mrs. J. A. Keeney hostess.

Mr. Thomas Borkers celebrated his nineteenth birthday on April 12th with a family party. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Damon, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Rice, Mrs. Caroline Armstrong and Harry Armstrong. All enjoyed refreshments of cake and ice cream. Mr. Borkers also enjoyed the cards received from neighbors and friends. We wish him many more birthdays.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Keeney visited his mother on Sunday.

The community Good Friday service will be held at the Staffordsburg Church from 12 noon to 3 p.m. We are hoping for a good attendance. You are also invited to the Easter Service.

Neighbors here regretted to hear of the death of Mrs. Flora Crawford Hoffman who lived for several years in this community. Our sympathy is with her children who have lost a loving mother.

• ONE STICK CONTROL. Pow-R-Flow Drive moves rider from 0 to 5 mph and reverses — all without jerking. Throttle controls blade speed independently of ground speed.

• EASY HEIGHT SELECTOR. Change cutting height from 1 1/2" to 3 1/2" by turning knob on control panel.

• SAFE. Very low center of gravity. Climbs 40-degree grade or goes across 20-degree rise without tipping. Separate clutch disengages and stops blade instantly. Extended grass chute for absolute safety.

It's everybody's job!

BRINGING NEW INDUSTRIES to a community and keeping them happy after they get there is everybody's job. No one man or organization can do it alone.

Community leaders help by initiating and carrying out long-range civic policies and programs attractive to industry. Owners and managers of existing plants help by welcoming industrial newcomers and making them feel at home. Men and women workers help by showing their willingness to do a full day's work for a fair day's pay.

Yes, and Southern Railway helps, too! Southern's Industrial Development Department constantly seeks new industries for available plant sites. Throughout the year, our national advertising urges industrialists to "Look South" for new and greater opportunities. And we do our best to provide an ever-better, low-cost mass transportation service, so vital to the modern industrial South.

All of this effort helps all of us. For a community's economic growth does more than provide new and bigger job opportunities. It quickly spreads out in all directions to benefit men and women in almost every type of service, trade and profession.

KENTON COUNTY FARM BUREAU IS GROWING

Membership in our Kenton County Farm Bureau is approximately 26% ahead of this time last year according to Joe Neumeister, chairman of the membership committee.

Although we are past the date set for our membership drive to end, we want those who have not yet joined to know that our membership rolls are still open. We are still anxious to secure as many members as we can for 1962. Remember that you have a stake in the future of the agriculture industry. Only through their own organization can farmers expect good representation. Only through Farm Bureau can you do your part to look out for your own interest.

Christ Reigns

Lesson for April 22, 1962

WHAT does Easter mean? Most grown people know it means more than Easter parades and Easter music. Perhaps most grown people, whether they are Christians or not, are aware that Easter goes back to a story of long ago, when in a springtime garden One who had been killed rose again in glorious life. Most Christians believe this story is true; but even those who do not, wish it could have been. Perhaps there is nothing in the Bible which an unbeliever would like to believe, more than the story of Easter.

The reason for this meets the eye at once. If the Easter story is true, if it actually happened, as the Bible witnesses plainly say it did, then "life and immortality have been brought to life" as one New Testament writer says. What assurance have we that death is not the last word for man? The Resurrection of Christ is the best assurance there is.

Christ the conqueror
There is another side of the meaning of Easter, often overlooked, yet very important in the New Testament picture of things. It is expressed in the ancient Latin expression, "Christus Victor," Christ the Conqueror. This is brought out in a little-read chapter of the Bible, Hebrews 1. Here the emphasis is on power. The Resurrection (odd this may seem) is not mentioned; the thought of the writer goes from the Cross ("purification for sins") to the Throne of the universe. Christ's appearances to the disciples are all by-passed in silence here. Christ is seen as sharing the Throne of God himself. It makes no difference whether we take the expressions literally or not; the meaning is clear enough. This is what we are challenged to believe: that Christ now shares the power of the "Majesty on high," the God of all the universes. The letter to the Hebrews was first read by people who lived in the Roman Empire, perhaps in Rome itself. They would be familiar with the custom of an emperor sharing his authority with a general who had been victorious in war.

—Over sin and death
What has Jesus conquered? The short but thrilling answer is: Sin and Death. These are the two great enemies of mankind. They have not been conquered even yet in the sense that they have been abolished. But it can be noticed that when an individual identifies himself with Christ, he no longer cringes at the threat of sin and death. He is enabled—as Paul said, by the same power that brought Jesus Christ from the dead—to rise above sin, to be "set free from sin." And although he faces death as much as any other man, the Christian does not fear it. This is not saying that no one can be a Christian who fears death. But we recall the familiar story of John Wesley and the storm at sea. Wesley was at that time a Christian, but that storm frightened him terribly. Then he discovered a group of Moravians happily singing hymns, not worried by the storm at all. They expected the ship to go down, just as Wesley did; but he was looking through it. Wesley's whole life was changed by that incident.

—Over ourselves
So Christ has set men free... yet not free to do as we please. Whatever "at the right hand of the Majesty on high" can mean, it must mean at least this: that the authority of Christ is on a level with the authority of God. Christ does not set us free for a kind of anarchy; a Christian is not a masterless man. He who is Lord over sin and death, over all the "powers of darkness," is Lord over those who are called by his title—Christians. But is this really so? Isn't it true, too often, that the only difference between Christian and non-Christian is in words only? The non-Christian says: Jesus Christ is not Lord nor Savior. The Christian says, Christ is Lord and Savior. And there too many Christians-in-word leave it. We are all quite willing to be saved; we are not so willing to take orders. The Christian-in-word begins to become a Christian-in-fact when as he begins to ask the same question Paul did: Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?

There were hundreds of trees along the Bethany Road. But no one noticed them. People were hastening over those last few miles, bound for Jerusalem to celebrate the feast.

Then the King passed by. A gentle Galilean with kind, sorrowful eyes — riding to His coronation.

People cheered and shouted Hosanna. Some laid cloaks on the dusty roadway. And then, someone discovered the trees... beautiful palms that had stood unnoticed. Their graceful branches became the carpet of the King!

And when men sought a name for that triumphal Sunday, they named it for the palms. It is a day for discovering the spiritual beauty God has planted along the road of life — a day to worship Our King.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

"ELECTRIC HEAT
is the most flexible..."

...say the family of prominent builder C. D. Brandenburg, Mt. Washington (Ohio).

Each room's electric baseboard can be individually controlled. "I can raise or lower the heat in any room without chilling or overheating the rest of the house," says Mrs. Brandenburg.

"And our new home's modern electric heating is so much cleaner than our former home's old fashioned heating system. My draperies haven't been cleaned in the two years we've lived here."

Mr. Brandenburg adds, "electric baseboards can generally be installed for less than conventional heating systems. Operating costs compare favorably...while maintenance is practically nil."

Hickory Grove Baptist Dedicate Church and Pastorium Sunday

Hickory Grove Baptist Church

Hickory Grove Baptist Pastorium

Rev. A. B. Colvin Is Principle Speaker

The Hickory Grove Baptist Church is observing a double dedication this Sunday, April 29. To be dedicated are the newly-completed pastorium and the church auditorium.

The pastor, Rev. Bob Zbinden, announced that a special afternoon service at 2:30 will be held in connection with the dedication. The principal speaker for this service will be Rev. A. B. Colvin, Director of Missions and Evangelism for Kentucky Baptist.

Rev. Chase Jennings, Superintendent of Missions for Baptist in Northern Kentucky, will also have a part on the program. Other guests will include three former pastors of the church: Rev. Frank Lipscomb of Morning View; Rev. N. B. Osborne of Covington; and Rev. C. S. Weldon of Hamilton, Ohio.

Hickory Grove is one of the oldest churches in Northern Kentucky. It was organized in 1800 as the Banklick Baptist Church. Around 1850 it was moved from the original location near Banklick Creek to the present site on Tylor Mill Road, one-half mile from Nicholson.

The building then erected was used for over a century before it was removed to make way for the new auditorium in 1958. The church has evolved from a rural into a suburban church with the rapidly growing community. The auditorium to be dedicated Sunday is the third to be used in the church's 162 year ministry to the surrounding community.

The surge in attendance has already cramped the space provided by the new building. The present resident membership is 270 and the Sunday School enrollment is 378.

The public is invited to attend the Dedication Services of the Building this Sunday afternoon at 2:30. All offerings taken that day will go against the building debt.

Local First Graders Should Notify School And Attend Clinic

Any child that will be six years of age on or before December 31, 1962 may be enrolled in the first grade in September. It is very important that school officials know how many boys and girls of this age are living in the Walton-Verona School District. Parents of these children or anyone knowing of a child of this age should contact the school in person or by phone (485-4293) and give the following information: name and birth date of the child, and the name and address of the parent.

On a date to be determined in the month of June the Health Department will conduct a pre-school clinic for the purpose of giving physical examinations and vaccinations which are required by law. Parents will be notified of this date by letter so for this reason it is very important that parents contact the school at once and give the above information.

KENTUCKIANS

Ammunition:

The Kentucky administration is rolling out the ammunition to get its tariff measure passed this Congress. Each state is receiving a list of goods which it exports and Kentucky is no exception.

According to the figures, the Blue Grass State ships abroad about $341 million dollars worth of products each year, ranging from cigarettes to dish washers.

A Breakdown:

Here are a few items which go overseas to foreign consumers—evaporated milk, truck-trailer axles, fire brick and decorated pottery.

However, the major exports include coal and tobacco, the latter of which totals more than $101 million. The price of coal comes to approximately $35 million. All in all, Kentucky ranks 22nd among the states with a foreign market.

Number Of Jobs:

A telling factor in any such story as the administration is trying to put across is the number of jobs involved.

According to federal figures, Kentucky's foreign trade provides 27,000 farm jobs. The manufacturing figure comes out, according to the same chart, to 57,000 jobs. The companies involved ship abroad above 5 per cent of their production.

Some Products:

Electric typewriters made in Lexington, towboats built in Paducah and tractors manufactured in Louisville are on the list of export items.

Other items include metal stampings, baseball bats and golf clubs, parking meters, grave markers and cremation urns.

Communities involved include Erlanger, Flemingsburg, Ashland, Maysville, Springfield and Owensboro among a score of others.

A quick and inexpensive way to clean a steam iron that has become clogged with mineral deposits is given by Mrs. Ella Anderson, UK Extension specialist in home management. Fill the iron with vinegar, heat it hot enough to steam, and then turn it face down in the sink. When the vinegar has steamed through freely, repeat this process using water instead of vinegar. Your clean iron is then ready for use.

Protect Strawberries

Early spring is the time of the year when red stele fungus attacks strawberry plants.

R. A. Chapman, U.K. Agricultural Experiment Station plant pathologist, says symptoms are most evident in the first bearing year from early spring through the picking season. Affected plants are stunted, grayish appearing, and on bright, warm days frequently wilt. These plants yield very little fruit and usually die. If they do survive, they will show no symptoms during summer but decline rapidly and die the next winter and spring.

The fungus is inactive in the summer, but active in early spring and fall. It is particularly active on poorly drained, wet sites.

Best control measures are:

1. Obtain plants from reliable growers to prevent bringing the fungus into new locations. 2. Don't plant strawberries in poorly drained, wet soil. 3. Don't plant in a field known to be infested or one which gets water run off from an infested field.

There are resistant varieties but man are undesirable from other standpoints or are not adapted to Kentucky.

Facets of Faith

Lesson for April 29, 1962

THE beauty of a jewel comes from the fact that it has many facets. The light is reflected from each of these facets, or surfaces, at a different angle. If a diamond were cut flat and square like a tiny window-pane it would not be nearly as beautiful as it is. Now faith is a jewel; and it likewise has many facets, or aspects, and all the more beautiful for this reason. Like all jewels, also, faith has many imitations.

Accept no substitute

What are some of the imitation faiths being offered the public today? One variety of "paste" or imitation faith, is faith without an object,—not faith in anything or any one, just "plain faith." This may even be a circular faith, faith in faith. This is not worth a dime. It is the most perishable of all the imitations. Another substitute is credulity,—the habit of believing anything and everything, believing whatever any one asks you to believe. Of such faith suckers are made. Another much-advertised substitute is faith that goes against facts, faith that believes the obviously and undeniably impossible. This is a very deceptive imitation, because true faith does go beyond what average cautious people call "possible." This imitation variety prides itself on absurdity, the more absurd the faith, the more credit the believer claims! If I believe that with God's help I can set aside more money than I ever have done, for His cause and service, that is real faith. But if I believe that after I have spent every cent of my weekly income I will have a ten-dollar bill left to offer God or to use myself, that is not true faith at all.

How faith keeps warm

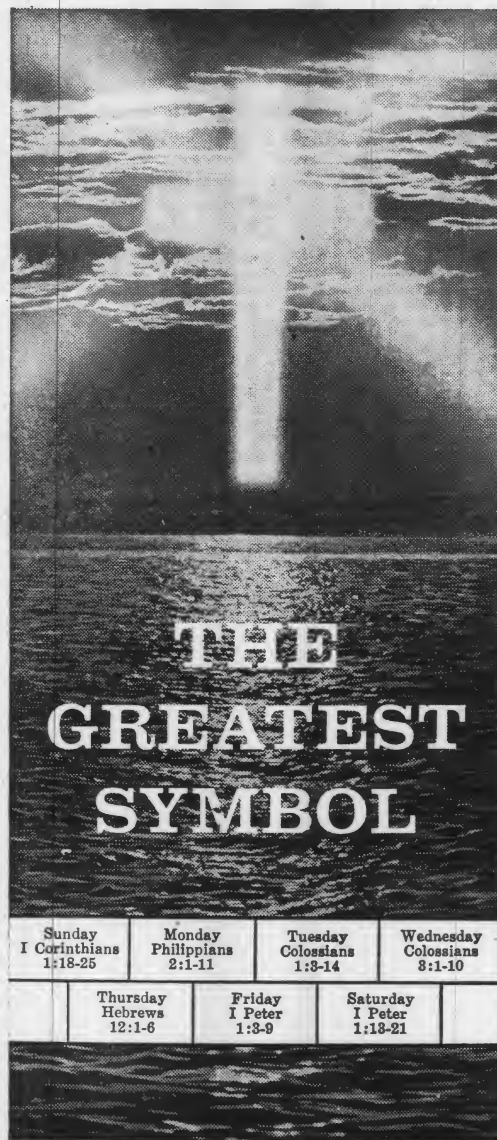

True Christian faith, as has been said before, is faith about Christ, faith in Christ and faith with Christ. Now there are certain features or facets of this, to which the Bible passages marked for this week direct our eyes. One is that it is easier to have faith when others all around us are men and women of faith, than when one is all alone. A certain missionary was in solitary confinement in China, with no communication permitted between him and any other persons except the police. Friends and relatives of his in America were praying for his release. He also was praying for it. There was true faith in his heart and in the hearts of his friends; but it was harder for him than for them; because they lived (comparatively) in a climate of faith, whereas he was in the midst of people who only derided his religion.

Looking to Jesus

The writer of the letter to the Hebrews says some strange and unexpected things. Once in the twelfth chapter he says "... looking to Jesus ..." Now we should expect him to say, "looking to Jesus, the object of our faith;" but he does not. Instead, he says "looking to Jesus the pioneer and perfecter of our faith." In other words Jesus is the one who begins our faith and the one who completes it. He is, in short, the model for all men and women of faith. This means that Christians should study the gospels over and over again, to learn the qualities, the seeds and the secrets of the faith which the Master held. With him, faith had a new beginning; with him, faith found its perfection.

Faith's discipline

Great poetry and trashy doggerel are both made of words; but the great poems are not mere jumbles of words and noises. They are patterned; that is, the poet cannot put down anything that occurs to him. Some words fit, others don't. Some words ring like bells, others clatter like squeaky wheel-barrows. So it is with all art. The artist must exercise control. It is only very cheap "art" that can be produced by throwing words, or paint, on paper or canvas at random. How much more this is true of the most difficult art, of life itself! The writer to the Hebrews reminds us that without discipline we never attain to a God-like life. God's commands may sometimes not agree with our own wishes; but to obey him is the way of discipline, the way marked out by faith, that leads to the life that is life indeed.

Sunday I Corinthians 1:18-25	Monday Philippians 2:1-11	Tuesday Colossians 1:8-14	Wednesday Colossians 8:1-10
Thursday Hebrews 12:1-6	Friday I Peter 1:3-9	Saturday I Peter 1:18-21

Since the first Easter, the Cross has remained the one great and enduring symbol of Christianity because it best expresses the meaning of faith. Like a precious jewel, the Cross shines with many facets of truth.

† The Cross signifies the hope of faith. It reveals God's love for us in the sacrifice of His Son. It is our assurance of His promise of salvation.

† The Cross signifies the challenge of faith. It reveals God's love for all men which we must share. It is the motivation of Christian action.

† The Cross signifies the victory of faith. It is the pledge of God's loving purpose in saving the world. It is the source of peace.

What does the Cross mean to you? On Easter — this greatest festival of our Faith, will you come to Church and discover its message?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

into backs, necks and shoulders of each animal every 3 weeks. Apply after milking.

Beef Cattle—Use a back rubber located close to watering places. Miller recommends such back-rubbers to be built away from trees, because cattle will use the trees instead of the back-rubber if the latter is too close to trees.

Material to go on the back-rubber is any one of these three:

Emulsifiable concentrate of DDT, Toxaphene of Methoxychlor. Each of these materials should be the 5 percent strength.

For home-made back-rubbers, use 1 gallon of mixture for every 20 feet of back-rubber.

HORN FLY CONTROL FARM CHORE NOW

Here are control measures, from R. L. Miller, U.K. Ag Extension Service entomologist:

Dairy Cows—Use a 4 percent Malathion dust at the rate of 4 tablespoonsful rubbed into the backs and necks of each animal every 2 weeks. Miller emphasizes the dust should be applied after milking.

Also useful is Methoxychlor 50 percent wettable powder. Rub 1 heaping tablespoonful of this powder

Lynda Worthington—Marian Scott Shirley Baker—Claire Roberts; Jimmy Mullins—Darrell Woods; Brenda Treadway—Natalie Scott; Russell McCord—Phil Evans; Wilma Goode—Julia Scott; Darlene Poore—Geraldine Scott; Linda Duchemin—Grandma Scott; Bobby Wilson—Abner Eskson; Harold Gadd—Albert Scott; Roy Strong—Edward Scott; Betty Burton—Edna Scott.

This three act comedy is the story of the Scott brothers and their families that haven't spoken in years. Now they're talking—and HOW they're talking! You've seen families like'em, but never in a play. More fun than two plays and one that'll have the audience holding its sides and crying "Great Scotts!" at the antics of the whole Scott family.

Beef Bull Test Sale Averages $492.50; Top Bull at $1500.00

That's the report from Nelson Gay, U.K. Cooperative Extension Service beef specialist.

Gay said 14 bulls not meeting requirements of the sale averaged $269.64 a head. Top bull performance-wise was a polled Hereford animal which sold for $1,500 by private treaty. It weighed 1,124 pounds, graded average choice in conformation, had a 2.97 pound daily gain average for 140 days and a weight-per-day-of-age of 2.90 pounds.

This bull and the others in the sale finished a performance-testing feeding period on March 30.

About 700 persons from several states attended the one-day sale. The feed test was conducted by the U.K. animal science department. Another test, to culminate in a sale, will start about October 1 at the Princeton station.

Walton Methodist to Observe Anniversary

Bishop Walter C. Gum

Bishop W. C. Gum Is Honored Guest

The Walton Methodist Church will observe its 78th Anniversary on Sunday morning, May 6th, with Bishop Walter C. Gum as the guest preacher. Following the morning worship service a covered dish dinner will be served in the church basement for the members and friends of the church.

Bishop Gum is the resident bishop of the Louisville Episcopal Area of The Methodist Church, with offices at Louisville, Kentucky. He most ably administers the work of The Methodist Church in the Kentucky and Louisville Annual Conferences, comprising 1,035 churches with a total membership of some 175,000.

Bishop Gum was admitted to the Virginia Conference in 1918 and since that time has been most active in the work of the church. He was elected bishop of The Methodist Church at the Southeastern Jurisdictional Conference in 1960 and assigned to the Louisville Episcopal Area. He is a splendid preacher and we are most fortunate in securing the services of our resident bishop for the Anniversary service. The public is invited to attend the 11:00 worship service on Sunday morning, May 6th.

The first Methodist congregation in Walton was started by Rev. W. W. Spates of Williamstown in the spring of 1884. The first church, which stood adjoining to the old school building on North Main Street, was completed and dedicated in 1886. The present structure was dedicated in June of 1930, with an additional dedication in 1953 when the annex was completed.

Willard Shropshire Is Named President of Livestock Association

The Kenton County Livestock Improvement Association was formally organized this week with Willard Shropshire, R 1, Walton being elected president. Glenn Riggs, Kenton Station, was named vice-president and William R. Brown, Piner, secretary-treasurer. Robert W. Scott, Ludlow, was appointed to represent the county organization on the district feeder sales organization. Other directors include Russell Rector, Charles Satchwell, Stanley Bird and James Osborne.

The group named Charles Satchwell, Lewis Lee and Glenn Riggs on the Feeder Calf Committee; Stanley Bird, William R. Brown and Robert W. Scott as the Youth Committee; Russell Rector and Paul Kohmann as the Feeder Pig Committee and James Osborne, D. A. Edwards and Floyd Roberts as the Program Committee.

Purpose of the organization is to improve Kenton County's livestock. A sale of quality baby beef feeder calves is planned for the local area in 1963 and arrangements have been made for county beef producers to sell on the Lexington feeder calf sale in October 1962. Hog producers have been given an opportunity to sell feeder pigs as an organized local sale in October 1962. The group has tentatively planned a beef cattle tour and field day (including a barbecue) for the coming summer. Active promotion of these and similar projects are immediate goals of the new organization.

Due to the Kenton County Livestock improvement Association are $5.00 which includes membership in the state-wide organization and also membership in the area sales organization. Membership also includes listing of the producer, type of livestock, address, etc., in the advertising brochure which goes to thousands of prospective buyers each year. In order that names of all local members be included in the new directory that will soon go to press, memberships will close May 10. Producers that are interested in becoming members of the organization are strongly urged to contact officers, directors, members or the County Agricultural Agent immediately.

Boone First Graders Must Pre-Register; Dates - Places Given

The Boone County elementary schools will have their annual pre-school registrations on the days indicated below, for children who will be entering the first grades of these schools in September, 1962. Parents are urged to bring these children to the schools they will be entering, in order to complete details of their admission to next year's classes. Children now in the first grade rooms will remain home on their school's pre-registration day, so that teachers will be free to talk with parents.

Since there are certain requirements of the State Health Department that must be met, the school nurse will be on hand to explain these requirements and to answer questions on the health program of the Boone County Schools. The principal will be available to help with information on school policies, and parents will be welcome to visit any classroom and observe the regular activities of the school.

Children eligible for entrance must have birth certificates or hospital records showing birth dates prior to January 1, 1957. It will be extremely helpful if the birth certificate or hospital record can be presented on Pre-School Registration Day. If it is not available at this time, it must be presented and recorded before the child can be admitted to the first grade. This is a regulation of the Kentucky State Board of Education. No child who is without this official record will be allowed to enter in the fall, so if you do not have this record, take steps to have it before September.

All the staff of the Boone County Schools join in extending a welcome to all parents of prospective first-graders. Experienced teachers have found that the child who comes to school with his parents on Pre-School Registration Day and meets his teacher and sees where he will go to school next year has a distinct advantage over the one who is not given this opportunity. Registration Day for each school is as follows:

Petersburg—May 9, Wednesday.
Hamilton—May 10, Thursday.
Florence—May 11, Friday.
Burlington—May 8, Tuesday.
Constance—May 15, Tuesday.
New Haven—May 7, Monday.
Bellevue—May 16, Wednesday.
Hebron—May 14, Monday.

(To Late For Last Week)

The Easter service here was most enjoyable, both the six o'clock and eleven o'clock services were well attended. The choir rendered many appropriate selections and Miss Layne Marshall sang a beautiful solo. Quite an interesting interlude was the presentation of a bible to Sharon and Jeffrey Parsons, who had been most successful in inviting folks to come to church. Rev. Hunt did not have much time left for his message, but gave us a very fitting and timely talk as the climax to the Holy Week service.

The good Friday service was most interesting. Several pastors from nearby churches participated. We were given many things to think about and make us have more appreciation of the gospel story.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Parsons ably assisted by Jeff and Sharon entertained Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Gabbard and daughter and Rev. and Mrs. Roy Hunt and sons with an Easter breakfast.

Mr. and Mrs. Chales Losey and son J. B. spent Sunday with Mrs. Dora House at Independence.

Mrs. Mary Northcutt of Latonia spent Sunday with her brother George Binder and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Rapp as they have done for a number of years, entertained Mr. Rapp's family for dinner on Easter. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Rapp, Mr. and Mrs. Denver Binder, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Binder and daughter Lori Lynne and Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Rapp, Jr., and son Stephen Wayne.

Misses Alma and Mary Stephens and Mrs. J. A. Keeney visited their relatives Mrs. J. B. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Baker of Grants Lick on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. L. M. Denser was called to Raceland, Ky., last week by the illness of her sister, Mrs. Charles Smith.

Miss Emma Yates spent the weekend with her aunt Mrs. Lillie Crawford of Washington, Ky.

We were very glad to have a number of visitors at the Sunday School and Preaching services on Easter. We sincerely wish that all would return and become a part of the congregation.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wharton and children Louise and Lynn of Dayton, O., spent the weekend here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Losey and sons and Mrs. Flora Summey visited with their relatives Mr. and Mrs. Byron Bailey of Indianapolis on Easter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lipscomb came to call on Mrs. J. A. Keeney on Sunday. She however was not home and sorry to miss them.

Against Pressure

Lesson for May 6, 1962

IT is so easy and respectable to be at least a conventional Christian in America, that we are shocked by the picture "Question 7," because it makes starkly plain the ugly penalties Christians have to pay in communist countries just for being Christian. Because there is such a difference between our country and East Germany (for example) or between our country and the Roman Empire in the first century after Christ, we are tempted to overlook the fact that we too live in a society that is still very largely pagan. The Christians to whom the Letters in the New Testament were written were reminded that they had come out of darkness into God's light. The darkness had not vanished, it was out there like a vast dreadful night.

Dr. Foreman our country and the Roman Empire in the first century after Christ, we are tempted to overlook the fact that we too live in a society that is still very largely pagan. The Christians to whom the Letters in the New Testament were written were reminded that they had come out of darkness into God's light. The darkness had not vanished, it was out there like a vast dreadful night.

Passions of the flesh

If we are not surrounded by pitch-blackness, it is because Christian ideas and ideals have permeated society as a whole. Much of America's "way of life" has Christian origins. Nevertheless, paganism may take the form of a grey cloud, a fog like the bright emptiness of an antarctic "white-out." Nothing can be plainly seen in it. This kind of pagan fog surrounds the Christian, often without his realizing it. We can take some expressions from I Peter 2, to illustrate. The writer speaks of "passions of the flesh that wage war against your souls." In America paganism, much as in the ancient and rotting Roman world, the suggestion is constantly made, in advertising, entertainment, literature and the ordinary "climate of opinion," that anything is all right for you if you really want to do it or to have it. Liquor is all right if you want it, the best reason for a divorce is just that you want one, young people don't have to wait until marriage before living with each other. These and other lies are circulated all around us, and it is hard to resist the pressure, hard especially for young people, who do not realize that the voice of "Everybody" may be just the voice of age-old paganism.

Among the Gentiles

The early-times Christians could not have been fooled by this. They knew that "Everybody" was mostly pagan. To look to popular opinion, in any Roman city, for Christian standards of living, would have seemed ridiculous. A Christian was expected to be different; they knew that much, or most of them did. Today "conformity" is very much the thing, but we do not ask, as we should, Conformity with what? with whom? Imitating people who do not even pretend to be Christian, is absurd; yet millions of church-members do it. Take two simple examples. There is a magazine about women's "hair-do's." It's what the magazine is all about, nothing else. Query: Is it a Christian use of time, brains and money to spend money making and buying a magazine devoted to hair-do's? Is there nothing more important to take a Christian woman's time?

Not just against

No one should suppose that the Christian life consists mostly in whacking pagans over the head with the Ten Commandments. Neither does it consist in merely not doing this and not doing that. Saint Peter did not lay out the Christian life as a series of Don't's "Live as free men... but live as servants of God." That's positive living, not negative. Honor all men, he says. Love the brotherhood. That's positive living in two directions. The Christian has dealings with non-Christians and also with Christians; and negative approaches are no help either way.

The best resistance against the constant pressure of paganism is not to keep shouting NO all the time. It is to find a way of living such that it will be the pagan, not the Christian, who discovers that his life is empty. The Christian can well get on without the pagan's "fun;" but the pagan may be turned around by observing the Christian's happiness.

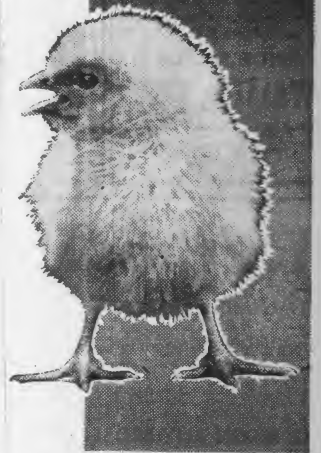

Fish is naturally tender. It should be cooked just enough to bring out the flavor and coagulate the protein—usually for a very short time. Overcooking will dry and toughen the delicate fibers and make them shrink.

Baby chicks can't talk — we know that. But we wonder what this little chick would think if chicks could think?

Probably he's bewildered... a great big world... great big problems... an orphan already... and hungry!

Yet, there's deep meditation here. Man is often like that little baby chick; bewildered, confused, wondering... especially those on the threshold of a new life or venture. We don't know all the answers, of course, but we do know some! We do know how to reach our Creator (PRAYER), how He reaches us (BY HIS GRACE).

We also know that the most serene place for such communion with the Creator is in church. Here you'll find many answers to many problems. It's worth a try, isn't it?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

Coleman Aboard Cruiser

James E. Coleman, electrician's mate third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Coleman of 5263 Stafford Heights, Independence, Ky., is serving aboard the guided missile cruiser USS Canberra, operating with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Since joining the fleet in late February, the ship has visited Cannes, France, and Palermo, Sicily.

In Palermo, the Canberra's crew discovered an orpange badly in need of repairs in the nearby town of Monreale. For six consecutive days, volunteers from the ship worked on the orpange, installing new window panes, repairing faulty electrical fixtures and repainting the inside walls.

As a final gesture, the crew donated enough money to buy a large washing machine for the orpange.

Spring Clean-Up Can Help Reduce Home Fire Hazards

Householders can take a big step forward in fire prevention by throwing out combustible trash which has accumulated in attics and basements or storage areas, Lewis A. Vincent, general manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, stated.

As Spring Clean-Up campaigns begin in communities from coast to coast, Mr. Vincent reminded that 11,700 persons lost their lives in fires in 1961, and increase of about one life each day over the previous year. Tens of thousands of other persons were injured in fires.

In addition, fire in the United States last year destroyed $1,209,042,000 of property, the largest dollar figure in history, and an increase of 9.1 percent over 1960.

F. H. A. BANQUET

Pam Shadler, secretary, and her committee, June and Joan Wagner, recognized those three outstanding F.H.A. seniors, Carolyn Heideman, Judy Courtney and Arlene Watson Porter. Each girl has her chapter degree and has served in several F.H.A. offices and on many committees during her F.H.A. career.

Toni Hoppenjans, incoming president of the chapter, presented the F.H.A. Award to Carolyn Heideman. To receive this award, the recipient must have her chapter degree, be a good student, be of good character, be courteous, dependable, punctual, attractive, cooperative, and be an active member of F.H.A. for 4 years. Carolyn meets each and everyone of these standards quite well.

Recognition was given to those working on their degrees; to Mrs. W. H. Heideman, chapter mother, the chapter advisers, cafeteria staff, waiters, and custodians.

Lis Hall, Paula Smith and Charlotte Rom presented roses to each girl's mother and the geranium centerpiecees were presented to several lucky mothers.

The festivities were concluded with the installation of the 1962-63 F.H.A. officers, President, Toni Hoppenjans; 1st Vice President, Pam Schadler; 2nd Vice President, Chloe Rhodes; Secretary, June Wagner; Corresponding Secretary, Verna Elliott; Treasurer, Jo Ann Rust; Parliamentarian, Rita Trapp; Reporter, Linda Smith; Historians, Bonnie Wolfe, Carolyn Roaden, Patsy Pfanstiel; Song Leader, Joan Wagner; Recreation Leader, Carol Cain.

In addition to the 150 mothers and daughters, other invited guests were last year's F.H.A. seniors, who were officers, the Future Farmer officers and their adviser, and teachers who helped the chapter throughout the year. This banquet was made possible thru the combined efforts of many people who supported our money-making projects throughout the year. Vicky Bravord was awarded a corsage for selling over 100 boxes of candy.

Serving Aboard Carrier

Arthur C. Green, boilerman fireman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Green of 25 Plum St. Walton, Ky., is serving aboard the anti-submarine warfare support aircraft carrier USS Lake Champlain, observed by President John F. Kennedy during a two-day visit on April 13 and 14 to the Atlantic Fleet in Norfolk, Va.

After a brief cruise in the fleet ballistic missile submarine USS Thomas A. Edison, the Presidential party boarded the tactical command ship USS Northampton to observe night air operations by the attack aircraft USS Enterprise and USS Forrestal.

The next morning, the President received full honors in a review of the Second Fleet, and, following an anti-submarine warfare exercise and an aerial firepower demonstration by the Enterprise and Forrestal, his party observed amphibious assault landings using both landing craft and helicopters at Onslow Beach, N. C.

KENTUCKY'S FIRST CONSTITUTION was framed and adopted in a log courthouse at Danville in 1792. Today a reproduction of that courthouse stands in Constitution Square State Park at the site of the state's first seat of government. The original post office—the first one west of the Alleghenies—and replicas of the courthouse, meeting house and jail can be seen here and were recently renovated. One of the new attractions of the park is a large painting depicting the work of the first Kentucky Constitutional Convention. Kentuckians first met in Danville in 1874 to discuss the matter of becoming an independent state. At the 10th meeting, eight years later, the new Constitution was signed. Soon after the signing, Kentucky was admitted to the Union. Constitution Square State Park, reconstructed and opened to the public in 1942, is open year-round with a self-guiding tour available to visitors.

Remember when?

IT wasn't so long ago at that. Before 1939, the sight of a steam engine on the Southern wouldn't rate a second glance. There was no other kind to see. Yet, fourteen years later, on June 17, 1953, we "pulled the fire" on our last steam locomotive in service and became the first major railroad in America to be 100% dieselized. That was a great day for the Southern — and for the South.

But all that is history now. We believe in looking ahead to what has to be done, not back to what has been done. And, looking ahead, we can see challenging new opportunities to increase our usefulness to our customers — and to the South.

Our approach to a policy of increased usefulness is through rigid control of all our own costs... more efficient services and better methods... and innovations in the design of freight cars which lower the shippers' packaging, handling and transportation costs. Our goal is to offer the most useful services possible at the lowest possible prices.

Much already has been done. Much more will be done. For all of us on Southern Railway are making an extra effort to increase our usefulness to those we serve. All in the South will benefit. And so will we.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express our appreciation and thanks to all of the many loyal friends and relatives for their kind deeds, during the critical illness of my Husband, Albert Parker, during his stay at the hospital and after returning to his home.

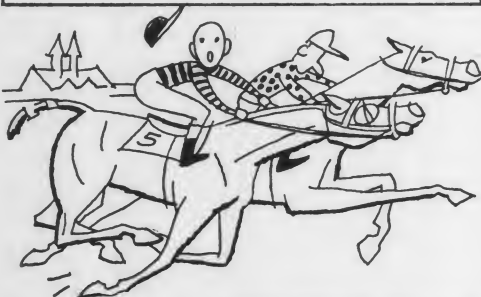

And to all the Ministers that visited him there, for all your prayers, to those who sent cards, candies and beautiful flowers. Especially to our

And all through the Easter season while, still critically ill, for the continued gifts of beautiful flowers, letters and cards, again, "I thank all of you."

WALTON HARDWARE AND DRY GOODS
WALTON, KENTUCKY

POISON WARNING

Household bleach, sold under various trade names, is a solution of sodium hydrochloride. If any acid substance is added, it will release poisonous chlorine gas.

Recently, two cases were reported where housewives were using a well-known toilet bowl cleaner. Not satisfied with the way the cleaner was working on stains, each of these ladies added some household bleach and stirred the mixture with a toilet bowl brush.

Death came in a few minutes to one of these women, the other, younger, survived but needed a long period of hospitalization and treatment.

This could happen to you or any member of your family.

To be sure that you never combine cleansers and bleach, keep them stored in separate places and keep both well away from food storage and medical supply areas.

(Vinegar and other acids will also liberate chlorine gas from bleach.) Never let children play with such compounds, they might accidentally combine with the two and add them

Take Your Stand

Lesson for May 13, 1962

SIMON PETER had been in jail himself, so he knew what he was talking about when he wrote to people who were going to jail. He was no well-sheltered man urging others to be brave. If he had been, we may be sure no one would have treasured his letter and saved it.

At the time 1 Peter was written, something new and frightening was beginning to disturb the Christians of Asia Minor. Outbreaks of persecution had already occurred and more was to come. The new feature of this was that Christians were being jailed, their property confiscated and themselves sometimes executed as criminals, because of their religion alone.

Is suffering inevitable?

Something like a panic was starting. Was God going to let his people suffer? Would God's cause be lost in the end? Should persecuted Christians strike back? Those Christians were as confused and alarmed as we would be if suddenly our government started raiding our churches and arresting us on no charges except that of being Christians.

So Simon Peter writes this letter, the main theme of which is the suffering of Christians. He does not indulge in the platitude of saying that suffering is inevitable. It isn't and it wasn't and he knew it, and so did they. They could save themselves a world of distress, even torture and death, simply by giving up being Christians any more. But Simon Peter does not suggest that way out. We know (from sources outside the Bible) that some early Christians did actually renounce their faith; but mighty few.

Criminal or Christian?

The upshot of what Peter writes is that it is inevitable that there should be some suffering, but on the other hand some ought to be avoided. Suffering is not a good thing in itself, it is not bad in itself. There is suffering of which one may be ashamed, and suffering for which one must thank God. Christians, of all people, who have to be punished for any kind of wrong-doing, ought to be heartily ashamed,—not ashamed of getting caught, nor suffering the penalty; they should be ashamed of the wrong-doing. But those who suffer because they are Christians have no cause for embarrassment, much less shame.

On the other hand it is not right to covet being a martyr. In the early church there was a good deal of trouble with over-enthusiastic, we might say fanatic, people, who did everything they could to get themselves arrested and even executed. The church had to hold a steady hand on these eager-beaver martyrs. And yet when it came to the pinch, the very bishops who had discouraged rash martyrdoms, went bravely to their deaths rather than renounce their faith.

All sounds very modern

First Peter is one of the most up-to-date books in the whole Bible. We are living in a time when, in more than one part of the world, it is literally as much as your life is worth, to be known Christian. When the communists took over North Korea, where the Christian church was strong, one of the first things the government did was to organize the ministers into a sort of pro-government propaganda association. Some ministers yielded; but some resisted and were "liquidated" by firing squads. Some of these ministers had sons, who in turn were in danger of their lives, merely because they were sons of ministers. What should these boys do? If they had been like those ancient Christians who went out of their way to get killed, they would have just given themselves up and been shot. What they did was to escape, at great risk, and eventually come to America, where now they are preparing to go back and help what is left of Korea. But even in America they have had to take a stand, as Peter put it. They have been ridiculed for "sticking their necks out" again; their faith has been attacked (in medical school and otherwise) by skeptics; the paganism of America, subtle and glittering, tempts them on every side. They could be rich and comfortable here; but they are going back, to serve the needy, in Christ's name.

Secure in LOVE

Kathy is secure in her mother's love. Trust and peace gleam in her eyes. Happiness and hope shine in her face.

But Kathy has her heartaches. She falls and skins her knees. Or she loses her favorite dolly. And then her eyes are flooded with tears.

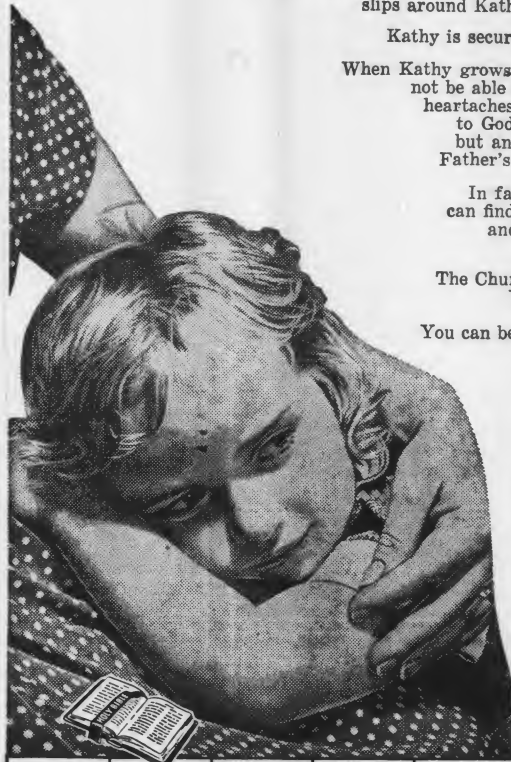

Mommy is always there to help. The knee is bandaged and kissed. The dolly is found. As Mommy's arm slips around Kathy, the tears are dried.

Kathy is secure in her mother's love.

When Kathy grows older her mother will not be able to love away the adult heartaches. But Kathy can turn to God. Her mother's love is but an echo of the Heavenly Father's love for His children.

In faith and prayer, Kathy can find His all-sufficient help and feel beneath her His Everlasting Arms.

The Church guides you to God. You can discover your destiny as His child. You can be secure in divine love.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

$14,000 Thrown Out Car Windows Each Month, Say Experts

Motorists in Kentucky are throwing $14,000 out their car windows each month.

This is what it costs the Kentucky Highway Department, and ultimately the taxpayers, to pick up litter from roads and rights-of-way.

"Until motorists are convinced that the paper and trash they throw from their cars is in effect money out their pockets, efforts to keep the state clean and green are going to cost more and more," Highway Commissioner Henry Ward said.

The Highway Department, Ward said, is accelerating its Spring clean-up program in anticipation of the approaching travel and vacation season.

Reports from the 12 district highway officers show highway crews doubling their efforts to keep roadways clean by picking up paper, bottles and cans; placing more "No Dumping" signs; removing junked vehicles from rights-of-way, and adding more litter barrels.

Other steps being taken by the Department include the planting of trees, reseeding bare and eroded areas, reconditioning picnic tables and other equipment in roadsides parks, and spraying and cutting brush.

In addition, all district officers are enlisting the support of civic organizations and public officials to help with the project.

"I urge all Kentuckians to help with this program so we can present a cleaner, greener Kentucky to the traveling public," Ward said.

During March, the Sixth Highway District reported the following activities:

NEXT YEAR'S all-girl top officialdom for the 1963 Kentucky Youth Assembly at Frankfort is shown with this year's Gov. Robert Rich of Simon Kenton High School at Independence. Standing beside him is the 1963 Governor, Susan Kumpke of Beechwood High at South Fort Mitchell, first girl elected chief executive in the Assembly's 17-year history. She was speaker of the House this year. Other 1963 officers will be (from left) Lynn Salisbury of Prestonsburg, speaker of the House; Joan Landrum, also of Beechwood High, lieutenant-governor, and (at right) Jackie Stull of Dayton, secretary of state. The 1962 Assembly drew 646 teen-age delegates from 125 high schools all over the state. In addition to the educational phases of the make-believe State Government, the youngsters enjoy such entertainment features as a banquet and Governor's Ball. Sponsor of the yearly event is the Kentucky Y.M.C.A.

Cleaned rights-of-way, removed debris and thoroughly cleaned all Ohio River Bridges, placed "No Littering" and "No Dumping" signs of various spots throughout the district and added approximately 50 litter barrels.

The Sixth District includes the counties of Carroll, Gallatin, Boone, Kenton, Campbell, Owen, Grant, Pendleton, Harrison, Bracken and Robertson.

Kentucky Added To States Conducting Scabies Eradication

The state of Kentucky may be added to a list of states conducting a state-federal campaign to eradicate sheep scabies, the USDA said this week.

Scabies (also called mange or scab) is caused by mites. These tiny pests puncture the skin of sheep, the host animal. Chronically diseased areas harden and get a scaly crust. Seriously infected sheep lose weight and fleece, and may die unless treated.

Eradication procedures have been agreed upon by the USDA's Agricultural Research Service and the Kentucky Department of Agriculture. A notice of intention has been published by the federal agency; this allows 45 days for comments and views. These should be directed to the Animal Disease Eradication Division, Agricultural Research Service, U.S.D.A., Washington 25, D. C. All information received will be considered by USDA before final action is taken.

Disease-control workers (state and federal) would supervise dipping of infected or exposed sheep to rid them of mites. Other control measures include restricting movement of sheep that may be mite carriers, inspection of sheep to locate outbreak sources, reinspection of flocks after treatment, and setting up a report system on suspected cases. Similar programs already are in progress in New York, New Jersey, Tennessee, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Michigan, N. Dakota, S. Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, New Mexico and Hawaii.

They were guests of honor at dinner parties given by Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Denby and Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Sulzberger. While in the Virginia Tidewater Area they visited the Azelia Gardens in Norfolk, Historic Jamestown and Colonial Williamsburg.

They toured the Nation's Capital taking in important points of interest such as the White House, Bureau of Engraving, Smithsonian Institute and the Washington Monument.

IT'S KNOT-HOLE TIME!

The knot-hole games have started again. This year they have a Class D team. It is made up of boys ages 7 to 10 years. They have played two games. First game with Twin Shells which they lost 9 to 5; but they came back in second game with Burlington, winning 12 to 10.

Today (Thursday) they will play the Jaycees at Boone Lake field. If you enjoy baseball come and help these youngsters.

Did you know the amount of daylight in your area affects the growth of your garden flowers? The day's length makes a difference in the appearance of many flowers, according to USDA's Agricultural Research Service scientists. Some petunias, for example, become single-stemmed and flower very quickly when exposed to about 16 hours of light daily. But, with only 10 hours of light each day, they develop into many-branched rosette-like plants.

Clean Outside When "Spring Houseclean Fever" Strikes You

When "spring housecleaning fever" strikes you, start a clean-up campaign outside as well as inside your home. Check the lawn, the basement, the garage and other buildings around the home. An attractive home is neat on the outside as well as the inside—and it's safer, too, points out the UK Agriculture safety committee.

Get rid of stacks of old magazines and newspapers, discarded clothes, rags, mattresses, old furniture, and other junk—all the clutter that gathers in garages, basements, attics and closets. These are danger spots where a fire might start.

Inspect and repair broken and worn steps and stairs. Pick up any broken glass, rusty tin cans and loose boards.

Get rid of dead grass and brush around buildings, along fences, etc. Now is the time, also, to rake the lawn. Use a good, stiff broom or a leaf rake with flexible steel teeth and "sweep" instead of "rake" the trash to avoid injuring young grass.

Young trees, shrubs and evergreens that have been mulched with manure need clean-up attention, too. Remove the coarse parts of the manure and work the rest of it into the soil to a depth of 2 or 3 inches, KU Extension horticulturist recommend.

If you live on a farm, remind other members of your family to check farm shops and fields for needed spring cleanup. Also have someone inspect and clean the furnace, chimney, stoves, brooder, and heaters of all types.

After your clean-up chores inside are finished, spread some paint to brighten up the place, plant some flowers, and be ready for spring with a neat, attractive, and safe home.

Cold-Damaged Tobacco Plants No Cause for Alarm

Cold, windy nights of recent weeks have caused some plants in tobacco plant beds to show cold-weather injury.

But no real harm has been caused, says Russell Hunt, U.K. Ag Extension Service tobacco specialist, unless the ground has been frozen and has heaved.

Plants affected by the cold nights will grow out of the temporary injury, Hunt said, when the weather warms up. Effects of the cold nights will be visible on young plants for some weeks, but usually there is no loss from such causes.

However, Hunt said, if the ground became frozen and "heaved" (soil pushed up into clumps), damage can be more serious. Best way to combat this is to use a roller on the beds, or tramp down the heaved earth. Rolling or tramping can be done without damage to the plants (aside from minor bruising, from which they will recover) if care is taken.

Hunt advises against adding fertilizer to either cold-damaged plants or plant beds which have frozen and heaved. If beds were prepared properly, there is ample fertilizer in the ground. Adding more may cause plants to burn or be killed.

SPECTACULAR CONSTRUCTION ACTIVITY on the Western Kentucky Turnpike is shown in this photograph taken at Dog Creek, four miles west of Caneyville in Grayson County. Construction contracts have been let on 19 sections totaling about 100 miles. Tobacco Association Still Receiving Agreement Cards

The Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association is still receiving signed agreement cards authorizing the use of 50 cents in dues to the Burley Sales Promotion Fund.

A few cards daily come into the Burley Association's offices in Lexington from growers who only recently found the cards which they apparently had laid aside and forgot to sign mail months ago.

The signed agreement cards are necessary before the 50 cents paid by holders of marketing cards in the 1961-62 sales season can be used in the fund through which the growers themselves help to support burley market development work at home and abroad.

More than 70,000 signed cards have been received by the association and for a first-year response, this is considered a high return, W. L. Staton, executive secretary of the Burley Association, said. In some areas, growers received no cards when the tobacco was sold. Distribution of the cards was one of the problems involved in the operation of the fund.

Export Association; for working with tobacco delegations from abroad who

"We know," Staton said, "that the majority of the growers support the promotion fund, but one reason or another, many failed to sign and mail the cards. We are afraid many growers felt the card not necessary. It is necessary. Without it we can not use the 50 cents in the promotion fund."

The Association has about $42,000 for which it has no cards, and this money will be kept in a separate reserve account, Staton explained.

Agreement cards will be enclosed when the Association mails final distribution checks on the 1954 crop of burley about June 15.

"We are sure thousands of growers who did not sign and return the cards during the sales season will send in these agreement cards to cover a considerable amount of the promotion fund money we have," Staton said.

The promotion fund is used in supporting the work of R. C. (Dick) Travis, the Association's blending expert who assists foreign manufacturers in the development of burley blends; for expanding the projects of the Burley and Dark Leaf Tobacco

Use Certified Seed

The Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station recommends that Kentucky farmers plant Kentucky certified seed of all crops, when this is possible. This general recommendation is made because certified seed is the only class available for planting which has required standards of quality established. When planting uncertified seed a person has no way of knowing just what he is planting. Any seed that bears a certification tag of an official state certifying agency must be as good or better than the minimum standards of quality for certification and in most cases will make more money.

Control Black Rot in Grapes

There is no use trying to control black rot in grapes next summer. The time to begin that control is now. The first spray should be put on when the new shoots are on inch long and a second spray when the first blooms open. A third spray is used when blooming is finished and a fourth spray when the grapes are as large as garden peas. A good material to use is Captan, 2 level teaspoonsful to a gallon of water. Black rot is not hard to control but the time to begin spraying is now.

Crittenden Park Is Sight of Exciting Sports Events All During Season; Check Weekly

If the activity of last Friday and Saturday are any indication there is a good possibility that the Soft Ball Season's activity being conducted at the Crittenden Ball Park and sponsored by the Fire Department will be among the best conducted there in recent years.

The games on Friday night saw the first "no hitter" of the season as well as the first game of the season. This game saw P.&G. the victor over the Walton team, but even at that we must not sell the Walton team short because there was only three hits given to the winners in the game which speaks well of their pitching ability that night.

The new team in the league, Burlington, suffered a defeat at the hands of the team from Falmouth, but this is not an indication that they are necessarily the weaker team when we take into consideration that they were not privileged to play as many practice games as their opponent. When the Burlington boys get a little more seasoned we do expect more from their team effort.

Voting Machines To Used in May Election

MARK W. LEIGHTNER

Mark William Leightner, one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Leightner, 6337 Jimoe Ct., Independence held Monday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

He is survived by two sisters, Melissa and Sue Lightner, both at home, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. William Pittman, Covington.

Services were held Wednesday in Covington.

Method Operation Fully Explained

Boone County voters will use voting machines in the Primary Election on May 29.

Voting machines have been used in Florence for several years. The county now owns twenty machines and they will be placed in all of the voting precincts in time for use on election day.

Use of voting machines will eliminate the long, tedious tallying of votes after the polls close.

When polls close now the election officials will be able to record the number of votes cast for each candidate within ten minutes.

As each vote is cast it is instantly recorded on a small numbering machine beside the candidates name. All votes are recorded. It is not possible to void a ballot by improper marking.

The persons serving as election officials at the Primary will need to learn how to operate the voting machines.

On election day each voter will be provided with a sheet of instructions on the proper manner to cast votes for the candidate of his choice.

1. Report to the Election Officials at the tables. You will be given a ticket showing that you are entitled to vote.

2. Give ticket to Official at the Voting Machine.

3. Enter Voting Machine. In the upper left corner, above your normal eye-level, is a small red button lever. Turn it to the right. The curtain will close and prepare the machine for voting.

4. Read the list of candidates and the offices they are seeking.

5. You can vote for only one candidate for each office.

6. Select candidate for whom you wish to vote. Beside the name is a small black lever. Push this lever down. An X will appear beside the name.

7. Leave the lever down.

8. Do the same for each person for whom you wish to vote. Leave the levers down.

9. When an X is showing beside the name of each person for whom you wish to vote turn the red button to the left.

10. The X marks will disappear. Your votes are recorded in the machine. The curtains will open and you have completed voting.

Raymond Watsons Leave July 1 for Five Years in Rhodesia

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Watson and children, Kevin, Stephen David and little daughter Shauna, will leave July 1st for Nydri in Southern Rhodesia, where he will serve as Hospital Administrator at the Washburn Memorial Methodist Hospital.

It is a 250 bed hospital and a more modern one than the Bishop Lambette Memorial Hospital in the Central Congo, where he formerly served. They deeply regret that conditions in the Congo prevent them from returning to their work among the Otetela people, whom they love very much.

Mr. Watson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Watson of Walton.

The family will spend a few days in England sight seeing. They are very capable and efficient in their work. It means a lot to leave their parents and loved ones, they will be gone five years. We wish them the best of health and happiness in their new post.

TWO OUTDOOR WRITERS, James Kearn (left) of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, and Joseph Celania (right) of Evansville television station WTVW, show Gov. Specialist Advises Caution In Tobacco Weed Control

Joe F. Freeman, U.K. Ag Experiment Station weed control researcher this week cautioned Kentucky farmers against use of one particular weed-control chemical on tobacco crops. It was used in demonstrations last year.

Stunting of plants or reduced stand of tobacco can result from improper use of this material, or from its use under unfavorable conditions, Freeman emphasized. It should NOT be used for the entire crop.

This precautionary notice is issued, he says, because of many requests from farmers for information on use of materials which looked promising in research-demonstration plot last year.

But, said Freeman, the herbicides used were in demonstration plots rather than on entire crops and were a part of investigative work to determine the materials' value and safety for use.

And, he said, only one of the materials used "experimentally" last year has a clearance for even partial use this year. That one is Eptan, which "looked promising." But its label clearance this year is for only small plots, Freeman said, not entire crops.

Freeman said weed control demonstration plots are being established again this year in many counties. In addition he will have four research experiments going in four state areas.

Day of the Lord
Lesson for May 20, 1962

THESE lines are typed in faith. There is perhaps no more than an even probability that they will ever be printed. What with all the preparations for total destruction which are being made in Russia and America, and all the ways in which a war (again one of total destruction) can be started by sheer accident, one chilling sentence from I Peter seems to fit the situation: The end of all things is at hand.

Yet it is possible that these lines will be printed; and if the world lasts that long, we may be thankful. But if the world continues, fear will continue too, and crisis will follow crisis as far as eye can see. People will be asking, as they are asking now: Is this the end of the world?

No time—tables
We should remember that while an atomic catastrophe (you could not call it war) might well mean the end of the United States, the end of Russia and of Europe, the end of all we know as civilization, and the plunging of the rest of the race back into darkest barbarism,—that is still not the clean sweep to which the Bible looks forward. Second Peter and Jude, for instance, both picture a total destruction not only of the human race in its present form, but of the earth itself. By comparison with that, the disappearance of a civilization is a slight affair.

Now the writers of the New Testament, if you could have said to them, "It looks as if civilization is on its last legs," would have said, "Of course that's true." But they would not have fretted or feared for a moment. When the End came, most people would be terrified; but they did not expect Christians to be afraid. On the other hand, the early Christian apostles and teachers rejoiced in looking forward to the Last Day, a day so all-important that they sometimes called it simply "The Day." However, no New Testament writer tried to set up a time-table. They did expect it in their lifetime, at first, but later books (2 Timothy for example) show that they realized the Day would probably not come while they lived. They left the WHEN to God.

What sort of person?
We catch glimpses, in various parts of the New Testament, of various ways people reacted to the likelihood of an approaching End of All Things. Some screamed for hills to cover them (how modern that sounds!), some gave up all ordinary business and spent their time just talking about the future, some (not the writers of the New Testament but other people) painfully tried to piece together mysterious prophecies from the Old Testament so as to predict the very time. Second Peter warns against too much calculation. The Lord's clocks and calendars are not geared to ours; a thousand years to us may be a day to him, and also vice versa. It may be later than we think, or earlier, we don't know. However, 2 Peter has no hesitation about predicting the End. You might almost think he could see the nuclear cataclysm: "The heavens will pass away with a loud noise, and the elements will be dissolved with fire, and the earth, and the works upon it, will be burned up." But now see how he goes on from there. Since these things are so, "what sort of persons ought you to be?" The end of all that we know about will not be the end of us. Death is a deceiver even when millions die at one moment.

The Christian way
The writer Jude, who also has some pretty grim things to say about the End, concludes his short letter with a beautiful benediction. In one sentence he sums up the Christian attitude toward destiny. First, it is in God's hands, and we should not forget this. Second, God will keep his people—not necessarily from danger or suffering, but from "falling" into sin or despair. And most of all, Jude wants his readers to keep their minds on God and remember who he is; the only God, who saves us through Christ our Lord; the eternal God, whose kingdom and whose authority will not end when this little planet has vanished. Thinking of ourselves, we may well tremble; thinking of Him, our hearts are strong with hope.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Clearance, weather information, assigned altitudes and airways, landing instructions . . . we take these for granted. We simply fly from point to point, our progress and safety undergirded by an intricate web of scientific communication.

Perhaps that's why, today, so many assume that some celestial system ought to assure everyone comfort, success and happiness.

But the control tower can operate only because every pilot respects its purpose and has faith in its instructions.

Our moral progress and our spiritual security are the constant concern of the Church. Its worship and guidance undergird the lives of all who respect its Purpose, and have faith in the truths of God which it teaches.

Christian Churches To Make Study of Present Problems

A frank study of the Christian Church in terms of its relevancy to the demands of the present day and world is to be made by a panel of five members at the semi-annual assembly of the Northern Kentucky Association of Protestant Churches Monday evening, the 21st, at Madison Avenue Christian Church, according to announcement by Dr. Jesse L. Murrell, Executive Secretary.

This supper meeting to begin at 6:00 o'clock is for pastors and laymen of Boone, Campbell and Kenton counties, and the program is the outgrowth of studies made by the Spiritual Life and Evangelism Committee of The Association which reveal a need for higher standards on the part of both Christians and their churches if the Kingdom of God which Jesus envisioned for the earth is ever to come.

"This panel therefore," said Dr. Murrell, "is designed to stir up the minds and hearts of those who attend the meeting, and any who may be unable to arrive for the dinner are invited to be there by 6:45 for the program.

Members of the panel are Rev. C. Albert Nunery, Moderator, Mr. Barry Erb (a youth), Rev. John Gantt, Mr. C. R. Rouse, Mrs. Otto M. Budig, and Rev. Daniel S. Packard. A discussion period will follow the panel.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Mrs. Carrie Rouse want to express their sincere thanks to all our friends and neighbors for all the thoughtful things done through the years of Mom's illness and especially the past week at her death. We can't begin to express our thanks to all, but we can assure you every thought and deed was deeply appreciated.

Once Over Lightly

B. M. ATKINSON

I READ IN MY hometown paper the other day that Mr. Dillard Malone, who used to have a dairy out on the edge of town, had died. If he goes where I think he will, he'll be put in charge of the celestial milking barn where all the milking and everything is done by electricity. That would make him happy.

But if the saints hold cussing against a man, he is going to wind up some place else and spend all eternity hand-milking a cow known as Old Maude. For him that would really be hell.

Old Maude lived back before the days of electric milkers and as far as all we boys in the neighborhood were concerned she was the star attraction of Mr. Malone's herd.

She wasn't the type of cow that believed in giving milk, you had to take it away from her. But this wasn't evident by the way she entered a milking barn. She acted like she was so eager to be milked that she couldn't wait to get into the stanchion reserved for her, she would try getting in the stanchion with the first cow she came to.

This would always start the cursing because in backing her out she would always manage to step on either the foot of Mr. Malone or one of the colored boys helping him. All of this seemed to offend Old Maude and by the time she had been driven down to the stanchion reserved for her, she had lost all enthusiasm for being milked and two of them would have to get behind her and push her in.

Then the fun would really begin. Old Maude was the untidiest and most indifferent cow about her udder that ever lived. When she wasn't getting it muddy in the pasture swamp she was dragging it through briar patches. So when it came milking time it wasn't a matter of just rinsing it, you had to give it a bath and then with all the scratches on it, it looked more like it ought to be bandaged instead of milked.

Mr. Malone wouldn't pay any attention to the scratches, though, until he started pulling on some of them and Old Maude would start fighting back. She had the heaviest and the most educated tail in the whole dairy industry. What made it so heavy was that the tassel of it always had about a half pound of mud and a pound of cockleburrs in it.

Naturally, with all that weight it wasn't much use in swishing flies, but it was great for clubbing milkers. Everytime she would swing it around she would catch Mr. Malone beside the head. When he would start cussing and ducking out of range, she would swish the tail to the other side and club the colored boy milking on the other side of her. They claimed she was the only cow in the world that could hit from either side.

But the high point of the afternoon, the crescendo of the cursing, would always occur when Old Maude, without fail, would commit an act of such spectacular indelicacy as to be indescribable. At the first hint of it, Mr. Malone would let out a roar, scramble to his feet, hold the bucket over his head out of range and really start cursing.

With farms all electrified now, the romance just seems to have gone out of milking.

Control of Home Garden Pest Secret To Large Production

You can't wage a successful war unless you understand your enemy. So when you start to battle garden pests, you'll need to know the nature of the pest and then fight it in the most effective way, says Hubert Davis, UK Extension vegetable specialist.

Insects, rots and blights damage many home gardens every year because the gardener doesn't know enough about his "enemies" or how to fight them. Such garden pests can be controlled by good spraying or dusting program, he emphasizes.

Some gardeners try spraying or dusting but "give up" because they have little or no success with control measures. Why do some people fail while others have good results? Davis says these things seem to cause the most trouble.

Many people do not know what insecticide or fungicide to use. Some do not understand how to apply the chemicals. Still others don't know when to start spraying or dusting. He suggests you consult your county Extension agent about these problems.

Remember, too, that one spraying or dusting is not enough. Often a gardener sprays of dusts to control a certain insect only to see many more of these insects a few days later; he thinks the chemical has failed. What probably happens is that these insects hatch after the spray or dust is applied. Many chemicals have little or no effect on egg masses and this is the main reason that spraying or dusting at regular intervals is recommended.

Davis gives these suggestions for successful garden pest control: Buy a good sprayer or duster or be sure the one you have is in good condition. Apply the dust or spray to both top and bottom sides of leaves. Start spraying or dusting at the first sign of pests and continue at 7-to10day intervals until harvest time. Destroy plants as soon as harvest is over. Before using any chemical, read with care the manufacturer's instructions printed on the package; then be sure to follow them closely.

Make containers moisture-vapor-proof by using freezer tape, heat sealing, or tight fastening with wire or rubber bands. Use specially designed freezer containers, wrap, foil, or cellophane. A paper plate turned over a pie before wrapping gives added protection. Freezer temperature should be at least 0 degrees.

Saturday, May 26 Is Declared As "Poppy Day" In Walton

On Saturday, May 26, all of us will be asked to wear a little red poppy on our coats or dresses. The day will be Poppy Day, when, once a year, we of America pay tribute, by wearing their memorial flower, the poppy, to those who gave their lives in America's service during World Wars. And as we receive our poppy from the women of the American Legion Auxiliary, who will distribute the flowers on the street that day, we will be aiding the war's living victims by the contribution we make for the flower.

The disabled veterans who make the poppies derive double benefit from the work. It gives them employment their only chance to help support themselves and families. With strength and health gone they cannot do regular work, but they can make poppies. Even in their hospital beds they can do this work, earning money from each flower they make. Second the work is real value in aiding their recovery, occupying hands and minds, breaking the tedium of long idleness, and restoring spirits crushed by hopelessness.

Friday afternoon, May 25, girls from this community will make a house to house canvas. We hope everyone will buy a poppy.

Property Evaluation Subject of Planning Meeting June 5th

When the Boone County Civic Club was founded the motto, "Better informed Citizens and Taxpayers" was adopted, and since that time all of its open meetings have been conducted along these lines. As a result of bringing out the 'pros' and 'cons' for discussion, much progress has been made towards Better Schools, Planning and Zoning, Water, Hospital for Boone County, and other subjects.

During the existence of the Club, many requests have come to them for a meeting on the subject of property re-evaluation, and now due to the wide scope of such a program, the Civic Club has asked for the assistance of more than 50 other organizations in the county. Each of these organizations have been asked to send a delegate and two alternates to a Planning Meeting on June 5th. It is not intended that decisions on the subject be reached at this meeting, but rather to determine whether or not a mass meeting on the subject should be held at a later date.

State Officials have also indicated their interest, and are sending representatives to participate in the deliberations. Within a few days the hour and place of the meeting will be announced, and all delegates and alternates will be promptly advised. It is hoped that all organizations who have not chosen their delegates, will do so within the next few days.

OAK RIDGE

Shirley Telford, Editor—356-2589

We were sorry to hear this morning of the death of Mrs. Kathryn Ware, who passed away Sunday afternoon at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Mrs. Ware was a resident of this community for many years, and was a charter member of the Oak Ridge Homemakers Club.

Mrs. Virginia Leistner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Moore, was married May 4th to Mr. Jack Shaff, at Ashland, Ky. Their attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Jack King, sister and brother-in-law of the bride. The bride is the receptionist in the office of Dr. James Rich. They are making their home on Mafred Drive.

Miss Sue Gillam and Mr. Earl Works of Latonia Lakes were married Saturday evening at the Oak Ridge Baptist Church, by the Rev. W. G. Webster. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Gerald Chapman, Matron of Honor, and her bridesmaid was Miss Sharon Works, sister of the groom. The best man was Mr. Wayne Works, brother of the groom.

Miss Emma Yates had an outdoor barbeque Sunday afternoon for Mrs.

Alma Yates, Jack Yates, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Heidel and son Ricky. The Taylor Mill and Community Volunteer Fire Dept. and the City of Taylor Mill Fire Dept. were called Saturday afternoon to a fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eaton on Taylor Mill Pike. The family was not at home at the time and the alarm was turned in by a passer-by. We do not know the extent of the damage, but there was a terrific amount of smoke.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bailey spent Sunday afternoon visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fenton.

Klette Road and Mills Road have recently received a new asphalt surfacing, and are in good condition. We wish the state would resurface Taylor Mill Pike, it was built in 1938 and has never had anything but patching since that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Westerfield and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Westerfield and children of New Point, Indiana visited Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Adkins on Sunday.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A surprise birthday party was given for Johnny Baumgartner on May 12th. Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cornelius and children of Morning View, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sasher, Mr. Ray Sasher of Walton, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Perry Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Don Perry and children of Shaw Road, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hogan of Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. John Collins and family of Banklick and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Auton of Senour Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McPherson who have resided on Senour Road for the past 10 year have moved to Erlanger. Mr. and Mrs. Roy McCormick and son of Senour Road has as over night guest his mother Mrs. Rosella McCormick and daughters Joyce and Mary Carroll. They all visited a sister at Columbus, Ohio the past weekend.

People in this community are rejoicing over the nice rain we had on Sunday evening.

The ball teams from here are giving a good account of themselves. Seems too there has been a fairly good attendance at games. Of course we all know that interest is a great spur to good performance.

A very pleasant day was enjoyed by members of the M.Y.F. on Saturday when they made a tour of points of interest in central Kentucky.

New tenants have moved into the old Sweeney house, which is now owned by Dawson Bagby.

Miss Nannie Ballinger is spending the summer months with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Maddox.

Joe Richardson has been a bit under the weather for a few weeks. Hope he improves soon.

A few of the folks from here attended the dinner given in honor of Mr. Orie S. Ware on his 80th birthday. We wish for him as many more. Mr. and Mrs. Steve Rapp and son visited in the neighborhood on Sunday.

We regret to report that Johnny Rich the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Rich is quite ill with rheumatic fever. We hope he will soon be back to his usual good health.

Miss Loretta Goedde is not improving as we would wish to see her do.

Ryland Homemakers

The Ryland Homemakers Club was saddened by the death of one of its charter members, Mrs. Anna Bagby, for whom Mrs. Harold Halfhill, president, conducted a memorial service at the recent meeting at the home of Mrs. C. J. Castleberry.

A meal planning pattern will enable the homemakers to include those foods needed by her family for good health, it was pointed out by the leaders, Mrs. William Schwall and Miss Ruth Schmidt during the lesson on "Meals in Minutes." Members enjoyed the delightful snack tray the leaders prepared.

Mrs. Everett Wilson presented the devotions on "How we can meet our fears." She commented that "From day to day I shall think no fearful thoughts, speak no fearful word, give way to no fearful act. I belong to faith."

"South Africa" was the topic of the citizenship chairman, Mrs. Anthony Wolf, who spoke on the finding of the Kimberly Diamond Mines and the Anglo-Boer War of 1899.

Mrs. J. H. Lawson, garden leader reminded the club that this is the most refreshing time of the year in Kentucky. Every home should have at least one bird bath to encourage birds to live around the home, locate it where it will be shaded in the afternoon. Hints on the care of the lawn were given.

Beautiful Easter centerpieces were designed by members as part of a talents program during the course of the year.

Twelve members and one guest, Mrs. Frank Meyers were welcomed by the co-hostess Mrs. J. H. Lawson. In May the club will meet at the home of Miss Ruth Schmidt when a white elephant sale will be held.

Tests of Faith

Lesson for May 27, 1962

HOW do we know when a person's faith is genuine? "We" means human beings,—such as other Christians. We don't know this as God knows it. He looks on the heart, as we cannot. God knows everyone's faith as he knows all things, directly. But there is a great deal that we human beings know only indirectly, such as the state of another person's mind and the sincerity of another's motives.

It is not, after all, other people's faith that most concerns us. What about our own? Do we really have faith or do we only think we have? Some people (like bishops, pastors, elders, parents) do have the great responsibility of deciding, in all humility, whether the alleged faith (for example) of candidates for membership in the church or candidates for baptism, is what it is claimed to be. (To judge from the present state of Christ's church, some errors of judgment at this point seem to have been made. Probably not enough testing has been done.)

"By their fruits ye shall know them," Jesus said. God does not need to wait till the fruit ripens to see what the tree will produce; but we do. Paul gives us (in Gal. 5) a list of "fruits of the spirit." The Apostle John had his own way of expressing things. He would take a simple word and make it hold many meanings. One overall test which he proposed really says the same things Paul and Jesus said, in other words. John's test was this: How does this person walk? He uses "walk" in the Old Testament sense, the one thing-after-another-ness, the every-dayness of living. Life can be likened to a race or to a fight; but most of the time it is just a walk. Not exciting, not dramatic, just a little tedious, monotonous and slow. Many a man waits in vain for a great crisis in which he can prove himself a hero. But most lives don't operate by crises, they are pretty dull, when you come right down to it. John makes the point that it is just this everyday walking that is the test of the reality of faith.

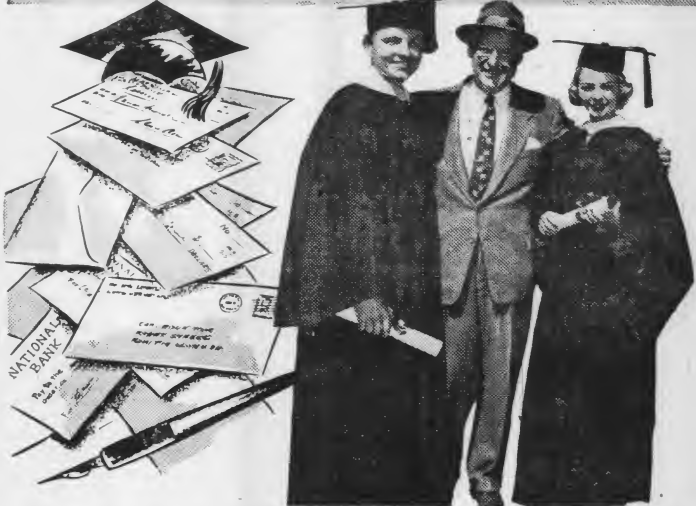

Walking in light

How do you walk, then? John speaks more than once of "walking in light." Cockroaches and jackals walk in darkness. Deer and humming-birds move by daylight. Walking in light means living with your shades up and your windows clean. It means living so that you will have no skeletons to hide in closets. It means a life "like an open book," clean paper and clear type. It means you could die on the street the next time you go to the super-market, and not worry about what people would find in the house after you are gone. Walking in light means being what you seem to be. Walking in light also means in God's light, keeping close to him, remembering him in love and a thankful heart. It means steering your boat by the great lighthouse and not by the little lights on the fishing-boats. It means living in joy and hope, not in gloom and despair.

The way He walked

John has another way of putting this. Any one who claims to be "abiding in Christ" is using language that was dear to Christ and to his friend and apostle John. But the test of faith is not the beautiful language that can be used about it. The claim is a good claim; but how do you test it? You can't see a person abiding in Christ. We have his word for it, yes, but how do we know he is sincere? John has the answer in words of one syllable: One who claims to be abiding in Him ought to walk in the same way in which He walked. This means nothing, of course, to one who knows nothing of how our Lord lived on earth. This calls for ever-fresh, ever-renewed, ever-renewing study of the Gospel records. There are those who say it makes little difference what manner of man Jesus was. John could not agree to that. It is of vital importance to know as much as we can of how Jesus met life, how he worked, taught, helped,—how he met trial and terrors, how he faced triumph and tragedy, friends, enemies and finally death. The simplest test faith is: Does it produce a reminding of Jesus?

DAD'S GRADUATION

It wasn't Dad who burned the midnight oil... or crammed for exams... or struggled with term papers... or won a letter in baseball... or a prize in home economics.

Dad just wrote the checks... and the encouraging letters... and boasted to the office force about his "kids" in school.

But this is really Dad's graduation. For he planned this day many years ago. And all these years he has struggled to give his boy and girl the kind of an education he never had.

Something else he has given them—something he did have; a sound Christian faith, manifested in loyal devotion to his Church's worship and work.

Better than a diploma is Dad's reward today; the reverent, joyous certainty that, not only in their education, but equally in their spiritual development, he has recognized the needs of his children... and has seen them through.

Are you planning your children's future—every Sunday?

By a residential or agricultural district, zone, neighborhood or section of the city of WALTON AND BOONE COUNTY is meant the land fronting on both sides of any public street or court where less than 25% of the frontage is now used or designed for business or industrial purposes within a distance of three hundred feet of the center of the place where any structure or lot for business or industrial purposes is proposed to be used, erected, located, constructed or altered. If the distance from the center of the location of such proposed structure or lot for business or industrial purposes on the same side of the street is less than three hundred feet to the next intersecting street, the center line of the nearest street of such intersecting streets shall be the limit of the residence zone or district in that particular direction and on both sides of the street.

An intersecting street, as used herein, shall mean any street or public highway or court thirty feet or more in width, which joins another at an angle, whether or not it crosses the other.

Buildings or vacant ground used or proposed to be used for farming, truck gardening, the growing of trees, shrubs, vines, or plants, or customary home occupations as determined by the Board of Zoning Adjustment, conducted by a family within its residence, and the conduct of a boarding or lodging house, not primarily for transient guests, shall not be affected by the terms of this ordinance. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to build or alter any building for business or industrial purposes shall first apply to the Planning Commission for an approval or said permit. It shall be the duty of any applicant to furnish the Planning Commission all information necessary to enable the Commission to determine the character of the zone in which such building is proposed to be used, erected, constructed or altered. The Planning Commission shall determine whether said building is to be used, erected, constructed or altered in a residential or agricultural zone district, neighborhood or section, and their findings and recommendations shall be reported to the City Council or Fiscal Court who shall authorize or deny said permit in conformance with the recommendation of the Planning Commission. The Planning Commission may authorize a non-residential use as a special exception in an existing non-residential structure if circumstances warrant such action. The City Council or Fiscal Court may overrule the recommendations of the Planning Commission only by a two-thirds majority of the Council or Fiscal Court membership.

Any person, firm or corporation to whom such permit has been refused or denied, who feels aggrieved by the ruling of the City Council or Fiscal Court may appeal to the Board of Zoning Adjustment, pursuant to Section 100.866 (2) (3) and following sections of the Kentucky Revised Statutes, and when relief is not granted, they may appeal to the circuit court in conformance with Section 100.970 of Kentucky Revised Statutes.

Any person, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than $50.00 nor more than $100.00. Each day said violation continues shall be considered a separate offense.

Any zoning ordinance in effect in the City of WALTON or any zoning resolution in effect in BOONE COUNTY, is hereby revoked and replaced by this ordinance.

An emergency is hereby declared in the City of WALTON AND BOONE COUNTY and this ordinance shall be declared in full force and effect upon its passage and publication as required by law.

Boone County D.A.R. Starts Beautifying Program at Schools

The Boone County Chapter D.A.R. recently planted four dogwood trees at Boone County High School and one at Walton-Verona High School.

In addition to helping beautify the school grounds, the trees were planted in honor of five graduates of the schools. The graduates were all members of the Boone Trails Society C.A.R. which is sponsored by the D.A.R. Chapter.

Although this was the first year for this project, it is the Chapters' hope and intention to continue it through the coming years.

Those graduates honored were: Virginia Nestor, Linda Blackburn Vickers, Bud Denham and Sherrie Denham all from Boone County and Elizabeth Grubbs Poore from Walton Verona.

"Music and Roses" Is Major Theme

"There was music and there were wonderful roses," is the theme of the forthcoming Boone County Garden Club Flower Show and Musical Program.

The event will be Saturday June 9, 1962 at Boone County High School, Price Pike, Florence, Ky.

The show is open for exhibiting to all persons in Boone County as well as members of the club. In fact, participation by persons, other than Garden Club members, is not only urged but solicited.

Entries may be registered between 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 the day of the show and are not to be removed before 10 p.m.

Judging will be between 2 and 4 p.m.

The show will be opened to the public from 6 to 10 p.m.

The musical will begin at 8 p.m. There will be a musical rendition apporpos to each of the seven classes in the Artistic design division, and at this time awards will be made to the winners in each class.

Following the musical, a reception will be held. Refreshments will be served.

All horticulture exhibits must have been grown by the exhibitor and must be labeled as to variety where possible.

For artistic classes, plant material need not be grown by the exhibitor.

Each exhibitor is permitted one entry in each class of a subdivision. In the event that only one entry is made in a class, an award will be given only if the entry merits an award.

Standard judging rules will be followed by accredited judges. The decision of the judges is final in every case.

The ribbon values are as follows: Blue—first, Red—second, Yellow—third, White—honorable mention.

A Rosette will be given to the sweepstake winner, that is, the person having the most blue ribbons in section A and section B.

A Rosette will also be awarded to the most outstanding arrangement in the Artistic division.

There will also be a Junior Division in both artistic and horticulture.

RECEIVES DEGREE

Fourteen Kentucky residents are among 505 students who received degrees at spring exercises of the University of Dayton's 112th commencement. From Walton, George R. Hoffman, Green Road, bachelor of civil engineering.

Spring Lambs Are Coming In Short Weight and Finish

Many Kentucky spring lambs are coming to market now underweight and lacking finish, says R. C. Miller U.K. Agricultural Extension Service sheep specialist.

This is "poor practice," Miller says, because "the market is paying top price for lambs in the 90-100 pound classification that carry good finish."

Miller said also that most of the spring lambs coming in are by Hampshire and Suffolk rams. Lambs of these types finish at heavier weights, 90 pounds or better.

"With plenty of pasture, there seems to be no need to rush lambs to market before they are ready. On pastures that are not especially good, it would pay to grain the lambs on the side rather than marketing them at light weight and unfinished condition," Miller pointed out.

"The abnormally hot weather has been conducive to development of stomach worms; the latter are already showing up ahead of time. This calls for good parasite control practices, including pasture rotation and dosing at least every three weeks. For at least the next two dosings, use the Cunic mixture; if this is not available, use the bluestone (copper sulfate) alone. A new drug will be fitted into the Kentucky all-season control program later in the season."

Resolution:

Resolution of Respect
Walton Chapter No. 161
Order of the Eastern Star
Walton, Ky.

In memory of our dear Brother Chester Bird, who departed this life April 10, 1962.

God in His infinite Wisdom saw fit to call our dear Brother to his celestial home on high, a house not made with hands, eternal in the Heavens.

His faithful wife, Mrs. Nellie Bird has lost a kind, loving and devoted husband. Also, he will be missed by his family, relatives, a host of friends and our Chapter.

In sympathy, our hearts are joined in acknowledgment of sacred ties now severed and of memories tenderly cherished.

Although he has gone to his reward his good will never be forgotten and his kind word will never die.

You cannot say, you must not say that he is dead! He is just away.

With a cherry smile and a wave of the hand he has wandered into an unknown land, and left us dreaming how very fair it needs must be, since he lingers there; so think of his faring on, as dear in the love of there, as the love of here.

Think of him still as the same and say he is not dead, he is just away.

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED:— That we extend to his family our most sincere and heartfelt sympathy.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of our Chapter, a copy be given to the Walton Advertiser for publication.

Respectfully submitted this 25th day of May, 1962.

Social Security Facts:

People who are past retirement age and still working may be losing social security benefits, according to Edward J. Bolte, field representative of the Covington, Kentucky Social Security Office.

Most people past retirement age think they cannot receive their social security benefits if they are earning over $1200 a year. Many of these people are losing benefits to claim them.

A person who earns $1200 or less during a year receives all of his benefits. If he earns $1700, for example only $250 of his total benefits for the year is withheld. If he earns $2400, $950 is withheld. The amount a person can earn and still get some benefits depends on the amount of his benefit.

There are situations in which a person can receive benefits for certain months, regardless of how high his earnings. Benefits are paid for any month he does not earn more than $100 in wages and does not perform substantial services in his business. Benefits are also paid beginning at age 72 regardless of earnings.

To avoid loss of benefits, inquire at your social security office when you reach retirement age, even if you have not retired.

A new book, "Kentucky Fishes," written for the Dept. of Fish and Wildlife Resources by Dr. Wm. Clay, U. of L., is now off the press and will be placed in all bookmobiles, school and public libraries. All species of fish found in Kentucky are described and pictures of many of them are presented.

Love is of God

Lesson for June 3, 1962

THE Apostle of Love, they call him; and John deserves the name. Not that love was spoken for by him alone. Paul speaks of love many a time, and indeed the most famous chapter on love is from Paul's writings, not John's.

Dr. Foreman
